Mr. Bell also speaks very highly of Mrs Audubon but I cannot tell you all in a letter. The Inman Portrait is a large oil Painting by Inman and is now in the Possession of Miss H. B. Audubon of Henderson Ky - this is about all she has beside a copy of the seal - not the original - I found two copies of "Ornithological Biography" but the Audubons have extras and I will probably get a copy from them - the Wilson alluded to is the 9th Vol which was sent to Bowen and never Returned. they tried to find it but failed - I did not know but by advertising it. It might be found - the whole set has been badly used but have Audubon Marginal notes on which makes it more desirable

I am trying to get some of Audubon books but I do not think they will sell them. the Biography is a new copy that could not be called one of his books. shall always be glad to hear from you expect you are very busy like myself - but -

Where there is a will I find there is a way