[Memphis Appeal.]
A MISSISSIPPI WOMAN IN BOSTON.

MORAL LIGHTHOUSE, March 4, 1874.
DEAR AVALANCHE—A six months journey in the Hub has developed in me a yearning love for the land that I thought particularly dull, until I got away from it; and it is with feelings of peculiar delight that I open a Southern correspondence through your columns.

As a rule, the people born the other side of Mason and Dixon's line do not meander as far north as this; hence, I am a sort of terra avis, and owe a certain social distinction to my Southern birth, for which I am duly grateful, as the conditions of success in this city are not easy of attainment. For the native Bostonian there are three paths to glory. If his name be Quincy or Adams, nothing more is expected of him. His blue blood carries him through life with glory and straight to heaven when he dies, not a question being asked by the fishermen who keep the golden keys when his card of introduction is handed in. Failing in the happy incident of birth, the candidate for Beacon Hill honors must write a book. This is easy. The man who can breathe Boston air and not write a book is either a fool or a phenomenon. One course remains to him should he miss fame in both these lines. It must be a reformer. Nothing must be too huge for him to tackle, or too wild for him to advocate.

As for me, it is considered my misfortune, rather than my fault, that I have not had the advantages of Boston birth and culture, and I am treated with distinguished consideration, although the South is not in good odor here. All the glory of whipping is as never quite compensative for our years of past luxury and ease, and scorn of Yankee "thrift." And so, as a Southern Representative, they take it out on me. I am pounced upon by the people with "views," and forced to battle for my country in a way that is pretty, but not convincing, for the fatal element in the character of the Bostonians is that you can't teach them anything. What they don't know isn't worth being known. There is no subject connected with the heavens above or the earth beneath that they have not sounded with their plummet lines and touched its bottom. When people get this far along there is no hope for them in any earthly teachings; and I rather think it will go hard with them to have to play second fiddle in heaven.

"If I had been God," said a serene matron to me not long since—she rejoiced in two hundred pounds avoirdupois and a "sensitive soul"—"If I had been God, I could have arranged the world on a much better plan. In the matter of death, for instance, how much nicer it would be for people to exhale, or dry up, or something, than to become all worms—bah!" And her aristocratic nose took on upward tendency copied after Edwin Booth's Hamlet in the grave digging scene.

I endeavored to console her by a suggestion of the immense benefit she would be to her native land as a fertilizer; that millions yet unborn would taste her sweetness in various vegetable forms, but finding that she still harped upon the worms, I advocated burning as especially suited to her case, as there was something sweetly poetic in the thought that she might have herself gathered together in small urns with the inscription suitable to the various parts of the collection to be retained among her friends as ornaments and souvenirs. She seemed quite struck by my remark, which pleased me much, as it is not often that these profound thinkers receive my ideas favorably. They set traps for me. They ask me about the South, and I branch out into rosy descriptions of Mardi Gras and other elegancies. They listen eagerly until I get through, when they sorrowfully sigh, "Yes, yes; such is Southern existence! Shows and pageants! No conception of the true uses of life!"

And then they turn upon me with startling statistics, and abstruse speculations, and blood-curdling theories, until my Southern brain whirls, and I long for the wings of a dove, that I might flee away and be at rest. But it is a vain desire, for it is so delicious to those reformers to meet a person who has not planned out a better universe on her own account, that I am prayed upon on all sides as a possible convert, and my life is a burden from my frantic attempts to comprehend how these things are. I used to argue; but dear me! I soon gave that up, being whipped out ignominiously early in the action. These people have a way of talking about the infinite, and looking into the cause of things, that is enough to bleach the hair of an outsider who tries to keep the peace. "Can you tell me," said a lady on the wry-curl order, "the difference in time between New York and Liverpool?"

I was a stranger, young and unsuspecting. I was glad of an opportunity of showing the extent of my information, and so I dimpled all with smiles, and said, that when noon in New York it was about 4 o'clock in Liverpool. Then like the ancient Mariner, did she fix me with her glittering eye, and in sepulchral tones, "How do you know?" said she.

The shock of the question—the glassy triumph of her eye—staggered me. Four of my five wits went halting off. "Why—because—" I gasped. She feebly stifled in her chair. "Just as I supposed," she said, in an aside to a kindred spirit. "Southern you know. Effects of the system."

Then the iron entered my soul, and I folded my shawl like the Arabs, and silently stole away.

Since that time I have been very meek.

