REGISTER & ADVERTISER.

FRIDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 1, 1865.

[From the Evening News of yesterday.]

☞ Richmond is said to be coming up out of the ashes very rapidly.

QUICK TRIP.—Our excellent friend Mr. S. H. Stephens, agent of the Adams Express Company, laid upon our table this morning Memphis dates of the 28th. Thanks.

☞ Mrs. Maria Thornton, widow of Dr. Thornton, the original architect of the capitol at Washington, and the first Commissioner of Patents, died lately in that city at the age of one hundred years.

MURDER OF JUDGE WRIGHT.—We published yesterday an account of the murder of Judge Lewis P. Wright and four of his sons. We were under the impression at the time that it was Judge Wright of Memphis, late of the Supreme Bench of Tennessee; but we were mistaken. It was Judge Wright, of Phelps county, Missouri.

EXPLOSION ON THE REINDEER.—It will be seen from the telegraph despatches this evening, that the steamer Reindeer, plying between this city and New Orleans, exploded one of her boilers at the head of the Regolets last evening, killing three persons, and badly scalding twenty-five others, including Capt. Buckley and the clerk.

☞ The Republican State Convention in Pennsylvania resolved that all properties in the Southern States exceeding $10,000 ought to be confiscated, and the proceeds used to pay the pensions of Union soldiers crippled in the late war. The New York World styles this "a gigantic scheme of private plunder," and denounces it in very severe terms.

MORE MONEY TO BE SUNK IN THE ATLANTIC.—At an extraordinary meeting of the Atlantic Cable Company held in London on the 9th, it was resolved to convert the preference shares into consolidated eight per cent. preferential stock, and to issue additional capital to the extent of £80,000, to complete the present cable, and construct and lay down a second. The chairman, Hon. J. S. Wortley, said he had no information to give the meeting, but hoped for reliable information in a day or two. He said the shareholders should be encouraged and persevere. The meeting was large and unanimous.

☞ It is said that the Virginia State Library, which was gotten up with great care and at an enormous expense, has been robbed of its most valuable works. A series of books of the most valuable character, bought in Europe by an agent of the State sent for that purpose, have disappeared, as well as many other important standard works which cannot now be supplied. Some valuable manuscript copies of old records of the State, found among the archives of the English Government at London, were also purloined. The beautiful library is a perfect wreck, beyond the possibility of reparation.

☞ Previous to March 4, 1841, says the St. Louis Republican, there had been but eight Presidents of the United States during a period of fifty-two years, viz: Washington, 8 years; J. Adams, 4 years; Jefferson, 8 years; Madison, 8 years; Monroe, 8 years; J. Q. Adams, 4 years; Jackson, 8 years; and Van Buren, 4 years; none of whom died in office. In remarkable contrast with this, March 4, 1841, a period of but twenty-four years, there have been nine Presidents, two of whom died during the first term and one in the second, viz: Harrison, 1 month; Tyler, 3 years and 11 months; Polk, 4 years; Taylor, 1 year and 4 months; Fillmore, 2 years and 8 months; Pierce, 4 years; Buchanan, 4 years; Lincoln, 4 years and 1 month, and Johnson, the present incumbent.

IT NEVER RAINS BUT IT POURS.—The number and magnitude of the financial rascalities occurring just now in New York are astounding. The Phœnix Bank defalcation, the Ketchum forgeries, the Mumford frauds have all been the wonder of an hour, and now upon their heels comes a fourth "big thing," which is heralded by the New York News with the following flourish of trumpets: "Robbery Rampant—Another Little Defalcation—Raid on the Railroad Freights—Albert J. Jones the Collector—He Elopes to New Orleans—His Accounts Examined—No Telling How Much he Stole—Three Thousand Dollars Taken in One Day—The History of Jones." Mr. Albert J. Jones, it seems, was freight collector for the Erie Railroad Company and in the ordinary way of business there came into his hands from $30,000, to $80,000 a day, which it was his business to take care of and hand over to the cashier of the company. But Mr. Jones didn't hand it all over. His regular salary was $1,000 a year; but by a very simple process he made it immensely more. A short time ago, Mr. Jones, "accompanied by a female," left New York for the Crescent City, and pretty soon his little peculations began to crop out. The News says he may have taken twenty-five thousand dollars of the company's money or he may have taken half a million. All of his transactions have not yet been investigated.

The News says of Mr. Jones' habits of life:

"Jones had two ways of living under his one experiment. He had an humble apartment in one quarter and a suite of splendid apartments on Broadway. At this latter place of residence he entertained his female friends, and there entertained his company, male and female, with munificent hospitality. His little room, not on Broadway, was his thousand dollar salary domicil. His suite of gorgeous rooms was his Erie Railroad seraglio. He lived there at an expense not less than ten thousand dollars a year, and his operations outside made him appear a man of princely fortune."

LETTER FROM NEW ORLEANS.

[From our Special Correspondent.]

NEW ORLEANS, August 28, 1865.

For three or four days we have had very cold weather, quite like the later October days, and thick clothes have not been uncomfortable. Such sudden changes from heat to cold produce some effect upon the public health, and we have some slight increase of disease. There is nothing however of an unusual type—merely such ills as are produced by imprudences and exposure in their clothing. A very large proportion of adult deaths are among laborers upon the levees, who get heated by working in the hot sun, and then suddenly cool off with ice-water and poisonous liquors. A large number of Irish laborers fall victims yearly to this cause.

The commercial world still continues very dull, and very little business is being done in any part of the city. This sudden prostration is due almost entirely to the fact that cotton meets with so many difficulties in getting into market, and country planters and merchants having no ready money are unable to buy the goods they desire. When the new crop comes in, or the present restrictions upon cotton are removed, it will spring up again. Besides the present stock of goods is getting low, merchants not having returned from their purchasing tours at the North. I believe another month will see business as brisk as it was a month ago, but just now trade is comparatively at a stand-still.

I committed an error in speaking of the removal of Recorder Vennard. He was displaced by order of General Canby, his appointment being a military one, emanating from General Shepley. There is also a rumor that Recorder Gastinel has been removed and that Judge Augustin has been appointed in his place.

A daring outrage is reported by the police.—The house of Mrs. Campbell, on Prytania street, was entered Sunday evening by a negro man, who put a pistol at the head of the lady and demanded her money. She handed him her pocketbook, containing one hundred and twenty-five dollars, and he immediately decamped. Mrs. C. gave the alarm, and the black rascal was soon caught by the police. The lady showed great presence of mind. Bill Grout, the robber, entered her room from the balcony window, coming from the balcony of an adjoining house.—She was aroused by hearing him fumbling about her clothing, but remained quiet until he shook her violently by the arm, and ordered her to get up and give him her pocketbook. He then, threatening to kill her if she gave the alarm, ordered her back to bed.

The telegraphic reports from Washington inform us that A. H. Stephens has been released. Previous accounts had represented Mr. Stephens in very bad health, and apparently failing rapidly. The cell in which he was confined was damp and unhealthy, and, unless he had been soon removed from it, he must have suffered from its effects. The friends of this distinguished statesman will be happy to hear this report confirmed.

The steamship Evening Star arrived last night from New York, bringing a number of passengers and a large cargo of assorted merchandise. She brings also $600,000 in specie.

A city paper learns upon authority which it deems reliable, that President Johnson heartily approves the course taken by the old Board of Directors of the Jackson railroad, and has authorized them to continue possession thereof, doing the best they can under the difficult circumstances. If this be true the military authorities will probably stop further proceedings in the case, and give the road up to its former Directors. This is in direct conflict with the report of Mayor Kennedy, who says distinctly that he acted according to the instructions of the President. On the one hand we have the positive statement of the Mayor; on the other, a rumor deemed reliable. I believe public sentiment is strongly in favor of the old board. Mr. Shuckelford, the President of the old board, will be in town to-morrow, and he has given notice that a meeting will be held on Wednesday.

