

Camp Near Tupelo Miss
June 28th 1862

My own Dear Wife

I had just seated myself to write you when yours of the 24th was handed me - of course I was glad to get it - for I am always glad to hear from my own dear Darling. Well by this time Ada has graduated and I am sure she acquitted herself well. I wish I could have been with you but regrets are useless. Congratulate Ada for me and say to her that I hope her future may be a bright and happy one undimmed by sorrow or distress - I believe I have coined a word - but she will understand me - My Father remained with me until late yesterday evening - also another gentleman named Barry a Refugee from Maryland - The latter showed me a letter written by the notorious Dan Sickles to his (Barry's) wife releasing her from arrest - she lives in Prince Georges Co - Md. and was arrested by Sickles for communicating with the rebels. It was the same crowd that sent my Father from home - He (my Father) is in only tolerable health - Both have gone to Jackson Miss and may be there some time - George as I wrote is in Richmond - He stood the marching and fighting under Stone-wall Jackson finely - His Company suffered some and he lost among others his Captain whom he loved very much. I believe I wrote you that his Company had disbanded - George is quite anxious to remain with the 1st Md Regt especially as they have been so highly complimented for whipping the famous Bucktail Penn - Regt - But it seems uncertain whether he can get into a Company to suit him - He may join my Company - I however do not persuade him as he will have to be a private for a good while and may never in fact get any higher - while I would like very much to have him yet he might not be very well satisfied and therefore I do not like to persuade him - My Father expresses a good deal of confidence in our ability to hold Richmond - I hope he may be correct - but I am very much afraid of the burrowing propensities of McLellan. Things remain quiet there a long time - I have just heard to-day that four thousand men have been sent from here to Chattanooga - whether more will go and when I know not - I hear also that troops have gone from Mobile up there - our Division commanded by Withers has been made a reserve Corps - so we will not be the first in a fight while we remain thus - Although the best troops are generally held in reserve I cannot say that I would like this very well were it not for the fact that in this way I will stand a better chance to get a leave of absence - I think now my chances are pretty good - but I will not be able to get more than twenty days - If I get it at all I expect to come here about the 10th July - I will only have a short time to remain - but even that will be gladly accepted - well I have given you all the news here personal & otherwise and will now write of something else - That boy of ours must be a great little fellow - and so he wants Papa's letters and kisses them - How I do want to see him hear him talk and see him walk - I wonder if he will get so he will know me while I am at home - I hope so I believe I want to see him almost as bad as I do my darling - Did the poor little fellow ever get a carriage? - if you ever wrote me that he did I have forgotten it - How much does he weigh? well I hope I will soon see him and his dear Ma Ma too -

I am very sorry to hear such news of Willie Foney - poor boy - and I feel so sorry for his family I tell you what darling these surgeons are too fond of cutting off limbs - Should I ever be unfortunate as to be wounded either in the leg or arm I am not going to let a surgeon cut them off without I think it necessary. I am much obliged for your suggestions about going to Mr Hudson's at Columbus. but I hope at the same time that I will keep well. I am very well and if I can miss bullets & c I think I will go through the war all right.

I have been living well this week having had potatoes onions and black berry pies in addition to our usual fare. The weather is still very warm. we had a little rain last night and some little again to day. It is still cloudy and I hope we will have a good deal shortly. I do not think I envy your hearing the commencement sermon. I have an idea that I would have been greatly bored. well it is after dinner and every body nearly is asleep. I will lay this aside and finish to night. Good by God bless you my darling wife. It is now after supper and I propose to finish this letter. I have heard this evening that there has been another terrible fight before Richmond in which we were the attacking party and that we had been successful but to what extent could not learn. I shall look anxiously for the particulars. We have so often been successful at first and then lost all the fruits of victory that I shall wait to hear more before I throw up my hat and shout my hurrah!
I hope we have defeated McLellan and that we will gain the fruits of the victory. The whole south would breathe freer and the wavering be strengthened and I hope the war will be made aggressive and carried into the enemy's country.
There is one thing about Willie Jones that I do not understand. How came he in our lines if the Yankees got hold of him? We have a pretty good camp here now plenty of good water & c.

our men are generally in fine health and spirits - our horses are improving and we will soon be in fine condition for a march or a fight. Clayton's regiment is suffering a good deal from sickness and I heard that Mitchell's Company only turned out six men for duty a day or two ago. New men have to go through a certain amount of sickness - We have had a very little rain - but that little helped - I was much amused at your account of the visit to Mrs Poiney. They must be a powerful loving couple. I wonder how Bill ever managed to tear himself away from her loving embraces. Tell Maria she must not be getting sad and taking trouble by anticipation. That it is much better for her to be cheerful so long as Henry is all right. How does Mrs Chambers bear the absence of the Col or is she in Montgomery with him. I am very busy now - Robertson and myself are the only officers with the Battery and are both kept pretty busy. What an immense amount of suffering has been caused by this war - and when will it end? I believe that if McClellan is whipped before Richmond that it will postpone instead of hastening foreign intervention - certainly as far as England is concerned my idea is that Europe wishes to see a final separation of this country - but that she wants both countries to be badly used up before peace is made - hence I think England would be more apt to interfere to prevent our subjugation than any thing else - as long as we seem able to hold our own she will "let us alone". The war I think is certain to last some years. Give my love to all the family. I think I should have Molly's letter by this time - Keep in good spirits my Darling and try and be cheerful tell the boy to be good and kiss him for Papa. I expect he will be spoiled with so much petting. With much love and many kisses for you & the boy I close. Your own old dear who loves you better and better every day
Hubert

