GENERAL ORDERS.

ADJ'T AND INSP. GENL'S OFFICE,
RICHMOND, Dec. 8, 1862.

GENERAL ORDERS
NO. 100.

I. The following Act, and Regulations in reference thereto, are published for the information of all concerned:

An Act to repeal the law authorizing commutation for soldier's clothing, and to require clothing to be furnished by the Secretary of War, in kind:

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That so much of the existing law as provides commutation for clothing to the soldier's in the service of the Confederacy, be, and the same is hereby repealed; and, hereafter the Secretary of War shall provide in kind to the soldier's respectively, the uniform clothing prescribed by the regulations of the Army of the Confederate States, and should any balance of clothing be due to the soldier at the end of the year, the money value of such balance shall be paid to such soldier, according to the value of such clothing fixed, and announced by order of the War Department.

Approved Oct. 8, 1862.

II. In accordance with above act of Congress, no payment of commutation for clothing will be made for a period extending beyond October 8th, 1862. When payment of said allowance has been made prior to the promulgation of this Order, for a term which will not expire until after the date of this act, issues of clothing in kind will be made to commence at the end of such period. Where it has not been so paid, clothing will be furnished from the 8th October, 1862.

III. A soldier is allowed the uniform clothing stated in the following table, or articles thereof of equal value. When a balance is due him at the end of the year, he will be allowed the money value thereof as herein set forth; to be paid him upon the Muster and Pay Poll of his Company. When he shall have drawn clothing in excess of the amount allowed, it will be charged against him upon the Muster, and Pay Roll of his Company. If discharged before the expiration of the year, and he shall not have been furnished with clothing in kind, or paid commutation thereof for the period of service rendered since the 8th October, 1862, he will be entitled to receive the money value of the clothing allowed, in proportion to such period of service.

XIII Commanding officers may order necessary issues of clothing to prisoners and convicts taking deserters' or other damaged clothing, when there is such in store.

XIV In all cases of deficiency, or damage of any article of clothing, or camp, or garrison equipage, the officer accountable for the property is required by law to show, by one or more depositions, setting forth the circumstances of the case, that the deficiency was by unavoidable accident, or loss in actual service, without any fault on his part, and in case of damage that due care and attention were exerted on his part, and that the damage did not result from neglect.

PREFACE.

THE results of study form the foundation of all knowledge. It often becomes desirable that such results should be carefully noted, so that ready access may be had at all times to the sources of information. This is more especially necessary to the professional man, because many of the subjects which demand his investigation are but occasionally presented for his consideration, and however well he may have mastered them after laborious search, when first suggested, much will doubtless be forgotten before his opinion is again required upon a like matter. It often happens, too, that in the course of reading, a case occurs involving some important principle, not perhaps immediately needed, but frequently required in the course of practice, reference to which it may be desirable to retain. Indeed there are numerous occasions which must occur to every one, in which the student and practitioner can use a Common-Place Book and find its assistance of great value.

This form of retaining knowledge has been used and commended by the learned of all professions, and its utility can scarcely be overrated. In presenting this edition, the list of subjects has been carefully examined, and, it is believed, covers all of any importance. It can, of course, be added to, as each one using the volume may find most convenient for himself.