A man named McWord was yesterday arrested for cutting Mrs. Brynes with a dangerous weapon with intent to kill.

Adams' Express office has removed from Magazine street to No. 21 Carondelet street, corner of Common.

In addition to the specie brought by the "Evening Star," some $200,000 has been brought to the city by other means. The market is very quiet this morning, and dealers do not appear to have any regular quotations. There have been sales at 144, and as high as 145.

There have been no sales of consequence in cotton, factors generally desiring to hold on in hopes of a rise growing out of a temporary scarcity.

EVELYN.

A HANDSOME PER DIEM.—Henry Singer, book-keeper for a wholesale grocery firm on Washington street, New York, was recently arrested on a charge of embezzling the funds of the firm, and confessed to one of the officers that he had been in the habit of appropriating from $25 to $60 per day for over a year. The sum total of his rascalities amounts to from $10,000 to $12,000.

☞ There was a rumor abroad in New Orleans the other day that the greater part of Shreveport, with two cotton presses and the cotton near them, had been destroyed by fire. But the sensational was knocked out of the story by a gentleman who came down in the last boat, who declared the whole thing a hoax.

☞ Maj. G. St. Ledger Grenfel, an Englishman, formerly Inspector of Cavalry under Gen. Wheeler, was tried and sentenced to death at Cincinnati not long since, for aiding prisoners of war to escape from Camp Douglas. It is now understood that the President has commuted the sentence to imprisonment for life at the Dry Tortugas.

☞ The Washington special of the New York News asserts positively that Mr. Stanton will be removed from the Cabinet in a few weeks.

☞ It is said that Abd-el-Kader was not pleased with the treatment he received in high quarters in England, and returned to Paris in disgust.

☞ By the late fire in Quebec it is said seventy-nine houses were destroyed and a hundred families rendered homeless. The houses were small and scantily furnished.

☞ A "rebel" weighing 325 pounds was recently arrested for treason. If he threw his whole weight into the cause of the Confederacy, it is no wonder it sunk.

☞ It is stated on good authority that the Rev. Patrick Feehan, pastor of the church of the Immaculate Conception, of St. Louis, has received the appointment of the vacant see of Nashville.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Terrible Accident to the Steamer Reindeer.

EXPLOSION OF A BOILER.

THREE PERSONS KILLED.

The Captain and Clerk and 23 Others Badly Scalded.

NEW ORLEANS, August 30.—The steamer Reindeer, of the Mobile line, exploded a boiler at the head of Regolets Pass this evening.

The Captain and Clerk, and twenty-three other persons, were badly scalded, and three were killed.

What is left of the boat will be towed to New Orleans.

☞ The Brownsville, Texas, correspondent of the New York Herald says "Gen. Sterling Price has been made a Major General of Maximilian's troops, and has been empowered to raise a cavalry force of thirty thousand from the disbanded rebel armies. It is intended to have a hundred thousand rebels within a year, to watch the Rio Grande. Everything quiet on the American side. American officers there say the universal belief is, that they will be immediately ordered to march into Mexico.

☞ The Jackson News says "the Hon. Martin F. Conway, formerly a member of Congress from Kansas, has taken up his residence a short distance from the birth place of Henry Clay, at Ashland, Ky."

We presume the News simply means that Ashland was Mr. Clay's birth-place when he was "born again."

☞ Gen. Joseph G. Swift, the first cadet appointed to the Military Academy at West Point, died lately in New York, at the age of eighty-five years—and sixty-three years after he entered West Point, which was in 1802.

☞ A couple of sharpers in Chicago recently came the confidence game over an Illinois farmer, diddling him out of $1,900 in greenbacks.

☞ The Governor of Kentucky has appointed Mason P. Brown State Treasurer, vice Garrard, deceased.

☞ It is expected that the Mississippi Central Railroad will be completed by the 1st of October.

LETTER FROM JOS. E. JOHNSTON.

The Fredericksburg (Va.) Ledger publishes the following letter of General Joseph E. Johnston:

BUFFALO SPRINGS,
Mecklenburg county, Virginia,
August 17th, 1865.

You ask my views of the future course and future interests of the United States. All the case is so very plain that very little can be said or written upon it. We of the South referred the question at issue between us and the United States to the arbitrament of the sword. The decision has been made, and is against us. We acquiesce in that decision, accept it as final, and recognize the fact that Virginia is again one of the United States. Our duties and interests considered, we shall consult the one and perform the other, by doing all we can to promote the welfare of our neighbors and restore prosperity to the country. We should at once commence the duties of peaceful citizens, by entering upon some useful pursuit, qualifying ourselves to vote, if possible, and at the polls our vote should be cast for Conservative men—men who understand and will maintain the interests of Virginia. As one of the United States, this is the course which I have recommended to all those with whom I have conversed on the subject, and that which I have adopted for myself, as far as practicable.

Very truly yours,
J. E. JOHNSTON.

☞ There is at Raleigh, North Carolina, a person assuming to be a reporter for the Associated Press, who is devoting his malignant energies to exciting in the minds of the readers of some northern journals, a sentiment of hostility against the subdued people of the South. This person is notoriously a falsifier; he has already been pronounced such by Provisional Governor Holden. Yet he persists in sending his canards to the press for dissemination. He has never yet furnished one item of news for publication, his dispatches being made up of attacks on the citizens of North Carolina. We believe that this person was stationed at Newbern during the war. His statements then were simply amusing; now, however, they are despicable. It is a disgrace to the press of the country that this man should longer be permitted to foist his falsehoods upon the public under the guise of Associated Press reporter.—[N. Y. Herald.

☞ We have received another batch of the ready-made opinions of the person who assumes to be the Raleigh correspondent of the Associated Press. The "correspondence" of this precious scion of the original Mendez Pinto stock contains the usual amount of gall and bitterness toward the people of the Old North State, and the customary quantity of fulsome laudation of certain unimportant persons, suggested, of course, and paid for by the latter. We submit that, after having been branded as a wilful falsifier by the Governor of the State, it is about time that the North Carolina romancer was "suppressed." We cannot conceive why he should be permitted longer to smuggle his falsifications to the North under the guise of "news."—[N. Y. World.

THE POWER OF CHLOROFORM TAKEN INTERNALLY.—Yesterday a man named Anthony Duffy, aged thirty-five, a laborer in Washington square, was, on returning from his work, seized in Fourth street with hemorrhage from the lungs. Seating himself on the steps of a dwelling, he soon became insensible, and rolled upon the pavement weltering in blood. While blood was still streaming from his mouth and nose, and he appeared gasping for breath in the agony of death from suffocation, a physician appeared and poured the contents of a vial of chloroform, probably two teaspoonsful, into his mouth, and from that moment the hemorrhage ceased. Twice afterward the remedy was repeated in smaller doses, and the man was relieved, rescued as by a miracle from impending death.
It is now claimed for this remedy that it relieves the chill of fever, sunstrokes, convulsions, and all kindred affections supposed to be dependent upon congestion. But it must, in all such cases, be given by the mouth and not by inhalation.—[New York News.

THE FARMERS' BAROMETER.—Take a common glass pickle bottle, wide-mouthed; fill it within three inches of the top with water; then take a common Florence oil flask, removing the straw covering, and cleansing the flask thoroughly; plunge the neck of the flask as far as it will go, and the barometer is complete. In fine weather the water will rise into the neck of the flask even higher than the mouth of the pickle bottle, and in wet and windy weather it will fall to within an inch of the mouth of the flask. Before a heavy gale of wind, the water has been seen to leave the flask altogether, at least eight hours before the gale came to its height. The invention was made by a German, and communicated to a London journal.

☞ An amusing incident occurred at the theater in Albany, while General Grant and suite and a crowded audience were attending the play of the "Colleen Bawn." In the act where Mr. Lamb swings out over the water by a rope suspended aloft, the actor made several fruitless efforts to reach the rock he aimed at, and in the last and successful attempt, cried out, "I'll stick to this line, if it takes me all summer!"—which brought down the house with vociferous applause.

