Our Grange Department.

The Grange Reform.

It is not at all strange that the Grange movement should meet with opposition. An enterprise is hardly worth the name of reform if it does not have this. Gov. Carpenter, of Iowa, addressing, last fall, a convention of Patrons told them they must expect opposition, that they had money and talent arrayed against them, but that notwithstanding this they must go right on, trusting to the justness of their cause and the necessity that rested upon them. That if they would do all this, impediments would be swept away, and the oppressor would be left at his toll gate with a free road around it, on which the Patrons would go singing because of a free road to market and a full return for their products. All great reforms in church and state, have had to overcome great opposition, and the labor reform against the oppressions of capitalists will not be an exception. But it impresses on us of sober and persevering it will, in the end, reap the appropriate fruits. Hon. George Stephenson was opposed by the aristocracy of England, when he attempted to get leave of the parliament to lay the first railroad track on her sacred soil. "Why, it would frighten every thing to wildness; the birds would leave the island; the cows would dry up, and the hens would cease to lay; the land would be ruined, and the whole order of things would be broken up." When Mr. Stephenson was presenting his claims before parliament he was sneered at. One member said, "Well, Mr. Stephenson, see how absurd your idea is. Suppose it were possible for you to run your carriage thirty miles an hour on straight rails, so that it could not get off—what if a cow got on the track and you could not turn out for her?" "Well, my lord," said Stephenson, "it would be bad for the cow." So all reforms have met impediments, but they must get out of the way or it will be bad for them.—Ohio Farmer.

Preventing Flies From Annoying Horses.

According to Richard, a French veterinary surgeon, a simple method of preventing flies from annoying horses, consists in painting the inside of the ears, or any other part especially troubled, with a few drops of empyreumatic oil of juniper. It is said that the odor of this substance is unendurable to flies, and that they will keep at a distance from the part so anointed. If this treatment should accomplish the alleged result, it may perhaps be equally applicable in repelling musquitoes from the faces and hands of tourists and sportsmen, when passing through woods or meadows.

☞ Speaking of the declaration of the National Grange, that the Patrons of Husbandry is not a political organization, the Oskaloosa Independent says:

This declaration, if carried out, will soon rid the order of all corrupt political shysters and plunderers who have rushed into it under the supposition that they could make of it a political machine to ride them into office. We said to the grangers, last year, make it known to the political parties that you will support no bad man for office, if nominated, and thus compel all parties to put out good men for office. This is the true policy, and the national grange has emphatically declared it to be the true policy of the order. It is thus seen that we have been true to principle, while some others have not.

There are thirteen thousand Granges or organizations of farmers in this country, working together for mutual improvement. This is the tidal wave that is to prove a Red Sea disaster to many thousand political shysters and plunderers, who have, for years, worked little and stolen much. The farmers of the United States do a great thing when they rise to an endorsement of politics and devote their energies to caring for their own.

☞ When women shall have learned that devotion to an idolized man is not her only object in life, she will have advanced a long stride toward the independence she has so often craved and never possessed. To make her existence so large that loving will not monopolize it, is the secret which will make her less a plaything, and warrant her in demanding respect with affection.

☞ The County Council of Putnam county, Ind., declined to nominate their supplies at one session. Speaking of their action, the Banner says: "We are one people, with a common brotherhood, and when a single one member we endanger the whole body. The concentration of mercantile business into the hands of a few men, would be the worst kind of monopoly."

☞ The Patrons of Georgia are making arrangements to start their cotton direct to Liverpool. This is a move in the right direction, and if persisted in, will relieve the State largely from the clutches of Wall street.

☞ There are 1200 Granges, and about 2,000 Farmers' Clubs in Illinois. Who will say the Farmers' Movement is going down?

☞ The work of organizing Granges in Maine, is going on with vigor.

Blount county farmers are sowing more clover, millet, and orchard grass and to church their lands, than ever before.

To Business Men.

