My Dear Father,

I have just received yours and Carrie's letter. John Driver of my company starts home on furlough this evening and I write this note by him. I am happy to inform you that 31 of the 40 of my men in camp have re-enlisted, besides Lt Wood Myrick and myself. Nearly the whole of our Division has been listed. My men re-enlisted unconditionally, expressing their willing ness to abide by any thing congress says. John Driver who will hand you this started out with Hodgson in 1861, and has never had a furlough, is now only 18 years of age - has always been a good soldier and has re-entrained.

He will find some difficulty in getting home. He has only 15 days. Please help him on his way as much as you can.

If you will send him on horse back or in the one horse cart to Myrick's he will be sent from thence home, I will write you more at length this evening or tomorrow. Driver is allow fire to be off. Give Carrie a kiss. Love to all.