THE SINKING OF THE PEWABIC.

Thrilling and Graphic Account by a Passenger.

A correspondent of the Hamilton, C. W., Times, who was a passenger on the Pewabic, furnishes that paper with the following interesting account:

On the morning of Wednesday last the steamer Pewabic left the Sault and went down the Saint Mary's river, bound for Detroit. The passengers were all enjoying themselves, and admiring the beautiful scenery, not at all apprehensive of danger. About noon we entered Lake Huron, and as a stiff breeze was blowing from the southeast, we felt it a little rough, and all remained inside, the majority taking to their berths. It became somewhat calmer towards evening, and after tea the officers, as was their custom, began to make preparations for dancing.

While this was going on—some were playing cards, some conversing and some reading—some one came in just then and told us that the Meteor was approaching. Wishing to see her, I, in company with many others, went out in front. When we got there we at once saw there would be a collision. Both vessels were steering straight for each other, and if they had continued on the same course each would have struck stem on, and both vessels would have probably been entirely lost in consequence. When I first saw the Meteor she was about one hundred yards off, and seemed to me to be steering wild. This I afterwards found to be a false impression, as there was nothing at all wrong with her steering gear. Just after I came out on deck the Meteor whistled, but the Pewable did not return the signal, but changed her course, turning her helm hard-a-starboard. I don't think the Meteor changed her course at all. I noticed what I have just now stated in a moment of time, and happening to be standing with many others where the Meteor would strike, ran round to the other side of the boat, and immediately heard a dull, dead crash, which did not shake the boat very much.

Running at once to my state-room, I picked up a life-preserver and went forward again to ascertain the damage, being doubtful, like most of the other passengers, which boat was injured the most. When I reached the front I found that there was a large hole in the port bow, some twelve or fifteen feet in width, down to the water's edge, about eight yards from the head of the vessel, and just under the pilot-house. The Meteor's sharp bows had gone half way through the vessel, till they came to an arch of timber, which the Pewable had in her centre for the purpose of strengthening her. Most other vessels have two of these outside, and coming up above the upper deck. After noticing this in less time than it takes to tell it, I resolved to try to jump on the Meteor, which had backed out immediately after striking; indeed, the engine was reversed about ten seconds before the collision, and kept her more along side of us till we went down. To do this, I thought it necessary to go to the stern of the boat, never thinking for a moment of the hurricane deck, from which the majority of those who were saved jumped into the Meteor.

When I reached the stern and went out of the cabin, the vessel was already sinking bows first. I attempted to reach the railing so as to jump out, but the inclination of the deck was too much for me, and in a moment of time I was in the water. The crashing of timber, the whistling of the air, and the rush of the water, produced an awful combination of terrible sounds. The last thing I noticed before going down was a woman and two children rushing into the cabin. They were lost. I was sucked down a considerable distance in the wake of the boat, perhaps some fifteen or twenty feet; it seemed an immense distance to me at the time, and then began to ascend and to feel pieces of timber above me all around. I now began to fear that I should come under a piece of the deck, and find it difficult to come to the surface, but owing, I suppose, to my having a life-preserver in my hand, I came up more rapidly than the wreck, and found myself on the top of the water with a large piece of the hurricane deck under me, not a rod from the Meteor. There was another man on the same piece of the wreck, but quite close to the Meteor. He seized a rope that was hanging down and climbed up, while a sailor threw me a rope which I made fast around my body and was hauled up, very thankful for my escape.

Previously I had not time to realize the horror of the scene. But now when I looked out on the mass of broken timbers which marked the spot where the Pewabic had been but a minute before, and heard the dreadful shrieks and groans, and the piteous cries for aid of those who had come up among the wreck, my heart sank within me. The ill-fated steamer had gone down in something like three minutes after the accident, and doubtless many had been carried down to a watery grave before they knew what was the matter. Very probably the majority of those who were in the cabin when she sank were killed and not drowned, for she went down so rapidly that the cabin could not have filled, but must have been crushed in by the pressure of the water on the sides and roof, a view which the appearance of the wreck the next morning fully confirmed.

The boats of the Meteor were immediately launched and picked up all they could find floating on the wreck. In about an hour after the accident a fog came up, and the boats returned to the Meteor for fear of being lost. No one was saved after this, but probably there was no one afloat to be saved. Two or three schooners passed by at the time, and it is just barely possible that they saved a few of those now numbered among the lost. The officers of the Pewable all saved themselves by jumping on board the Meteor, but did all they could after the unfortunate occurrence. Mr. Cleveland the first mate, had nearly succeeded in cutting loose the life boat when he was obliged to look out for himself. Mr. Mock, the clerk of the Pewable, got the first boat out from the Meteor and with Mr. Cleveland was particularly active in saving life.

The collision took place about half-past eight in the evening, at a distance of fifteen or twenty miles from land and about six miles south of the line of Thunder Bay light house, in Michigan, nearly two hundred miles from Detroit. The night was a little cloudy, but not dark, and the vessels had been seen by each other at a distance of six miles. The accident can have been caused by nothing but the grossest carelessness on the part of at least one and probably both boats. The Pewable took fire at the place where she was struck. She was heavily loaded with copper in barrels, mass copper and iron ore. It is probable that when she commenced to fill at the bows, the barre

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Anonymous communications will not be noticed. All contributions for publication must, to insure attention, be accompanied by the name and address of the writer—and only one side of the page must be written upon.

Rejected communications cannot be preserved for return to the authors.

Volunteer correspondence is invited from any part of the world and, if used, will be liberally paid for.

Gentlemen of the army and navy are respectfully invited to communicate to this journal, any well authenticated intelligence from abroad of a general interest, which may come to their notice.

☞ Mr. Charles Gardner is our duly authorized agent, and is empowered to receive advertising and subscriptions for the Advertiser and Register in the city of New Orleans.

THE ADVERTISER AND REGISTER AND EVENING NEWS IN NEW ORLEANS.—William Evelyn, office No. 39 Exchange alley, New Orleans, is the regular agent for the Daily Advertiser and Register and Evening News, and copies of the paper of latest dates can always be had at his office.

Particular Notice.

In order to close up the Commercial Year, we will publish our Price Current on Saturday morning. This will not be an annual statement owing to the short business season since the war, but will close up all the tables as far as practicable, so as to resume our regular Price Current on Saturday the 9th of September. Merchants and others will please hand in their orders as early FRIDAY MORNING as possible.

☞ The Double-Sheet Weekly ADVERTISER AND REGISTER, containing a full review of the news of the week, the Weekly Prices Current, the latest intelligence by telegraph and mail, interesting literary matter, miscellaneous and humorous extracts, poetry, etc., will be published and ready for delivery on Saturday evening. Single copies, put up in strong wrappers ready for mailing, can be had on application at the counter of our business office.

Price, twenty cents.

TO ADVERTISERS.

The ADVERTISER AND REGISTER next Sunday morning will be printed on a double sheet and will contain interesting and valuable reading matter. Advertisements intended for this issue should be sent in as early as practicable on Saturday. Advertisers will consult their own interests by complying with this request, as it is difficult to make their favors conspicuous, much less to give them editorial notice if received later than 6 o'clock P. M. Single copies of the Sunday paper, ready wrapped for mailing, can be had on application at the counter—price 10 cents.

☞ North Alabama is destined to endure another year of scarcity and consequent high prices of breadstuffs, meats, and eatables generally. There was but a limited extent of land in cultivation, that was badly worked, and the extended drouth has cut short the crops planted very materially. So far as we can learn the drouth pervades all North Alabama. As some remedy for the apprehended deficiency in food, we suggest that the farmers sow largely of turnips, and also of wheat, both of which will help very materially.—[Huntsville Advocate.