TO BUSINESS MEN.—A GOOD ADvertisement in a widely circulated newspaper is the best of all possible salesmen. It is almost impossible for a business man, who never advertises, and who never sees the inside of his customers' counting rooms, to keep himself informed of the fluctuations of fair and moderate prices. Experience has shown that the dealer whose wares have obtained a public celebrity, is not only enabled to sell, but is forced to sell, at reasonable rates, and to furnish a good article. A dealer can make no better investment than in advertising. Let him but keep his name before the public, and his business will increase. Let him but advertise his wares, and he will find customers. Let him but advertise his prices, and he will find buyers. Let him but advertise his terms, and he will find dealers. Let him but advertise his business, and he will find success. Let him but advertise his losses, and he will find gain. Let him but advertise his gains, and he will find losses. Let him but advertise his losses, who never does, and he never will find success. Let him but advertise his losses, who never does, and he never will find success. Let him but advertise his losses, who never does, and he never will find success

Shall the State Be Honest?

We heartily concur in the views expressed in the subjoined article, and hope that the Democratic and Conservative press in Alabama will quietly drop the whole subject.

The Mobile Register copies from the Morning News, Montgomery, and comments as follows:

The article "A Respectful Suggestion," from the Montgomery News and copied elsewhere, deserves indeed, a more than 'respectful' hearing. It very clearly shows that the question of repudiation, in its divided aspects at least, is one which it is next to impossible to present as an issue in a popular election. The general question, is, of course, not subject to this criticism; for, at least, it is simply this, "Shall the State be honest?" The divided question, however, as to which of the State securities are legal and binding and which are not, is one of law and equity, and can only be decided in the courts of justice. To this question there are two parties—the people of the State, one of them, and the holders of the State's obligations the other. Surely it cannot be fairly contended that an issue like this, involving the careful discussion of great principles of law, equity and honor, shall be submitted to an election, and especially when the voters in that election constitute only one side of the question at issue. It would be quite as fair for the bond holders to hold an election and submit the law and equity of the case to themselves. We believe with the News repudiation is not only an unsuitable but a dangerous question to engraft upon the Democratic and Conservative platform. It would be to tie a millstone around the neck of the party and to sink it with all the great realities of liberties and redemption that, cluster about its triumph, in fatal defeat. If this shall be the disastrous result of this last and best and most promising struggle for State deliverance from an unendurable tyranny, we are determined that no part of the responsibility shall lie at the door of the Register.

Our friends may depend on it, that leaving the whole subject of the bonds to their appropriate tribunals of the Legislature and the Courts, it will save much controversy in the columns of the Press, that cannot make or help any healthful issue.

Home Thrusts.

Senator Bayard in a recent speech in the Senate on Louisiana affairs struck home when he said the "question concerns Louisiana to day, but if the precedent is established it may concern New York or Massachusetts to-morrow."

Mr. Bayard sums up the whole matter of congressional duty and constitutional philosophy in the one golden sentence, that "Justice to the South is self-protection to the North."

The speech abounds in striking statements. Here is a specimen:

"Under the thin veil of a pretended republican form of government, the real government of Louisiana to-day is military force. You lift the gown of the judge, and you will find the saber of the dragoon; you enter the executive chamber, and the power there is the power of the sword, and not of the law. The government of Louisiana is to-day nothing but military power, protecting dishonest men who wear the sham robes of office."

We confine our quotations to only one sentence more, which involves a profound truth well told:

"This country cannot exist with the States of the South handed over to the rule of rapacity, ignorance, venality, and crime? Sir, as truly as that a gangrened limb will soon poison and destroy the entire human body, so will the moral, political, financial poison of an Africanized State spread throughout every member of the Union of States and sap and destroy the political health and existence of all."

Civil Rights Bill

On Thursday last, in the United States Senate, Norwood, of Georgia, made a telling speech, his first set speech. The following is the opening:

"When the morning stars first sang together, it would have been worth some dollars if the Republican party had been present. It would never have consented to the creation of man unless all should be equal and upon the same footing. Nine years ago, four millions of contented slaves were set free. The next year, they were invested with civil rights; the third year they were given the ballot, and the fourth year made rulers of men. Within that brief space of time, the negroes were made professors of Republican doctrines, and set up as rulers. History furnished no such parallel. Of the six hundred thousand Israelites, who went out from Egypt, but two were found competent to be rulers in forty years, though they were instructed by signs from the Great Creator of the Universe. The Republican party had made six hundred thousand rulers in forty minutes, without any assistance. The man and brother was taken out of the corn-field and made a Republican statesman by act of Congress. Since the Republican party has become diseased, and having robbed its Southern neighbors, is now dividing its time between philanthropy as a profession and public plunder as a trade."

