Redmont Park

—$1,510,000.00—

Showing type of white way posts to be erected in Redmont Park.

And sales within the past 30 days alone of $125,000. These figures are significant. They bring a message fraught with meaning to the man who plans to build and wants a home where future values will be greater than present values. They disclose the amazing extent of the new migratory movement of fine homes over the mountain. One by one residences in the close-in parts of Birmingham are being quietly placed on the market. The owners are moving out to the new Country Club district which has become the center of the city's social life.

In choosing the location of your home, take heed of this trend in fine home development in Birmingham today. Put your home where your friends are building theirs.

Call Jemison & Company at Main 5280 or see our representative who will be on the grounds daily from 3 to 5 p. m.

Reserve your Redmont Park homesite while we can still feature special prices in the new Country Club sector.