FROM THE PLAINS.—Joseph Kenyon, Esq., Superintendent of the Kenyon Mining Company, located in the vicinity of Black Hawk, Colorado, arrived from the mountains yesterday, and left by the eastern train for New York. He reported having met over 2,000 trains heavily loaded with freight, between Cottonwood Station and Fort Kearney. All along on this side hundreds of teams were seen plodding onward, apparently without fear of harm or molestation from the Indians. General Connor has about 6,000 well mounted cavalry, and with this army has moved up the North Platte in pursuit of the enemy. There is little prospect, however, that he will overtake them.—[St. Joe Herald.

☞ The World of the 21st says: The bears are trying to engineer a panic by attempting to institute a parallel between these times and those of 1857. The panic of 1857 was brought about by the banks losing legal money, at that time specie, by a foreign drain. Under the greenback system there can be no foreign drain of lawful money from the banks; and if the banks, then, cannot be made to suffer from a foreign drain for money, how is it possible to produce a panic like that of 1857? How can money be made scarce when the national banks are adding about three to four millions weekly to the sum of over one thousand millions of practical legal tender money already in existence? The natural tendency of the market is unquestionably upward, accompanied, however, with those frequent and violent fluctuations which are natural to an irredeemable paper system.

A LUCKY BABY.—Mrs. Senator Kate Chase Sprague is following the example of more common people. She has a baby—a boy about five weeks old. Mrs. Sprague's mother-in-law presented her with $500,000 for having a boy, and settled $100,000 on the fortunate little stranger. Quite an inducement for a lady to have a baby. It dosen't often pay so well.

ALTERING THE TEXT.—An anecdote is told of the Bishop of Exeter, England. The scene is a church in Troquay; the Bishop is present but not officiating, and he sits with the congregation. The officiating clergyman ventures to soften to ears polite the phrase, "eat and drink their own damnation." He reads it "condemnation." A voice is heard energetically exclaiming, "damnation!" The whole church is startled. But it is not a profane epithet they hear; it is the voice of the Bishop in rebuke of the officiating minister.

☞ A Detroit officer who was taking a female prisoner from Saginaw in the cars, left her for a few minutes to go into another car, when the conductor came along, and the woman refusing to pay her fare, he put her off the train. The officer was not a little chop-fallen on learning how he had lost his prisoner.

☞ The New York Times has good authority for the statement that Mr. Robert Lincoln, son of the late President, is shortly to be married to a daughter of Secretary Harlan.

☞ Beriah Brown, formerly a prominent Wisconsin politician and editor, and recently connected with the California press, has gone to Mexico to open a printing office.

☞ Connecticut did not owe a dollar at the outbreak of the war. It now requires $600,000 to pay the annual interest on her bonds.

☞ In recently repairing the Presbyterian church at Plattsburg, N. Y., a grapeshot was found imbedded in one of the timbers, lodged there, evidently, during the battle of Plattsburg.

DIARY FOR A HOT WEEK.

[By "Our Own Sluggard"—who is determined, at last, to do something]

Sunday—Day of rest; of course nothing can be done.

Monday—Being early in the week, don't be too precipitate in doing anything.

Tuesday—Determined not to let the week go by without achieving something brilliant.

Wednesday—Resolve on vigorous measures for to-morrow.

Thursday—Mature yesterday's deliberations.

Friday—Rather too late in the week to do anything.

Saturday—Give yourself up to society, and consult friends (who know best) what is to be done next week.

GOV. PERRY OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

The reader will find the speech of this gentleman, giving an account to his constituents of what he saw and heard in Washington, very interesting at this juncture. His report of the temper of the President and his Cabinet is highly gratifying, and shows that the spirit of an enlarged statesmanship rules at the council boards of the Government, however party vengeance and fanaticism may howl in the conventions of Radicalism. It is useful to make this fact known, for it will encourage the efforts of good men everywhere, to support the statesmanlike policy of the Administration against the destructive purposes of the Radicals. It is proper, too, that the people of the South should be made acquainted with the designs of this hostile party. To that end we copy from the New York World an article on an amiable resolve passed by one of their conventions in Pennsylvania.

☞ Prentice of the Louisville Journal says Mr. John Forsyth, of the Mobile Register, doesn't seem to take the falling out of the bottom of the Southern Confederacy much to heart. He thinks Forsyth makes a funnier paper than he ever did before.—[Jackson Mississippian.

We certainly must be "making a paper" to please PRENTICE, for he passes for one of the established wits of the Press, and is an unquestionable judge of what is "funny." The difference between us is that PRENTICE is professionally a funny editor, noted for his bon mots and squibs and cranks of smart speech, while we have been "funny" in so grave a manner that nobody but the venerable PRENTICE has found it out. But PRENTICE is one of those persons that is so keenly susceptible of the ridiculous that he would find out something humorous in a funeral. Mr. PRENTICE is not a man serious and earnest enough to be able to measure how much or how little we "took to heart" the falling out of the bottom of the Southern Confederacy. He can never know or understand that. Nor is it needful that anybody should now. These are things of the past, and our business is to deal gravely and practically with the present and the future. If the Louisville Journal is amused at our method of doing this we may congratulate ourselves on having momentarily made one fellow creature happy without knowing it. As for the rest, we see nothing in the situation of this great country, North or South, East or West, that is provocative of mirth or humor. The nation is going through a most serious political transition and trembles in the balance between a restoration of the American principles of free government, and the loss of personal and public liberty. And when we say "the Nation" we mean not the South, but the whole Nation, for we repeat that one-third of these United States cannot be enslaved and the rest remain free. An "irrepressible conflict" will forbid it.

We cannot forbear to remind our Louisville cotemporary, that if we are managing matters in a "funny way" down here in Alabama, where a decided stand was taken in the late struggle, Kentucky neutrality has left things in a far "more funny!" condition in that State. We have managed matters better in Alabama than he has in Kentucky, and this day, no wise man would exchange the political and social status of Alabama for that of Kentucky. Mr. PRENTICE ought to be able to find plenty of solemn provocation to his ghastly wit at home, without peeping over his neighbors' fences.

☞ Mr. F. T. Cooper, for a long time the editor-in-chief of the Jackson Mississippian, has retired from the position, having sold his interest in the paper to his partner, Mr. A. N. Kimball.

☞ A few days ago several negro boys slipped into the jewelry store of Mr. Geo. Macpherson, of Natchez, and stole one gold and three silver watches. Four of the boys were arrested, and three of the watches recovered.

☞ The Nashville Dispatch says that its late publication, asserting the arrest of Gen. Roddey, was erroneous—the person arrested proving to be Reuben Roddey, a guerrilla Captain of East Tennessee. General Roddy, it adds, "was a regular Confederate officer, an honorable gentleman, and is now engaged in mercantile business at Mobile."

LETTER FROM NEW ORLEANS.

(Special Correspondence Advertiser and Register.)

NEW ORLEANS, August 29, 1865.

A rumor gained extensive circulation yesterday evening, to the effect that the greater portion of the city of Shreveport had been destroyed by fire, including two cotton presses, and all that was in them or about them. The report further said that a large portion of the business houses by the levee were entirely destroyed. How the report came I have not learned, but sincerely hope it may be untrue. It would be a serious loss to this city as well as to Shreveport.

The work of the negro agitators is beginning to be apparent. The negroes are becoming bold and begin to show their determination to assert the rights they have had given them. Since the application to Gen. Canby for an order permitting negroes to ride in all the city cars, it is said they have determined to make the attempt and take the chances. Yesterday two attempts were made by negroes to ride in cars appropriated especially for whites. One of them was a great outrage. About 3 o'clock yesterday evening, four negro soldiers stopped one of these cars upon the Rampart street road, and demanded admittance. The car was full of passengers, the large proportion of them being ladies, and the negroes drawing their revolvers ordered the passengers to come out of the car. Fortunately a Major of the United States army was among the passengers, and he immediately had the soldiers arrested and taken to the guard house on Carondelet street, where they now are. Another. Later in the evening a negro stopped the Magazine street car and demanded admittance. The driver refused him, and pointed to a star car following one minute behind. The negro said he "did not care a d—— whether it was a star car or not, he was going to ride," and then pushed into the car. The driver put him out promptly and applied the whip vigorously to his shoulders. This morning, as I write, the driver is undergoing trial before the Freedmen's Bureau.