Camp near Tupelo Miss
June 28th 1862

My own Dear Wife

I had just seated myself to write you when your's of the 22nd was handed me – of course I was glad to get it – for I am always glad to hear from my own Dear Darling. Well by this time Ada has graduated, and I am sure she acquitted herself well – I wish I could have been with you but regrets are useless. Congratulate Ada for me and say to her that I hope her future may be a bright and happy one undimmed by sorrow or distress. I believe I have coined a word – but she will understand me – My Father remained with me until late yesterday evening – also another gentleman named Barry a refugee from Maryland – The latter showed me a letter written by the notorious Dan Sickles to his (Barry's) wife releasing her from arrest – she lives in Prince George's Co. Md. and was arrested by Sickles for communicating with the rebels. It was the same crowd that ran my Father from home – He (my Father) is in only tolerable health. Both have gone to Jackson Miss and may be there some time – George as I wrote is in Richmond. He stood the marching and fighting under Stonewall Jackson finely. His company suffered some and he lost among others his Captain whom he loved very much. I believe I wrote you that his company had disbanded. George is quite anxious to remain with the 1st Md reg^t especially as they have been so highly complimented for whipping the famous Bucktail Penn. Reg^t. But it seems uncertain whether he can get into a company to suit him. He may join my company I however do not persuade him as he will have to be a private for a good while and may never [page 2] in face get any higher – while I would like very much to have him yet he might not be very well satisfied and therefore I do not like to persuade him – My Father expresses a good deal of confidence in our ability to hold Richmond – I hope he may be correct – but I am very much afraid of the burrowing propensities of McLellan. Things remain quiet there a long time. I have just heard to-day that four thousand men have been sent from here to Chattanooga. Whether more will go and when I know not. I hear also that troops have gone from Mobile up there – our Division commanded by Withers has been made a reserve Corps. So we will not be the first in a fight while we remain thus – Although the best troops are generally held in reserve I cannot say that I would like this very well were it not for the fact that in this way I will stand a better chance to get a leave of absence. I think now my chances are pretty good – but I will not be able to get more than twenty days. If I get it at all I expect to leave here about the 10th July – I will only have a short time to remain but even that will be gladly accepted – well I have given you all the news here personal & otherwise and will now write of something else. That boy of ours must be a great little fellow. and so he wants PaPa's letters and Kisses them – How I do want to see him hear him talk and see him walk – I wonder if he will get so he will know me while I am at home. I hope so I believe I want to see him almost as bad as I do my Darling. Did the poor little fellow ever get a carriage? if you ever wrote me that he did I have forgotten it. How much does he weigh? Well I hope I will soon see him and his dear MaMa too – I am very sorry to hear such news of Willie Toney – poor boy – and I feel so sorry for his family I tell you what Darling these surgeons are too fond of cutting off limbs. Should I ever be [page 3] unfortunate as to be wounded either in the leg or arm I am not going to let a surgeon cut them off without I think it necessary. I am much obliged for your suggestions about going to Mr Hudson's at Columbus – but I hope at the same time that I will keep well. I am very well and if I can miss bullets & c I think will go through the war all right I have been living well this week having had potatoes onions and black berry pies in addition to our usual fare. The weather is still very warm. we had a little rain last night and some little again to-day. It is still cloudy and I hope we will have a good deal shortly. I do not think I envy your hearing the commencement sermon. I have an idea that I would have been greatly bored. well it is after dinner and every body nearly asleep. I will lay this aside and finish to-night. Goodby God bless you my Darling wife. It is now after supper and I propose to finish this letter. I have heard this evening that there has been another terrible fight before Richmond in which we were the attacking party and that we had been successful but to what extent could not learn. I shall look anxiously for the particulars. We have so often been successful at first and then lost all the fruits of victory that I shall wait to hear more before I throw up my hat and shout hurrah! I hope we have defeated McLellan and that we will gain the fruits of the victory. The whole south would breathe freer and the wavering be strengthened and I hope the war will be made aggressive and carried into the enemy's Country. Oh! there is one thing about Willie Toney that I do not understand – How came he in our lines if the Yankees got hold of him? We have a pretty good camp here now plenty of good water &c [page 4]

our men are generally in fine health and spirits – our horses are improving and we will soon be in fine condition for a march or a fight Clayton's regiment is suffering a good deal from sickness and I heard that Mitchell's Company only turned out six men for duty a day or two ago. New men have to go through a certain amount of sickness. We have had a very little rain – but that little helped. I was much amused at your account of the visit to Mrs Rainey. They must be a powerful loving couple. I wonder how Bill ever managed to tear himself away from her loving embraces. Tell Mona she must not be getting sad and taking trouble by anticipation. That it is much better for her to be cheerful so long as Henry is all right. How does Mrs Chambers bear the absence of the Col or is she in Montgomery with him. I am very busy now. Robertson and myself are the only officers with the battery and are both kept pretty busy what an immense amount of suffering has been caused by this war – and when will it end? I believe that if McLellan is whipped before Richmond that it will postpone instead of hastening foreign intervention – certainly as far as England is concerned My idea is that Europe wishes to see a final separation of this country – but that she wants both countries to be badly used up before peace is made – hence I think England would be more apt to interfere to prevent our subjugation than any thing else – as long as we seem able to hold our own she will “let us alone.” The war I think is certain to last some years. Give my love to all the family. I think I should have Mollie's letter by this time. Keep in good spirits my Darling and try and be cheerful tell the boy to be good and kiss him for PaPa. I expect he will be spoiled with so much petting. with much love and many kisses for you & the boy I close. Your own old Dear who loves you better and better every day -

Hubert