

Barrancas Florida
May 31st 1861

My own Darling

I can not close today without writing you a few lines although I can not promise any thing at all interesting. Nothing of any special importance has happened since I wrote last night. Things go on pretty much as usual.
You would not recognize the yard now. The dry dock being moved out and all the Youaves gone to Virginia quite changes the appearance of things down there. I pass down there this evening for the first time in some time. I do not think I have been there since the day I came from Pensacola after bidding you good by.
The Georgia Regiment having left this Brigade leaves us with fewer troops and therefore not so much to do.

So that I do not expect to be so busily employed for the future. Well Darling I think now it is well settled that we are not to have a fight here soon. Moving those troops to Virginia is pretty good evidence, besides a number of hands were discharged at the foundry in the Navy Yard this evening another evidence. I wish now it was so you could come back here and stay with me. I do feel at times so lonely and as if I would give any thing for ~~you~~ a good opportunity of being with you and conversing with you.
Well I will enjoy the most greatest pleasure and that is writing to you. I am sure you should not have talked as you did in your last letter. It made me feel quite badly. Just like I was a constant trouble to you and that you were sorry you had ever married me. This last is not so is it Darling? But enough I will await your next letter. I received another letter from Hatch to-day saying that he had another horse for me and was waiting for Willis to send him down. Do you know whether he is coming or not. I should like to hear. I must have some one. It is a pretty hard case to get washing done down here now. and then it is done so meanly.

Thom Robinson got over here by hard work and without a regular permit.
It is very singular the sentinals did not find it out.
I suppose the Ladies have all searched home from here by this time. You must be careful with yourself my Darling. You need not make yourself sick by eating my share of all the good things - I hope still to be able to go home in July - John M^r Mac has heard of my sickness of his Mother and has applied for a furlough I do not know whether he will get it or not well darling good by write often to your old dear and believe me

as ever devoted -
My love to all - good by your own old dear
Hubert

Ms. S. H. Deuk.
Eufaula
Alabama

Barrancas Florida

May 31st 1861

My own Darling

I can not close to-day without writing you a few lines although I can not promise any thing at all interesting. Nothing of any special importance has happened since I wrote last night. Things go on pretty much as usual.

You would not recognize the yard now. The dry dock being moved out and all the Zouaves gone to Virginia quite changes the appearance of things down there. I was down there this evening for the first time in some time. I do not think I have been there since the day I came from Pensacola after bidding you good by. The Georgia Regiment having left this Brigade leaves us with fewer troops and therefore not so much to do. So that I do not expect to be so busily employed for the future. Well Darling I think now it is well settled that we are not to have a fight here soon. moving those troops to Virginia is pretty good evidence, besides a number of hands were discharged at the foundry in the Navy yard this evening another evidence. I wish now it was so you could come back here and stay with me. I do feel at times so lonely and as if I would give any thing for a good opportunity of being with you and conversing with you. Well I will enjoy the next greatest pleasure and that is writing to you. Nannie

[page 2]

you should not have talked
as you did in your last
letter – it made me feel
quite badly – just like I
[page 3]

was a constant trouble to
you and that you were
sorry you had ever married
me. This last is not
so is it Darling? But
enough I will await your
next letter. I received an=
other letter from Hatch to-day
saying that he had another
horse for me and was wait=
ing for Willis to send him
down. Do you know whether
he is coming or not. I should
like to hear – I must have
some one – It is a pretty
hard case to get washing done
down here now – and then
it is done so meanly.

Thom Robinson got over
here by hard work and
without a regular permit
It is very singular the Senti=
nals did not find it out.

I suppose the Ladies have all reached home from here by this time. You
must be careful with your=
self my Darling. You need
[page 4]

not make yourself sick by
eating my share of all the good
things – I hope still to be
able to go home in July – John M^cRae has heard of the sickness by his Mother and
has applied for a furlough
I do not know whether
he will get it or not
well Darling good by
write often to your old
Dear and believe me
as ever devoted –
My love to all – good
by your own old Dear

Hubert