By the evening papers I learn that the painful rumor about the fire at Shreveport is a fact, and that the flourishing city has been visited by a terrible conflagration. The fire began in a cotton press near the hotel, which was stored with cotton, and the flames soon spread in all directions. The fire ran quickly in the direction of the woods and the river, and was stopped only by combustible material giving out. The courthouse square stopped the progress of the flames, or the whole city might have been destroyed. The portion of the city destroyed was the newest and most substantial part of the city. All the large business houses by the river were destroyed.

Sometime ago when the market stalls were let to the highest bidder, a butcher took two stalls, one for his own use and the other merely to prevent competition. The stall being found vacant the Mayor instituted inquiries, and found out the state of the case. A regulation was then made that any stall that remained vacant for three successive days shall return to the city. This is a move in the right direction.

I see by the last papers that Col. Giles M. Hilyer has again assumed the editorship of the Natchez Courier. This will be good news to many of his old friends.

Yesterday evening a correspondent of the Chicago Tribune entered one of our city offices, and was introduced to the editors. While speaking of various matters, an associate editor came in and joined in the conversation. Speaking of the persistent vilification of the South by Northern correspondents, the Tribune correspondent said, "it must be a mistake; no one could write such falsehoods." "Look here," said the new-comer, holding up the Chicago Tribune, "here is proof of what I say." The writer of the letter read his own statements and said, "yes, every one of these are false. The writer was mistaken." One who was in the secret made vigorous efforts to attract the attention of the new-comer, but failed in doing so, and the Tribune man got about the best lecture he ever received in his life. There was not a true line in all he wrote, and he had to acknowledge the corn. He is a fair sample of many of the Northern correspondents who tell such wonderful tales about Southern society.

A soldier was arrested by an officer yesterday, and while coming up the levee he was stopped by a squad of United States soldiers and the prisoner forcibly released. There was a sergeant and three men in the squad.

The body of a white man was found in the river yesterday morning.....The "Fung Shuey" (Cromwell) arrived at her wharf at an early hour this morning.....It is said that Jno. Covode is on a Southern tour of inspection; are we to have another Covode report?...."The weather in England is improving," says a N. Y. telegram; what's been the matter?... 5,132 persons registered; 2,278 have taken the amnesty oath..... The steamship "Britannia" (so spelled,) is to leave Philadelphia for Rio Janeiro on the 2d of September.....The World says a slight mistake of 800,000 has been made in the census returns for N. Y. city, for political purposes.....The city papers are still agitating the question of leasing out the city wharves.....The telegraph reports quite a number of steamers and sailing vessels on the bar, coming up.

As I propose to close, a report comes in contradicting the report of the burning of Shreveport. The latter is the statement of Major W. O. Long, of the staff of Gen. Veatch. Which is true? The details are correctly given, so far as typography is concerned. I am puzzled. Here are the two reports—let us hope that the latter is true.

Markets dull. Gold sold this morning at the low price of 143.

TREATMENT OF ASIATIC CHOLERA.—A correspondent furnishes us with the following; which, he says, was copied twelve years ago from an Irish newspaper:

Mr. Dane, an Eastern traveller and Orientalist, recommends this treatment for cholera. He says: "While residing in Cairo, in Egypt, in 1843, while the cholera was raging there, I was informed there was an Englishman in a small neighboring village had effected a speedy and effective cure in all the cases he had an opportunity of treating. The number of cases was sixty-two, and many of them very malignant. I subsequently learned that his mode of treatment had been practiced with equal success in Spain, Constantinople and India, and was never followed by typhus or typhoid fever; which proved fatal in many cases when the cholera itself had been subdued by other means. Upon applying to him I received the following directions. I practiced them in a few cases which afterwards occurred in my house and elsewhere with invariable success.

"If the patient have vomited the poisonous matter which is characteristic of the disease and resembles rice water, give a table spoonful of powdered mustard in a tumbler of cold water as an emetic. After the vomiting (whether produced by the disease or the above means) in a few minutes give a wine glass full of brandy, with ten grains of capsicum (cayenne pepper) stirred up in it. This generally produces almost immediate relief, and, within an hour, rest, perspiration and sleep. In a few cases it was found necessary to give half a dose of brandy and capsicum, after half an hour or more. A second half dose was never required, but should it be, it may be given. No other fluid should be drunk before recovering, to accelerate convalescence. It has been suggested that fifteen drops of the spirit of ammonia and sulphuric ether, in equal parts, may be advantageously given three or four times during the following day.

"The above quantity of brandy and capsicum is for any patient—suffering a severe attack. In other cases two-thirds or half of that quantity may suffice, as I have proven by experience."

SPEECH OF GOVERNOR PERRY, OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

He is impressed with the President's ability and magnanimity—What he and his Cabinet officers said.

SPEECH OF GOV. B. F. PERRY, IN THE COURT HOUSE, GREENVILLE, S. C., ON TUESDAY, AUG. 1, ON HIS RETURN FROM WASHINGTON.

Fellow Citizens: I have met you this morning, not to make a speech, but to talk over the incidents of my late visit to Washington. I started there three weeks since, as your delegate, to ask for the appointment of a Provisional Governor, and the restoration of civil authority in South Carolina. On my way, I met a messenger from his Excellency, President Johnson, bearing a commission appointing me Provisional Governor of the State. This was an honor which I had not anticipated, and never aspired to.

On my arrival in Washington, I addressed a note to the President, asking the honor of an audience for the purpose of receiving his instructions, and communicating to him my views in reference to the political tone and temper of the State. After waiting that evening and the next day without hearing from the President, I paid a visit to Gov. Dennison, Postmaster General. This gentleman received me most kindly, and seemed gratified at the account I gave him of South Carolina. He assured me that the President had not received my note, and very obligingly ordered his carriage and went to the Executive mansion to ascertain the truth of the matter. In a short time afterward, I received a note from President Johnson, stating that my communication, the day before, had not been received, and that he would see me at 3 o'clock.

In reply, I stated that I would do myself the honor to call on his Excellency at the hour designated, and that my friends Cols. Orr, Elford, Williams, Bacon, and Messrs. Leitch, Grady, Gibbes and Blodgett would accompany me. We were received very cordially, and remained an hour or two with the President. I told him that the people of South Carolina accepted the terms of his proclamation, and were disposed to return to their allegiance to the Union. That from having been the most rebellious State in the South, I was satisfied that South Carolina would, henceforth, be one of the most loyal of the Southern States. That she would reform her constitution and abolish slavery, give the elections to the people, and equalize the representation of the State. I gave it as my opinion that the disunion feeling of the South had originated in the parishes.

The President expressed himself gratified at the course South Carolina was likely to pursue, and instead of manifesting any bitter or revengeful spirit, he evinced great kindness, solicitude and magnanimity. The whole delegation was deeply impressed with the courtesy, dignity and ability of his Excellency. His political views expressed to us were those of a patriot and statesman. He wished to see the country once more quiet, peaceable, happy and prosperous.—In regard to the relative powers of the State and Federal Government, his opinions were identical with my own, so long expressed in South Carolina.

He was equally opposed to the centralization and consolidation of powers in Congress as he was to the secession of the States. It must be left to the legislature of each State to decide who shall be allowed to vote in the State. Any attempt on the part of Congress to control the elective franchise of a State would be unwarrantable usurpation. He expressed an ardent wish to see the Constitution of South Carolina popularized by abolishing the parish representation and equalizing the political power of the upper and lower country, giving the election of Governor to the people, and also the election of electors of President.