A Republican Parson's Opinion of the Government.

The Rev. Dr. R. M. Hartfield, of the M. E. Church, is well known throughout the United States as a famous pulpit orator and author. At an M. E. Conference, held in New York, recently, he made a speech, in which he referred to the present Federal Government in the following terms:

"He had always been a staunch Republican, but he was sorry that the party for which he had labored so much and for whose solicitude he had spent so many sleepless nights and restless days, was now going to ruin so rapidly. Unprincipled men have taken the helm and if there is not a speedy revolution, the Government will go to destruction, hook, line, bob, sinker and all."

☞ "The people of Alabama will have the opportunity next fall of taking charge of their own state once more. The condition South Carolina is before us. Let us be wise and profit by her experience. Let us avoid her deplorable fate, before it is too late. One more victory of Radicalism in Alabama is our fate."—Says the Carrollton Alabamian.

Breakers Ahead.

That able and faithful sentinel on the watchtower of our party in Alabama, the Montgomery Advertiser, sounds the following note of alarm, which we regard as so timely and necessary, that we accord to it the leading and most prominent position in our paper, this week. We invite the attention of our readers to it. Under the above heading, the Advertiser says:

"On the faith of private, but reliable information we warn the Democrats and Conservatives of the white counties of Alabama that the Radical enemy is preparing to execute a sharp manœuvre in the approaching campaign. He proposes to nominate mixed tickets in counties of that sort—giving half the places to Democrats, and the other half to Radicals. In view of this fact, it would be well to have it understood at once that no Democrat or Conservative can lend himself to any such scheme. The moment he does so he becomes a Radical—bought and paid for as a sheep or any other soulless animal may be bought. It is quite probable that here and there a professing Democrat may be found who, in the absence of an general expression of public opinion, would be willing to sell out. Others, again, will try to pursuade themselves that they can be of some local benefit to the party by becoming a candidate on the Radical ticket. But no local advantage however great, can set off the vast injury that would result to the State from such conduct on their part. The general government is the heart of the whole political system and if that be diseased the whole system must necessarily suffer. It is the fountain from which all political and many social influences flow out through the State and if the fountain be impure the springs which feed from it cannot escape defilement. It is therefore of the first importance that the State Government be purified—the Augean stables cleansed. To this consideration all others occupy a mere secondary relation, because it will not profit the people at all to gain every county in the State if the Radicals retain control of the State Government. It will do no good to have Col. A. or Gen. B. in the office of Probate Judge if Gen. Sandrach Washington Lewis, and others of like kind are to have the manufacturing of the laws of the State. It will be a vain task to try to draw purity from the spigot while Radical State officials pour filth in at the bung hole.

Vanderbilt University.

The corner stone of this Institution was laid on the 28th ult., with imposing and appropriate ceremonies. Bishop Weightman delivered the address on the occasion. Mr. Vanderbilt has added $100,000 to his original donation. A full corps of medical and legal Professors have been appointed, and these two Departments will open their regular courses next fall; but the Board decided not to open the Biblical, and Literary and Scientific Departments of the University, until the autumn of 1875. The election of additional Professors in these last Departments, was deferred until after the adjournment of the General Conference, which is now in session in Louisville.

☞ A writer in the Huntsville Advocate, over the signature of "Alabama," is writing a series of lengthy articles in explanation and defense of the "Republican Platform for 1874." He might save both time and trouble by announcing the two cardinal principles of the party, and leaving them, without note or comment, to the judgment of the people. They are these: Down with the white man and up with the negro. Steal all you can, more to-day than you did yesterday, and more to-morrow than you did to-day, and hold on to all you get. That is the Radical political catechism in a nut-shell, and the official members of the party illustrate creed by practice in a very striking manner.

☞ It is the opinion of able and well-informed men in Washington, that the signs of the times point to the disintegration of old parties, and the formation of a new one, which will drive out corruption, and give us a good government on the basis of the constitution.

☞ One mission of the Radical party is to mongrelize the people of the United States, and especially of the South, as far as practicable. The effort is persistently made to accomplish that hideous and unnatural result, but it is destined to a final and ignominious failure. Blood is thicker than water, and race antagonisms invincible.

☞ We clip the following from the press dispatches:

WASHINGTON, May 7.

