1859

Smoots Contentment. Oct 2nd

Dear Brother

I received your letter in due time, and I have takan a few moments from my study hours to drop you a few lines. I am as well as usual. Uncle Theopholus family is not very well at this time. [illegible] Amelia is very [illegible] in [illegible] tooth [illegible] of the wo[illegible] the rest are as well as [illegible]. We have it tolerable cold now, some very large frosts, and a little ice. I beleave in general that the farmers have finished seeding their grain and are now getting their corn in the houses and prepareing for winter for it is fast approaching. Well now for letting you know what I am a doing, in the first place: I am growing very fast now, all of my last winters, (and indeed this summers) clothes are too small for me. I am reading Xenophon in greek, Cicero in latin in english

I have no study except Arithmetic which I am reviewing with a very large class. I do not think to tell you the truth (which I know you would rather for me to do) I stand very high in the estimation of Mr N F I Browne but I think I am increasing a little more now than before August. With Mr Briscoe I cannot tell for he can talk two ways although he appears to have a pretty good [illegible] of me. With M[illegible] you [illegible] been [illegible] months, [illegible]mple (Yankee) who had beard all over his face when he came here and has never shaved it off since. I think I stand tolerable high now, this winds up my scholastic history. Sister have birth to a fine daughter about two weeks ago which makes you have two neices which you have never seen, you have also a very interesting sister which you have never seen besides a number of other relations which you have never seen. I would like very much to see you in here this comming summer, but I suppose you do not intend to come in until you get the madam to bring with you, well I wish you would be in a hurry about it; Every body that inquires about you ask if you are not married yet, and I reckon after a while that they will say there is no one that will have you. Cousin Carpenter Dent is in [illegible] he was at our house when [illegible] ago, [illegible] all say that he is [illegible] same person now that he was when he went away. Well I reckon to-morrow being the election day that there is a great deal of excitement among the candidates so much so that I reckon they will not rest much to-night well as I cannot vote yet a while I am easy any way, but I would like to see A. B. Flegner elected to congress and. Washington Burch elected as county commissioner. Uncle Theophilus says that he intends writing to you before a great while all joinne in love to you and

relations so good bye your Brother George

P.S.
Please excuse all mistakes and blots as I am in a hurry
Yours truly
George H Dent

[Smoots] Contentment. Oct 2nd 1859

Dear Brother

I received your letter in due time, and I have taken a few moments from my study hours to drop you a few lines. I am as well as usual. Uncle Theopholu's family is not very well at this time. [Aunt] Amelia is very . . . . . tooth . . . . . of the woo___ . . . . rest are as well as [usual]. We have it tolerable cold now. Some very large frosts, and a little ice. I beleave in general that the farmers have finished seeding their grain and are now getting their ~~gxxin~~ corn in the houses and prepareing for winter for it is fast approaching. Well now for letting you know what I am doing, in the first place I am growing very fast now, all of my last winters, (and indeed this summers) clothes are too small for me. I am reading Xenaphon in greek, Cicero in latin in english I have no study except Arithmetic which I am reviewing with a very large class. I do not think to tell you the truth (which I know you would rather for me to do) I stand very high in the estimation of Mr. N F D Browne but I think I am increasing a little more now than before August. With Mr. Briscoe I cannot tell for he can talk two ways although he appears to have a pretty . . . . of me. With . . . . . you . . . . . .been . . . . months, (..mple Yankee) who had beard all over his face when he came here and has never shaved it off since. I think I stand tolerable high now, this winds up my scholastic history. Sister gave birth to a fine daughter about two weeks ago which makes you have two neices which you have never seen, you have also a very interesting sister which you have never seen besides a number of other relations which you have never seen. I would like very much to see you in here this comming summer, but I suppose you do not intend to come in until you get the madam to bring with you, well I wish you would be in a hurry about it, Every body that inquires about you aske if you are not married yet, and I reckon after a while that they will say there is no one that will have you. Cousin Carpenter Dent is in . . . he was at our house when . . . . . ago . . . . . all say that he is . . . . [sa]me person now that he was when he went away. Well I reckon to-morrow being the election day that there is a great deal of excitement among the candidates so much so that I reckon they will not rest much to-night well as I can not vote yet awhile I am easy any way, but I would like to see A B Hagner elected to congress and Washington Burch elected as county commissioner. Uncle Theopholus says that he intends writing to you before a great while all join me in love to you and relations so good bye your Brother

George

P. S.

Please excuse all mistakes and blotts as I am in a hurry

yours truly

George H Dent