On leaving the President, he requested me to call and see Mr. Seward, Secretary of State, and give him the same information I had given his Excellency in reference to the public feelings and sentiments in South Carolina. This I did in company with the South Carolina delegation. We found Mr. Seward kind and cordial, and gratified at the information we gave him with regard to the politics of South Carolina. Before visiting Mr. Seward, I had been to call on the Attorney General, Mr. Speed. He expressed himself surprised and mortified at my speech, made to you on the 3d of July. But I soon discovered that he had only glanced over the speech, and did not comprehend the tone and temper of my remarks.

I told Mr. Seward what the Attorney General had said. He replied, I read your speech this morning attentively, and considering the standpoint from which you make it, I think it a very good one. When I was Governor of New York, said Mr. Seward, I used to make speeches which were very severely criticised in Charleston, and I said to myself, what the devil have the people of Charleston to do with my speech made in New York? I did not speak to them or for them, but to the people of New York. And I suppose, Mr. Perry, you intended your speech for South Carolina, and not for Washington.

The Attorney General expressed a wish that while reforming our Constitution, we should give the election of Governor to the people, and invest him with the power of appointing all State and District officers, with the advice and consent of the Senate. I told him my theory had always been to give all the important elections, President, Governor, members of Congress and members of Legislature, to the people, and relieve them of the trouble of assembling so often to make petty elections, which generally tended to corrupt and demoralize them.

I called on the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. McCulloch, and was very much pleased with him as a gentleman, a public officer, and a statesman. I was furnished in the Treasury office with a list of appointments which I had to make. In doing so, I endeavored to fill all the offices with men of capacity, integrity and experience.

I likewise paid my respects to the Secretary of War, in company with the South Carolina delegation, and endeavored to lay before this high functionary the true condition of affairs in South Carolina. I regretted not seeing Gen. Howard, who is at the head of the Freedman's Bureau in Washington. But I addressed a letter to him, giving him my views in reference to the freedmen, and asking his instructions. The whole South Carolina delegation were earnest in their efforts to impress the President and his Cabinet with the impolicy of garrisoning South Carolina with colored troops. I had hoped to see Gen. Gilmore on this subject as I returned through Columbia.

The last interview I had with the President, he requested me to write him, and keep him informed as to any difficulties which I might meet with in organizing a Provisional Government. I said to him: "I have already, Mr. President, organized a Provisional Government for South Carolina, by adopting the State Government. I have issued my proclamation, ordering all civil officers in South Carolina to take the oath of allegiance, and resume their official duties." "Well," said he, "you are a most expeditious Governor." I replied by saying my appointment came late, and I thought it necessary to work rapidly. I further said to him that I would have the State ready, with her constitution reformed and her members of Congress elected by the first Monday in December, when Congress convened.

In conclusion, let me say to you, fellow-citizens, that I am well pleased with all that I saw and heard at Washington in reference to the Southern States. Let us now do our duty, take the oath of allegiance, elect good and wise men to the Convention, reform our State Constitution, abolish slavery, equalize the representation of the State in the Senate, give the election of Governor and Presidential electors to the people, and all will be well. Immediately after the Convention has reformed the Constitution the Legislature will be convened to elect United States Senators, and provide for the election of members of the House of Representatives in Congress. This may all be done by the first Monday in December next, when the State will be fully restored to all her rights under the Constitution and laws of the United States.

HARD UPON SIMON CAMERON.—The Hon. Simon Cameron having made a speech in Philadelphia, vilifying the Representatives of that city as having degraded the office to mere personal interests, the Hon. Wm. D. Kelly publishes a reply in which he says:

"I was but a youth when I first heard the name of Simon Cameron, and it was as the perpetrator of a great crime. He had been made the agent of the Government to carry a large amount of money, due them, to the Winnebago Indians, and had taken advantage of their ignorance and helplessness to enrich himself.—For more than thirty years I have watched the tortuous career of this man, and have never seen reason to abandon my first impression of his character. Whether acting with the Democratic, the Know Nothing, or the Republican party—for he has in turn disgraced them all—he has never been false to his criminal instincts. The evil report of his deeds pervades the country as a reproach to our State.—Yes, unhappily for Pennsylvania and her great interests, the buzzard-winged fame of Simon Cameron is national. By months of abject solicitation and corrupt bargaining, he procured a mass of letters, certificates and recantations, that imposed him upon President Lincoln as the representative man of the Keystone State. This was an evil hour for Pennsylvania. * * * No stone may mark the spot where my poor remains may finally rest, but I mean that my children shall be able to vindicate my name by pointing to the fact that Simon Cameron and his confidential friends were ever hostile to me."

CENTENARY INSTITUTE,

SUMMERFIELD, ALA.

The Twenty-Seventh Annual Session will begin on MONDAY, the 2d of October, and close the last Wednesday in June.

FEMALE COLLEGE.

Rev. R H. RIVERS, D. D., President and Professor of Moral Philosophy.

Rev. T. C. WEIR, M. D., Professor of Mathematics and Natural Science.

A. SCHMIDT, Professor of Music and Modern Languages.

Miss JULIA HEARD, Governess, and Teacher in English Branches.

Dr. Rivers has long been known as one of the most popular and successful educators in the South; and the Corps of Teachers he has called to his aid is such as to insure the most accurate and thorough instruction in every department of female education.

MALE DEPARTMENT.

Rev. JOHN S MOORE, A. M., Principal.

Mr. Moore was educated at the University of Virginia, receiving the first honors of that Institution. He has been connected with the School for five years, and is known as a most competent and faithful instructor of young men. He will employ such assistants as may be necessary.

The location is remarkably healthy, about eight miles from Selma, and easily reached from the great lines of travel that centre in that city.

While particular attention is given, not only to the mental, but also to the religious culture of the Pupils, all sectarianism will be carefully avoided.

Tuition has been raised only fifty per cent. on prices before the war, while the items of living generally have advanced from one to two hundred per cent. above old prices. Pupils will be charged from the time of entrance to close of session. No deduction for absence except in case of protracted sickness.

BOARD can be had with the Principals and in private families for $20 per month, washing, lights and bed covering extra. One half the expenses must be paid in advance, and the balance at the middle of the session.

No School of similar character in the land affords greater facilities for the training of our youth. It is, therefore, with entire confidence that the Trustees recommend Centenary Institute to the favorable notice of the public.

It is important that Pupils be present promptly at the beginning of the session.

R. A. BAKER,
sept 1t President of the Board of Trustees.

Commercial and Classical School,

SOUTHWEST CORNER MONROE AND CLAIBORNE STS.

Open throughout the Year.

The Fourteenth Annual Session of this SCHOOL will commence on MONDAY, the 4th of September.

The Course of Instruction comprises the Common and Higher English Branches, Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry and Trigonometry, &c., with their application to the Practical Branches of Mathematics; Bookkeeping; Intellectual, Moral and Natural Philosophy; Astronomy, and the use of the Globes; the Latin, Greek and French Languages.

An EVENING SCHOOL will be opened for such as cannot attend the Day School.

TERMS.

Common English Branches, $5 a month; Higher English Branches, $7 a month; the above, with Mathematics and Classics, $10 a month.

☞ Tuition paid monthly in advance.

sept 3t GEO. H. JACKSON, Principal.

HIGH SCHOOL FOR BOYS,

NEAR SUMMERFIELD, ALA.

THE undersigned, anxious to aid in restoring a devastated country—his native South—to her former prosperity and elevation, proposes to open on the FIRST MONDAY OF OCTOBER NEXT, a for boys and young men, on his own premises, ten miles north of Selma and five miles north of Summerfield, Dallas county, Ala.

PRIVATE AND SELECT SCHOOL

In this enterprise he will be assisted by Mr. WM. G. HILL, a gentleman of fine scholastic attainments, of untiring energy, and an earnest, devoted fondness for teaching.

We have no hesitancy in saying, that with an experience of fifteen years in managing boys, and a sincere fondness for the companionship of noble, aspiring young men, we shall make this school equal to any, and surpassed by none, in this Southland.

Besides these professional advantages, the location is retired, is free from vicious contacts, and is as healthy as mountain air.