"Do you know," said a patronizing young preacher, who had just told me with a swelling air of triumph that he had uttered the profoundest thought of the century, in a book that was to hand his name (the name of Jones) down to eternal fame, "do you know what oxygen and hydrogen are?"

I was not to be caught again. I modestly replied that I had a vague idea—but as faint and glimmering as the light shining through a thousand feet of brick.

"Never mind, never mind!" said he, with an aggravating kind of patting me on the head air, "I know that Mississippi and Massachusetts are long way apart." (Mississippi, you know, is the wretched State that is a hail from. "But a better time is coming," continued he cheerily. "I expect to live to see New England civilization permeate even the South, and make it a new earth."

Said Miss Alcott to me: "I like you Southern women; they are very pretty and refined and well bred, but do you know they always seemed to me like dressed up dolls!"

From the Baltimore Gazette.
RETRIBUTION.
BALTIMORE AND THE SOUTH.
The failure of Philadelphia to secure a Federal appropriation for the Centennial has a moral which it is our imperative duty, as a Southern journalist, to point with emphasis. We do so in no undue asperity or unkindness, but simply as a duty to historical truth.

So far as relates to the "Centennial," our columns attest thorough and complete sympathy. We have always thought and think still that Congress will ultimately be enjoined or worried into doing something. Thus far it has refused, but perhaps it will do so yet.

Be that as it may, it is with the actual, adverse decision we have to deal, and with the motives and influences which brought it about, Philadelphia has suffered at the hands of those it had a right to think would be its friends, and of those who through her own folly and fanaticism, have been alienated from her. Bitter opposition comes from New England, and we read that the South, almost to a man, withheld its support on the ground that, until there was amnesty and perfect reconciliation, it is mockery to talk of national harmony and sympathy in the face of the Christian world. So cogent is this adverse reasoning that we note—almost with a smile—that Senator Cameron, who like Mr. Gilpin, when he saw the customer come in, "has a frugal mind," has introduced promptly an amnesty bill.

In view of the past, recent and remote, we are bound to say that the attitude of the South, not resentfully, but justly, takes towards what was once known as the city of "Brotherly Love," is most natural. Let us look at it for a moment. In old ante bellum times, if there was any community devoted, in fact obsequious, to the South, it was Philadelphia. We of Baltimore were far less demonstrative. It was so socially and politically. Her great medical schools were filled from the South. Her faculty were recruited thence—Chapman, Mitchell, Gibson, Mütter, Horner, Dunglison, Rogers and Dickson, were all from the South.

Boarding schools were filled by Southern girls. A well known row of brick houses—the Summer home of the Iards and Deas, and Magoigaults, and Draytons, was named "South Carolina." Into the lap of Philadelphia, Southern wealth was liberally poured. Politically it was the same thing. Nowhere, by its local magistracy first, and afterwards by Federal authority, was the Fugitive Slave law more rigorously enforced. That now eminent Radical, Mr. B. H. Brewster, George's first Attorney General, and George Alberti, were always on hand with writs and handcuffs, and Mr. Ingraham's process ready. Under a thundering charge from Judge Grier, Castner Hanway was indicted for high treason, and the Cumberland Abolitionists mulcted in damages. When a hall was built for free discussion, and sporadic negroes sat on a platform with whites, it was mobbed, and merchants and traders applauding, burned it to the ground.

In 1856, when John Brown's raid occurred, proslavery Philadelphia was stirred to the heart of hearts, and prospective "Leaguers" and war-mongers in spirit, danced joyously round the Charleston gibbet. It was the centre of the popularity of Henry Clay, author of the second fugitive slave law, and never and nowhere was Mr. Webster more honored than after his 5th of March speech in its favor. Such, for more than a half century, was Philadelphia, and to Philadelphia, as of yore, the South, in its hour of trial, had a right to look, if not for sympathy, certainly for gentle judgment. It was hoped that "neither heat, nor frost, nor thunder," would wholly do away "marks of that which once had been." Alas! it was a snare and a delusion.