To the People of Alabama:—The President and Mrs. Grant request the pleasure of your company at the marriage of their daughter, at the Executive Mansion, on Thursday, May 21st, 1874, at 11 o'clock, a. m."

☞ The minority of the House Judiciary Committee submitted a minority report on the condition of South Carolina. It is an emphatic dissent from the report of the majority, and a powerful arraignment of the administration policy towards that down-trodden State. In the course of the report the Committee say: "For the condition of things now existing in South Carolina, the Federal Government is primarily responsible. Think it, look upon it as we may, horrible as the work of its hands may now appear, Congress set up and established the state of things that make the commonwealth of South Carolina, the foul stigma that it now is in our system."

☞ Memorial day was very generally observed throughout the South. We are glad that it was so. The memory of the men who fell the martyrs of the "Lost Cause," should never be permitted to grow dim in the hearts of our people.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The appropriation for the sufferers from the Mississippi overflow, increased to $150,000. The Arkansas question discussed in the Senate. Civil Rights bill postponed in the Senate. A long bill in relation to Circuit Courts in Alabama passed the House. Senate Committee reported a bill providing for free banking, greenback redemption, abolition of reserves to protect bank circulation and specie resumption in 1877 or 1879. Mr. Goldthwaite introduced a bill in the Senate, to aid the construction of a steamboat canal from Gadsden to Wetumpka, Ala. A bill appropriating $3,000,000 to the Centennial, under consideration in the House.

☞ Opium eating is becoming fearfully prevalent in the United States. The eaters of the drug are found among all classes. Clergymen and lawyers whose brains are overtaxed, many of the hack writers who manufacture sensation stories for the cheap newspaper press, a large number of students and Professors at our colleges, and vast numbers of nervous ladies in high station, are addicted to the practice. The Custom-house reports show that 250,000 pounds of opium are imported into this country annually, of which not more than one-third is used for medical purposes. The practice of opium eating prevails quite as extensively in the country as in the city; women are more addicted to the habit than men, and it prevails more among the higher and better educated classes, than among the poor and more ignorant. The effects of this widespread use of opium are becoming visible throughout the country, in the intellectual and physical ruin of thousands of men and women. Why do not the temperance reformers level their batteries against this gigantic and most pernicious evil, which is, in many respects, worse than intoxication from alcohol?

☞ The increase of the Patrons of Husbandry is something remarkable. The Order has already over 1300 Granges, and a membership of nearly a million. It is yet in its infancy, and is increasing with a rapidity unparalleled in the history of voluntary organizations. The influence of the Order is already felt in every department of the industrial life of the nation.

☞ The Radical party in the South was built up by enfranchising all the negroes, and disfranchising enough whites to place every Southern State in the hands of the negro leaders.—So says the Mobile Register, and its utterance is true. It was precisely in that base and lawless way, that the Radical party got a foothold in the South.

☞ L. Q. C. Lamar, a Representative in Congress from Mississippi, delivered a eulogy on Charles Sumner, a few days ago, in the hall of the House of Representatives at Washington. He spoke by invitation of the House, and delivered a glowing and eloquent panegyric upon the dead fanatic and life-long foe of the South. Lamar was an original and ultra secessionist. How came he to do this thing?

☞ We are glad to see, that the people are in motion and making preparation for the coming canvass in Alabama. County Conventions are being called or have been already held all over the State. The bugle note of preparation for the contest is ringing on the air, and the true, white men are rallying for the political redemption of the State.

☞ The Civil Rights bill, now pending in Congress, and very likely to become a law, provides, among other iniquities, that white and black children shall mingle in the public schools. Should the bill become a law, it will lead to the destruction of the University of Alabama, and the abolition of the public school system of the State. The white people of Alabama will never consent to a compulsory association of their children with the blacks. Sooner than submit to it, they will tear down, with their own hands, the University and the public schools of the State.

☞ The Macon Telegraph says: An Italian lawyer has just invented a little legal device which the Radical party should hasten to get patented. It seems that a tax-collector of Naples, absconded with public money amounting to $500,000. He was caught and tried, but the jury acquitted him on the plea of the defence that the money he had stolen was the people's money, and as he was one of the people, he was part owner of that money, and, of course, it would be monstrous to convict a man of stealing what was his own.