All boarders will board and lodge in the family of the Principal, who intends to make all his pupils feel that in his house and family they shall have friends and a home.

As a new and an additional recommendation, the school will be limited to twenty pupils for each teacher; and assistance will be given to all the students at night as much as by day.

No sectarianism will be tolerated; still the Bible will be used and taught; Sabbath-school facilities will be furnished; and the students will be allowed to attend worship in any church in the neighborhood.

Those who wish to secure situations can address the subscriber by Express, to Selma, Ala., care of Ware & Hudson.

All applicants must produce satisfactory evidence as to their characters.

Every boy must bring two blankets or comforts, and his towels, and must furnish his own lights.—All other scholastic expense, instruction, rations, lodging, washing and fuel will be given for a charge of $325, $160 of which must be paid in advance; the remainder, with the bill for books added on, must be promptly paid February 14th, 1866. We can only feed well when money is in hand.

These figures, for the skill pledged and the advantages offered, especially considering the prices of provisions, are reasonable enough. The exercise, with the blessing of God, will go on uninterruptedly until the close of the Session, between the 20th and 25th June, 1866. Let our friends everywhere give us attention.

D. C. B. CONNERLY,
Summerfield, Dallas county, Ala.

P. S. Transportation from Selma to the school will be furnished by Alfred Sexton, at the Commercial Bank, about the opening of the school, at reasonable rates.

ELECTION.—As will be seen by our figures below, the vote in the city is in favor of C. C. Langdon, C. P. Gage, G. Y. Overall and James Bond. The different precincts in the county have not been heard from:

C. C. Langdon, 525; C. P. Gage, 443; James Bond, 386; G. Y. Overall, 295; Peter Hamilton, 201; Jno. T. Taylor, 256; Jno. J. Walker, 158; W. C. Easton, 42; C. A. Bradford, 17.

COOL PISTOLING.—Mr. Robert Smith, the proprietor of the "Crystal Saloon," on Royal street, had a small lump of lead, easily recognized by those familiar with such things as a bullet, lodged in his arm night before last, not a little, it is said, to his surprise. A gentleman who was within the short distance of two or three hundred yards of the spot when the affair came off, gives the subjoined version of it. He does not pretend to say that it is correct, as he did not see the pistol discharged until fifteen or twenty minutes after it had gone off, but he heard the report, (the identical one he furnishes us for publication,) and thinks it about as reliable as such things usually are under the circumstances.

It seems that a Mr. Dix was on what in the rural districts is called a "tare," and at about 10 o'clock on the night in question went into the "Crystal Saloon" to take "some more," which he probably did. Pretty soon he came out upon the streets uttering certain "cuss words," which look so profane in type that they are omitted here out of respect for the feelings of the world, all of which reads the local in this paper, or ought to do it. Walking up the street a short distance, Mr. Dix turned and "advancing back" to the saloon, re-entered it, and wanted to know of Mr. Smith, who was behind the counter, if he didn't order him out of his house.—Mr. Smith, it is understood, replied that to the best of his knowledge and belief that was precisely what was the matter with him. In short, that he did, from "these headquarters," issue a verbal order, the sum and substance of which was, that the individual who had put the question had better empty himself into the street. This information seemed to be quite satisfactory to Mr. Dix, who raised a pistol and discharged it at Mr. Smith, hitting him in the arm, as hereinbefore set forth. Mr. Dix then set forth himself, going down Dauphin street like a man who had taken a running start to see if he couldn't jump across the river. About half way of the block between Royal and Water streets he rushed into the fraternal arms of a watchman who happened to be in the neighborhood, and was carried to the guard-house.

These are the facts as they are at present understood, in as few words as they can possibly be told. Whether or not Mr. Dix had any other provocation for the shooting than that mentioned above, will transpire when the matter is legally investigated.

The ball made an ugly hole in Mr. Smith's arm, but it is believed that no serious consequences will result from it.

SAD ACCIDENT.—The public was startled yesterday at the information that the steamer Reindeer, Capt. Buckley, had exploded her boiler at the Rigolets, at 1¼ A. M. on the 30th, on her first trip to New Orleans. The Reindeer had just been thoroughly repaired and overhauled, and was considered by her owners and engineer to be in excellent order, and was advertised as such.—We are without any definite information as to the cause of the accident. So far, it is only known that Mr. John Needy, clerk of the boat, was killed immediately. Mr. N. was a sergeant in company E, 3d Alabama Infantry, and served as a gallant and faithful soldier throughout the late war. He leaves behind him many friends, who will regret his untimely death. Captain Buckley received wounds which it is feared will result in his death. It was reported on the street late yesterday that he was dead, but we could not trace the report to any reliable source, and can only hope that it is not so.—Mr. McCormick, a citizen from the interior, was badly wounded. He has been taken to the Sisters of Charity Hospital, and will probably recover. Mr. A. D. Spear, of this city, was blown overboard, and has not been heard from. It is feared that he was drowned. Eight negroes were wounded, two of whom have since died. The report that Mr. C. A. Burt, of the firm of C. A. Burt & Co., had been killed, is without foundation. This we learn from his house.

P. S.—Since writing the above, we regret to learn that Captain Buckley has died of his wounds and injuries. Capt. B. has been known for years as connected with the steamboat interest of Mobile, and as a gentleman of character and integrity his death will be regretted by a host of friends and acquaintances. A notice of his funeral appears in another column.

DEATH OF CAPT. BUCKLEY.—We regret to say that Capt. W. W. Buckley, of the steamer Reindeer, died yesterday afternoon, in this city, from the effects of injuries received when his boat exploded one of her boilers at the Rigolets on Wednesday evening last. He, with Mr. Needy, the clerk, and others of the injured, was brought to the city yesterday on the General Banks. Mr. Needy died during the trip up the bay.

☞ The funeral of Thomas Laurent, an old and efficient member of Creole Fire Company No. 1, will take place to-day, at 3 P. M. His friends and acquaintances are requested to attend.

NEW ORLEANS AND WATERING PLACES.—The fine passenger steamer Magnolia, Capt. Everidge, will leave to-day for the above and intermediate points at 12 o'clock M.

MONTGOMERY.—The steamer Annie Wagley, Capt. Wagley, leaves for the above and intermediate landings this day at 12 o'clock M.

☞ The fine steamer Magnolia is announced to leave for New Orleans to-day at 12 M.

☞ The light-draught steamer Annie Wagley leaves for Selma and Montgomery to-day at noon.

☞ The passenger steamer Eleanora shoves out for Selma and Montgomery to-day at 5 P. M.

STEAMER ELEANORA.—This steamer, rated as an A No. 1 boat, is just put in the Alabama river trade. She is owned in Mobile, and is commanded by Capt. N. K. Ludlow. To try her once is to insure a repetition of the patronage, for the boat is in tiptop order for the accommodation and comfort of passengers.

ANOTHER OLD CITIZEN GONE.—We learn with regret that Mr. P. G. Maguire, long and favorably known as a clothing merchant in our city, died suddenly at Sharon Springs in New York recently. Mr. Maguire was an Irishman by birth but has made Mobile his home for the last thirty years or more. He leaves a large family, and many warm friends to bemoan his loss. His remains will be brought to Mobile for interment.

MAYOR'S COURT.—Thursday, Aug. 31, 1865.—Councilman Moulton, presiding.

Wm. Dwyer, drunk and down. No complainant appeared and the case was dismissed.

Mrs. Murphy complained of John, her husband, for slapping her. John was fined $50 or 30 days.

Ellen Moriarty was found drunk and down in the market. She was fined $50 or 30 days.

Wm. Owens, supposed to be crazy, annoyed a family, and was ordered to be locked up for 30 days.

A negro complained of a gentleman who is in charge of a cotton warehouse, for knocking him off his dray without cause, but the gentleman proved by two witnesses that the negro was impudent. The case was dismissed.

