I felt for them. I was anxious to go there & take Louisville, or Cincinnati, some of the Northern cities. Cincinnati by. I think we were badly whipped at Corinth, which means I am afraid Gen. Grant. I was sorry indeed to hear the Confederates badly defeated at Corinth, but it ought not to discourage any one in the least. I do not know when we will go to some other place, but I would like to go somewhere to Mobile, or meet us at some other point, & expect we will be reinforced, & sent to different places. But I am going to content myself in going to the place, we are sent to. It has been truly a long time since I have had any letter from any one at home, not since the 21st of Aug. I am now so anxious to hear that you are well, & from that you have all been spared to enjoy the enjoyment of good health. Tell all to write me immediately, & give me all the news, specially in Crawford. Tell every one to write to me. Tell Pink & the rest to write to me. Tell them to write me all the particulars in Va. I hope to get some letters in a day, or so. I expect you have been quite uneasy about me, hearing of the fight in Miss, & not getting a letter, or any news from me. I will say for your satisfaction, that I received no wound

I thought I would like to get some good, home-made candy, but as you do not care, I will send me some of your candy are coming to Knoxville.
Send due by mail some copies of the Leader. I am anxious to hear from Nib. Make all write to me immediately, give all the news. I will write again soon.