☞ A case has been decided by the United States Circuit Court at St. Louis establishing a principle that when a merchant sends a circular by mail offering to sell an article at a stated price, he is bound to fill an order at that price when it comes by due course of mail, unless the circular contains a reservation or a limit as to time, etc. In fluctuating articles merchants must have a care under this rule about sending such circulars.

☞ A correspondent of the Petersburg (Va.) News met Hon. A. H. Stephens on the cars, en route for his home in Georgia, when Mr. S. said: "I am going home to die. I have been a great sufferer, but this is the first time that any vital organ has been attacked. Until this my general health was better than for thirty years, but this has been terrible, and I must soon yield unless I am relieved. I hope I may recover, but I scarcely expect it. I am now 63 years of age, and my constitution will not stand such a severe test."

THE FLOOD.

No Abatement of the Waters—Suffering and Destitution on the Increase.

NEW ORLEANS, May 5.—No abatement of the waters. Edgar Frazier, manager of Bell River plantation, Assumption Parish, says in this section of the Parish, there is a population of about 1000 whites and blacks, destitute of first necessaries of life, living on rafts and house tops with no transportation of any kind, and nearest land twenty miles distant. All their cattle and horses are drowned and the waters still rising about six inches in 24 hours. Mrs. S. A. Briggs, writing from Hespena plantation, Marish, says: Permit me to call your attention to the sufferings of freedmen on my plantation, 110 in number. We are submerged; merchants not extending credit; provisions are exhausted and stock destroyed. Women and children come to me and I am without means to help them or myself.

To the Members of the Alabama Press Association.

The annual meeting of the Alabama Press Association will commence on Tuesday, the 19th inst., at Birmingham. Members of the Association will come prepared to pay their annual dues. A cordial invitation is extended to the press of the State to join the Association.

A full attendance of the Associations of New York, Georgia and Tennessee is expected and many ladies with them. Birmingham has extended the hospitalities of the city to the entire assemblage, and we sincerely hope that the attendance of the Association will be very large.—The Press of the State will please copy.

SEABORN J. SAFFOLD,
Pres't, Ala. Press Association.

The President not an Habitual Drunkard.

Donn Piatt, in the Capital, thus vindicates General Grant: "We meet the president almost daily as we pass the Executive mansion going to and from our office, and while his countenance is not that of a teetotal Jonadab or Dashaway in good standing there is nothing in his manner to indicate the frightful excess with which he is charged. He looks to us like a bon vivant who puts himself outside of a bottle or so at dinnar, and retires at night in a happy state of elevation that is as far from sobriety as it is from drunkenness."

A Correct Idea well Expressed.

We would appeal to the good men of the State—to religious men, the deacons and elders, the ministers and laymen—to resolve to do their full duty as citizens in the approaching canvass. They need not, and should not, descend into the dirty depths of politics, but it is a duty which they and all others owe to the community of which they are members, to give their influence and their votes in behalf of pure and honest government. No man has a moral right to close his lips and withhold his ballot when the interests of his State are at stake, but if he does do it, still less right has he to complain if others carry the State to destruction.—Greenville Advocate.

Exchanges Free.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The bill that passed the House by a vote of 178 yeas against 41 nays, is in text as follows:

That from and after the passage of this act the following matter shall be allowed to pass the mail free: 1st. Newspapers, periodicals and magazines reciprocally interchanged between publishers, and not exceeding sixteen ounces in weight, to be confined to a single copy of each publication; 2d. Newspapers, one copy to each actual subscriber residing or receiving the same within the county where the same is published, but carriers shall not be required to distribute such papers unless postage is paid on them at the usual rates.

The First Colored Man in the Speaker's Chair.

On the Indian Appropriation Bill, Speaker Blaine called Mr. Ranney, from South Carolina to the chair in the committee of the whole. This is the first time in the history of the Government that a colored man has occupied the chair in the House of Representatives. With a colored man in the chair, a number of white members on the floor were speaking in favor of civil rights for the Indians.

☞ Hon. R. M. T. Hunter, the new State Treasurer of Virginia, was born in April, 1806, in Essex county. He was educated at the Virginia University; came to the bar in his twenty-first year; served three years in the State Legislature; went to Congress in 1837, and served two terms; was again elected in 1845, and was speaker of the House; and was a United States Senator from 1847 to 1861. During the war he was in the Confederate Congress, and was also Secretary of State.