M. Corcoran was accused of overcharging for a small dray load. He stated that he had done extra work, which, if he proves, his fine will be remitted.

The girl Clarissa, reported yesterday as having taken a quilt from another negro girl for debt, was discharged from the accusation of larceny.

Tom, negro, is accused of stealing a meerchaum pipe. The case is continued for a witness.

James was let off for having one lamp out, because he is a good boy.

Phil, sleeping on the wharf—30 days in the workhouse.

Wilson has no home. The Mayor gave him one for ten days.

George says he wants to go home, and is given that privilege.

The State vs. Charles Forsyth, for assault with intent to kill, after a full hearing the accused was discharged.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

I. O. O. F.—The attention of the members of the Order is invited to the notice of Mr. Joseph French, Secretary.

CREOLE FIRE CO. No. 1.—See notice of Secretary.

☞ By reference to our Auction head it will be seen that the sale by P. O. Joyce is continued for Friday and Saturday.

☞ Mr. R. C. Macy announces another Portwarden's sale of cotton—twenty bales—on Monday next at 10 o'clock.

☞ Geo. H. Jackson will open a commercial and classical school (the fourteenth annual session,) on the corner of Monroe and Claiborne streets. See advertisement in to-day's issue.

☞ Attention is invited to the advertisement of the Centenary Institute, at Summerfield, Ala. The twenty-seventh annual session of this Institute will begin on Monday, the 2d day of October next. This College is divided into a male and female department, both of which are presided over by the best talent in the country. Full particulars can be had from the advertisement.

☞ GEN. DABNEY H. MAURY, formerly commander of this District in the days of Confederate rule, has opened a classical and mathematical school in Fredericksburg, Virginia. See his advertisement in another place. A better model of the amiable and perfect gentleman could not be set before the rising generation for imitation. We shall be delighted to hear of the complete success of the General in his new sphere of action in life. We know of no one who better deserves the choicest favors of fortune.

☞ Attention is called to the advertisement of William Ballantine, druggist and apothecary, northeast corner of Government and St. Emanuel streets. Mr. B. has in store and is constantly receiving supplies of the leading patent medicines, with a large and well-selected stock of drugs, etc., and Landreth's garden seeds.

☞ See advertisement of Aubrey & Co., commission merchants and dealers in foreign and domestic liquors, No. 54 Gay street, Baltimore.—Mr. Aubrey, long known to the business community of Mobile, will give his personal attention to purchases made for his friends in this city.—Also, to consignments of cotton to his house.

☞ Oscar Bercier & Co., Nos. 42 and 44 Old Levee, New Orleans, advertise to arrive during the coming month a large assortment of the finest wines, liquors and brandies ever brought to the Southern market, besides the best Havana cigars and sugars. See advertisement in this morning's issue.

☞ Voorhees & Myers advertise as agents for the Metropolitan, Continental, Manhattan, Relief, Aston and National Marine and Fire Insurance Companies of New York, with aggregate assets of upwards of $4,000,000. See notice.

☞ Jno. H. Marshall & Co. advertise two lots of sundries, in either of which one can scarcely fail to find something needed. Housekeepers are specially interested.

☞ It will be seen from the card of Messrs. Walsh, Smith & Co., that Col. R. W. Smith has become a partner in that firm.

☞ Dan'l McNeill, No. 40 St. Michael street, will issue sterling bills on Europe for one pound and upwards.

☞ I. I. Jones, No. 9 South Water street, advertises Goshen butter, whisky, brandy, etc., in store for sale.

☞ Mr. John H. Hubbard, 24 Commerce st., advertises 100,000 feet of white pine lumber for sale in lots to suit purchasers.

☞ If you want whiskies, wines, gin or snuff, read advertisement of Freeman & Fosdick.

For New Orleans.

V

REGISTER & ADVERTISER.

FRIDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 1, 1865.

[From the Chicago Republican.]

SIX AND SEVEN.

On a golden, sunny day,
Sweetened by the breath of May,
Laughing children were at play.
Ancient wood and meadow rung
With the joyous music flung
Out from many a noisy tongue.

Warbling bird, and waving tree,
Tinkling bell, and droning bee,
Mingled in the melody.

Little wild flowers, one by one,
Looking upward, had begun
Morning worship to the sun.

Far away one little maid,
From the shouting ramblers strayed—
And her name was Adelaide.

With a face half fear, half joy,
With footstep light and coy,
Followed her a blue-eyed boy.

O'er the spotless vault of heaven,
Shadowy clouds had not been driven—
She was six and he was seven.

Where the partridge seeks his coop,
Marching with his wings adroop,
Drummer to the sylvan troop—

Where the bubbling runlet brims,
Singing low its vernal hymns,
Sat they neath the alder limbs.

Limpid waters soft and sweet,
Curled around the mossy seat—
Dimpled waves and dimpled feet.

By that drooping alder shade
Into one, two hearts were made—
Theodore and Adelaide!

True love ne'er to earth was given,
True love hurries home to heaven—
She was six and he was seven.

Soon from scented fields and bowers
Autumn chased the summer flowers,
Scattering, as they fled, the flowers.

Ripe nuts rustling to the ground—
Young ears catch the magic sound,
Young feet to the forest bound!

But from all that happy throng,
Shouting loud and shouting long,
Absent was the sweetest song.

One June day a mound was made
By that drooping alder shade—
Adelaide! O Adelaide!

On its turf so sweet and low,
Fell the first cold winter's snow,
Six and seventy years ago.

Near it still each summer even,
Stands an old man ripe for heaven—
She was six and he was seven.

Notice.

In consequence of general misapprehension prevailing throughout the country that the United States Government do not intend to collect the cotton belonging to them, and that said collection will soon be abandoned, notice is hereby given that the Government of the United States will unhesitatingly collect all cotton belonging to them, and holders of said cotton will be held strictly responsible for its safety and delivery when called upon by proper Treasury officers to do so.

Any effort to evade this will bring trouble on the parties acting in conflict with the properly authorized Agents of the Government.

While the Government will collect its own cotton, its agents are prohibited from interfering with strictly private rights of ownership, and planters are invited to make known any dereliction from this course in writing at this office.

The GERMANIA Fire Insurance Company,
The HANOVER Fire Insurance Company,
The NIAGARA Fire Insurance Company,
The REPUBLIC Fire Insurance Company,

ALL OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK,

Have entered into an arrangement for the purpose of transacting TOGETHER the business of Insurance against Loss or Damage by Fire, and the Perils of Inland Transportation, and in order to carry such an arrangement into effect, they have established, under the charge of

Alexander Stoddart, Gen'l Agent,

A SEPARATE OFFICE

in New York City, designated the

"UNDERWRITERS' AGENCY."

ONE POLICY of Insurance is issued by the FOUR COMPANIES through the Underwriters' Agency, which is made to meet the necessities of the business community, by securing, with dispatch, large lines of Insurance with reliable Companies, upon uniform, plain and simple conditions, thereby obviating the necessity of applying to various separate offices for insurance to the amount they are severally able to accept, and of holding numerous separate policies, the conditions and written portions of which rarely agree, rendering it next to impossible for the assured to become familiar with and harmonize their various conflicting conditions.

By the conditions of the UNDERWRITERS' POLICY but one set of Papers is required to prove a loss to the several Companies insuring under it, thereby making the adjustment simple and expeditious.

The Local Agents issuing this Policy of Insurance will be under the supervision of ALEXANDER STODDART, and the whole business will be under the control of a BOARD OF MANAGEMENT of experienced Underwriters, composed of the Officers of the Companies establishing the Agency.

The Cash Assets of EACH Company issuing the Underwriters' Policy of Insurance, exceed HALF A MILLION OF DOLLARS, making a security in the aggregate of THREE MILLION DOLLARS.

The standing in the community of the Companies interested in this Agency arrangement, and the respectable character of the large number of gentlemen composing their several Boards of Directors, afford an abundant guarantee that all business confided to them will be honorably and liberally conducted.
