

York. Loure Afd. 27. 62

Dear May

I send enclosed John's application for discharge direct, hoping that you may be able to get it through in this way. For fear however, that you may not, I have at the same time forwarded the same application through the regular channels, viz: about a Major Brigadier, Major Genl, & General or so. If you should fail in the one herewith sent, the other will, <sup>be</sup> about, perhaps, in the course of time. I applied for Crenshaw's transfer some days since but know not what has become of it. I trust you may succeed in both, for they are deserving boys & should be qualified. I congratulate you upon James' success at Shiloh.

We, or rather Genl, seem to be daily expecting a fight here, but I begin to have serious doubts of it. I have waited patiently for it, for three weeks, & am not now as sure of it as when I first arrived here. The Regt. will be reorganised tomorrow; I have determined not to serve any longer, & unless the battle here should come off soon, I may see you in Richmond. In haste yours friend very truly

Dear Maj

I send inclosed John's application for discharge direct, hoping that you may be able to get it through in this way. For fear however, that you may not, I have at the same time forwarded the same application through the regular channels, viz. about a dozen Brigadiers, Major Genls, & Generals &c. If you should fail in the one herewith sent, the other will <sup>be</sup> along perhaps, in the course of time. I applied for Crenshaw's transfer some days since, but know not what has become of it. I trust you may succeed in both; for they are deserving boys, & should be qualified. I congratulate you upon James' success at Shiloh.

We, or rather Genls, seem to be daily expecting a fight here; but I begin to have serious doubts of it. I have waited patiently for it, for three weeks, & am not now as sure of it as when I first arrived here. The Regt. will be reorganized tomorrow; I have determined not to serve any longer, & unless the battle here should come off soon, I may see you in Richmond. In haste your friend very truly