☞ The Henry county Register, can go head. Read, ye rabbit hunters:

A party went out on a rabbit hunt below here, near Mr. Daniel Gordon's plantation, one day last week, and succeeded in killing one hundred and forty-three! Besides the rabbits—or more properly, hares—they also killed eleven opossums and one wild cat. It is said that if one of the party, (Mr. Hiram Johnson) had not drawn off from the rabbits and gone in quest of opossums, there is no telling how many rabbits would have been killed, as he was the best rabbit hunter in the crowd.

☞ We understand that a movement is on foot, in our city, to call a Convention of the Lawyers throughout the State some time in the summer. The objects of the Convention are:

1st. To suggest changes in existing laws.

2d. To suggest the enactment of such general laws as may afford better protection to person and property.

3d. To suggest rules of practice in the several courts, better calculated to reduce the expense of litigation, and more speedily attain the ends of justice.

4th. To declare a code of legal ethics, and to adopt measures for the purpose of enforcing the same.—Selma Times.

☞ The celebrated onyx, and the equally famous gem which formed part of Mary Stuart's signet-ring, are included in the collection which the duke of Brunswick is to receive from his late brother.

Thirteen hundred Chinamen have been set to work on a narrow gauge railroad in California. Their bosses say that they do more work and less fighting, in a given period, than the average railroad laborer.

A famine is prevailing in Turkey, in Asia, it is stated that 100 persons die daily, from starvation, in Angora. The river Tigress is greatly swollen, and an inundation is feared.

The Waterbury American sees the point: "There is no use," it remarks, "of attempting to cover corruption and political chicanery with nice words.—The Republican party has got to reform or burst, and there is no use of attempting to shirk the truth."

The Eufaula "News" says the corn crop in that section, is very fine, and that the cot crop throughout Southeast Alabama and Southwestern Georgia, is unprecedentedly large, and as fine as could be desired.

President Grant is credited with a sharp thrust at Sumner's well known egotism. Some one charged, in the presence of Grant, that Sumner had no faith in the Bible. "Why should Sumner have faith in the Bible?" said Grant—"he didn't write it."

In the Yuba county Hospital, Cal., interesting experiment have been made with a magnet for the cure of rheumatism and paralysis. A large horseshoe magnet is used, and one case of paralysis has been almost cured, and several cases of chronic rheumatism relieved.

The land of sun and flowers is diversifying her industry. "The Florida Orange Champagne" is the latest. A cool, refreshing drink, manufactured from the pure fermented juice of the Florida Bigarade Orange. It is said to be specially adapted for invalids, retaining the delicious aroma and invaluable tonic properties of the fruit.

A check for $60,000 was recently handed the inventor of metallic tips for childrens shoes in payment of his share in a release of the patent, which he had originally sold for $100; now, with such encouragement as this, why can't he win the everlasting gratitude of mothers by inventing some kind of brass knee plates for little boys trousers?

☞ The New York Tribune makes this point: "As placed before the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives by the Tax payers' delegates, the condition of South Carolina is just this: The total value of property has steadily and enormously decreased since the end of the Rebellion; the expenses of the Government are excessive, the presumption being that most of the revenue is stolen by men in power; these men are kept in office by the votes of people who do not pay taxes; the tax-payers have no representation in the Government; taxation amounts to confiscation. It is asked of Congress that a Committee of Investigation be sent to inquire into this state of facts, which, if established, would prove that there is no Republican Government in South Carolina. The case is very strongly put.

☞ The Montgomery Republican, (Radical,) contains the following in its last issue: "Wanted—Information as to how much money the honest, earnest, faithful Representative in Congress, Bonnie-Blue-Flag White received from the United States Treasury for prosecuting Dr. Heflin, upon a charge of being a kuklux, but whom he failed to convict? The bill presented for the approval of Judge Busteed was, we understand, $5,000 The Judge could not see it, and refused to put his official signature to such a swindle as this.

☞ The Montgomery News reports the arrival in its city of an old gentleman from Mississippi, named Burt, on his way to Bear Creek, Georgia, to visit his brother, whom he has not seen for seventy years. When they parted in Georgia, one was aged 15 and the other 9 years.

☞ An editor, who speaks with the air of a man who has discovered a fact by experience, says the new way to prevent bleeding at the nose is to keep your nose out of other people's business.

☞ Charles Dickens once said: The first Napoleon caused more deaths than all the earthquakes since the days of Noah; the cupidity of ship-owners, and the supineness of sailors, have lost more ships and lives than all the storms that ever blew; the filthy condition of cities sends more souls to Hades than both put together. Plague, Pestilence, War and Famine yield to dirt.

☞ The past season has been harder in New York than any the city has known for thirty years, and real estate is feeling it severely, with little prospect of improvement.

☞ The distress is more widespread in Louisiana, than was at first anticipated. The Mayor of New Orleans sent telegrams to Washington, on the 4th inst., and Ex-Gov. Herbert is about to issue an address to the people of the United States, in behalf of the sufferers.

☞ The Patrons of Husbandry, of Brownsville, Mo., are making a move toward securing the location of the State Grange manufactory at that place.

CREMATION.—Now that the subject of cremation is being agitated in this country, it may be of interest to persons desiring to engage in the business, to know that a Leipzig professor has invented a furnace which, he claims, will "do up" a body in the most satisfactory manner, in twenty minutes, at the outside, and for the surprising small sum of nine shillings per corpse. ☞ The tax payers of this county can now begin to see in what direction the money collected from them since the reign of African intelligence and credulity began, has gone. In less than six years the enormous sum of $22,000 has been paid out for stationery, when one-fourth that sum in the olden times would have been considered an extravagant outlay. One fortunate individual, who is a member of the Board of County Commissions, besides being the holder of one or more offices, is paid at the rate of $1,000 a year to look after the work done by four convicts who are to do hard labor for the county. Two mules used by those convicts are the best treated in the world, for they receive $700 worth of corn in one year besides hay and oats without limit.

Montgomery Advertiser.

☞ More than 10,000 square miles of the most productive lands of Louisiana are submerged, placing it almost beyond the power of human calculation to approximate the great damage. Many families have been forced to flee with only the clothing they wore on their backs, by the sudden breaking of the levees. All efforts to stay the irresistible waters have proved utterly futile in many places, and only of temporary benefit anywhere.

☞ An orange tree in vigorous growth yields from 500 to 2,000 oranges every year. In the Mediterranean countries, where orange culture has become, within a few years, an important business, the oranges are gathered in baskets lined with canvas. They are carefully examined by women, and all that are wanting in stems are thrown out. The pickers get from 9 to 15 cents a day.

Administrator's Sale.

P. E. Brady, Administrator of Pat. Brady, dec'd., advertises in another column, a sale of the Personal Property of the Estate of the latter, on the 30th of May.

☞ A Piano for sale, seven octaves. Will be sold cheap. Apply at the Times Office.

☞ The May number of the "Southern Cultivator" is before our table, filled with its usual interesting miscellany of reading matter in relation to the plantation, the garden, and the family circle.

☞ J. Hanaman & Son have again opened their Ice Soda Fount, for the season. We sampled a glass of it, and pronounced it delicious. We advise a call.

☞ SNOW & Co., have an unusually good stock of Dress Goods, and their prices are low.

☞ Mrs. Mary Chase, wife of R. H. Chase, Esq., of Linden, died on the night of the 3d inst. She was a daughter of the late Thos. J. Burke, and well known to our citizens.

☞ Among the non-resident lawyers in attendance on the session of the Circuit Court, during the past week, we noticed Robert Crawford, Esqrs., of Eutaw; and Col. E. J. Jolly, of Birmingham.

☞ Mrs. John Hart Foster, daughter of Hon. S. C. Hart, of this city, died at Milan, Tennessee, on yesterday, the 12th instant.

☞ Col. J. W. A. Wright, of Clarke, was in the city during the week, and honored us with a call—Courtesy first, for the last eighteen years, and is quite prominent in the Grange movement. He wrote the platform of the National Grange, which has attracted so much attention for its ability and singular perspicuity in the enunciation of the principles of the Order. The Patrons of Clarke are noted for their hearty.

☞ It will be seen by his card, which we publish this week, that a worthy gentleman and good citizen, consents to the use of his name as a candidate for County Commissioner. The people of this County know him well, and they know that he would make a most valuable and efficient officer. They are determined to have him elected, and we hope they will not be disappointed.

☞ John Chasnoix.

We publish this week, that a worthy gentleman and good citizen, consents to the use of his name as a candidate for County Commissioner. The people of this County know him well, and they know that he would make a most valuable and efficient officer. They are determined to have him elected, and we hope they will not be disappointed.

☞ Mrs. SMALLWOOD will open her Millinery, on Monday, March 30th, 1874, cheap for cash.

☞ R. & E. Palmer & Co. offer on with-read the advertisement of this firm—"another coldfirm"—which they advise you not to fail to do, for you will see that they have introduced several important changes in it, this week. They are determined not to be outdone, or even equalled, in this section, in the sale of first class articles at their low, at which range a little above cost. They are doing a rushing business, and putting down the prices of commodities of prime necessity, to rates so low that they are astonishing all who have heard of them. Their sales are large, are rapidly increasing, and the firm is worthy of success, and the confidence of the people.

☞ We are authorized to announce Hon. B. B. Lewis, of this city, as a candidate for Governor, at large, and a candidate for Congress, in this district

Valuable Real Estate
FOR SALE.

THE undersigned, desiring to withdraw from active business pursuits, offers for sale his Houses, Lots, and Real Estate of every description, situate and lying in this city and its vicinity. The list of the property which he thus offers for sale includes, besides many smaller buildings, lots and parcels of land, the following leading bodies of land & Buildings:

1st. A Tract of Land containing 2,800 acres, all in one body, lying about three miles South East of the City of Tuscaloosa. About 1,200 acres of this land are cleared, suitably enclosed, and fit for cultivation; the remaining 1,600 acres are well timbered. There are two good wells on the place, and three unfailing branches or creeks run through it, furnishing an abundant supply of water, for stock, at all seasons.

2nd. About 24 acres of land, situate within three or four hundred yards of the Railroad Depot. There are five or six houses, several good wells, and other conveniences on this land.

3d. About 80 acres of land, on the North Port side of the river, beginning at the north end of the bridge, and running up both sides of 3 ridge Street, as that place.

4th. The large new building, erected on the site of the old "Washington Hall," and now occupied by Messrs Friedman & Loveman, merchants, and known as the "Atlanta Store." This building has been leased for five years to Messrs. Friedman & Loveman, near one year of the time having expired, and it will be sold subject to a reservation of the rights of the lessees.

5th. The large brick building now occupied by Mr. Hudgins, as a Grocery Merchant, and by Mr. Blair, as Post Master. The former has an unexpired lease of nearly four years, and the latter, a lease of nearly two years, which will be adequately protected in the sale.—There are three smaller Stores, lying north of the main building and attached to it, which will be sold with the lot and larger building.

6th. The Oak City Hotel, of which the present incumbent, Mr. Miller, has an unexpired lease of over a year, that will be protected in the sale.

7th. The four Stores on the South side of Main Street, and immediately opposite the Atlanta Store. These Stores have been leased for the present year, and will be sold subject to the rights of the lessees.

8th. A number of vacant lots in the centre of the town, suitable for building purposes.

All the above described property is in excellent repair, and the titles good beyond dispute. The buildings above enumerated, are situated in the central and business portion of the town.

☞ Persons desiring to purchase any of the above described parcels of land, or buildings, must apply to the undersigned by correspondence, or by personal interview.

STEPHEN MILLER.

NEW GOODS!

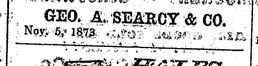
GEO. A. SEARCY & CO.

Nov. 5, 1873.



Every year increases the popularity of this valuable Hair Preparation; which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard; and it is the only reliable and perfected preparation for restoring GRAY OR FADED HAIR to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and silken. The scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean. It removes all eruptions and dandruff, and, by its tonic properties, prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimulates and nourishes the hair-glands. By its use, the hair grows thicker and stronger. In baldness, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth, except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR DRESSING ever used, as it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair a splendid, glossy appearance. A. A. Hayes, M.D., State Assayer of Massachusetts, says, "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes."

Sold by all Druggists, and Dealers in Medicines.

Price One Dollar.

Buckingham's Dye
FOR THE WHISKERS.

As our Renewer in many cases requires too long a time, and too much care, to restore gray or faded Whiskers, we have prepared this dye, in one preparation; which will quickly and effectually accomplish this result. It is easily applied, and produces a color which will neither rub nor wash off. Sold by all Druggists. Price Fifty Cents.