No city of the North, not even Boston, rushed into the war with more ferocity than did Philadelphia. Nowhere, except in Baltimore, was there so much social intolerance and persecution. Nowhere was society more completely dislocated. Eminent and perfectly patriotic citizens were proscribed and insulted. Senator Bayard the elder, was mobbed, the two Mr. Ingersolls beaten and causelessly imprisoned, one of them narrowly escaping death. It was the perfect carnival of fanaticism. And over all (and this made it so much worse) the spirit of lucre, fostered in the ultra-protection hot-bed, predominated. It was the great centre of contracts and all sorts of jobbery. From his lair the old lion of protection sent his growls, or viciously preached through the throat of blatant Kelley, or piped gently through the milder organs of his colleague; There lived and reigned, and there still live and reign, those eminent manufacturers of chloroform and quinine who, not content with prohibitory duties, had medicines made contraband of war so as to enhance prices by smuggling. Many a poor Confederate soldier died in agony because Powers and Weightman and Rosengarten were loyal. Now all this, and more had we time to tell it, is simple truth, to which we challenge contradiction. With this memory, so sad, so fresh, with nothing done in the way of amnesty to wash it away, is it to be wondered at that Philadelphia's victim, wounded, crippled, plundered, harassed, poor, almost in rags, should totter to its feet and sternly ask why we should be called upon to vote for a gratuity of three millions of dollars to Philadelphia? We repeat, much as we regret the result, it does seem to us just now the most natural thing in the world.

Our Dormant Energies.

Our bodies are not as vigorous nor our minds as clear as they might be. This remark is true of at least two-thirds of civilized society, and of these two-thirds probably one-half is laboring under bodily infirmities of a character likely to shorten the term of life. This is a melancholy exhibit and furnishes abundant food for reflection. Can the evil be mitigated? I can lack of vitality is the primary cause of most of the physical and mental suffering to which we are subjected, and therefore a vitalizing medical agent is the remedy required. Is there such a medicine? There is. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will rouse and energize the mind and body when the life power of the system is in a comparatively dormant state. The languid, feeble, desponding invalid is not aware of the latent energies that underlies his debility. He thinks there is no element of vigor left in his frame, when the fact is that his physical capabilities are merely asleep and only require waking up. Let him stimulate and tone his animal machinery and endow it with new motive power, through the agency of this incomparable invigorant, and he will soon feel like a new man, or rather like a man who has received a new lease of life, and the requisite health to "enjoy it." Many business men suffer from chronic languor and depression caused by too close application to business. Hard students are often oppressed with melancholy from a like cause. Mechanics and working men are affected in the same way as a result of overlabor. To all who are in this condition, from whatever cause, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will prove a signal blessing. It is a perfect panacea for physical debility and mental gloom. It strengthens the body, clears the mind and calms the nervous system, while as a remedy for indigestion, biliousness, constipation, rheumatism, and remittent fevers, it takes precedence of all other medicines.

Our Reporter says that the following conversation between a stranger and a citizen of this county is made up as correctly as he could do it from his memory and short notes made at the time. Sometimes he may have failed to report the words, but has never lost sight of the ideas. He designates stranger by S., and citizen by C.

S. Now many Radicals have you in this county?

C. I don't know exactly, but about 200 white Radicals and about 800 negro Radicals.

S. How many anti-Radical voters have you in the county?

C. About 1700, I believe.

S. The Radicals then have no chance of electing any of your county officers?

C. Yes, if things remain as they are now the Radicals will probably elect every one of our county officers.

S. How can that be? Don't your people know how racially and corrupt the Radical party is? Don't they know that the Radicals have undermined the liberties of this country, that it has broken down all the balances and safeguards of government, and that Radicalism is but another name for ruin and misrule?

Of course no one blames the negroes for being Radicals, for they are ignorant and you can't teach them, then could you teach white men in so short a time, the hard lessons of liberty and good government. But is it possible that the white men of your county will allow the negroes, who are so nearly the whole of the Radical party, to elect the officers who are to administer the affairs of your county?

C. Yes, our white people know what the Radical party has done and is still doing; but the county is full of anti-Radical candidates for the several offices. Every anti-Radical candidate is, of course, a popular man, and some of them at least, expect to get, and, in fact, I suppose, have got promised to them a good many negro votes; but one and all of the anti-Radical candidates believe that they will be elected, and so they go. The anti-Radical party is without organization—it is a mob, and a mob broken into squads. The Radical party is compact and will come very near casting its whole vote, and with here and there an exception, for the Radical candidates. So you see how it will work out—the Radicals can out vote the anti-Radicals for each office.

S. Are any of the Radical candidates "persons of a previous condition?"

C. No, I believe not—Two or three "colored gentlemen" have announced themselves as candidates, but I don't think the white Radicals recognize them as party candidates. On the contrary, I believe that the impression is tried to be made upon the negro voters that the getting out one or more "colored" candidates is a "Democratic trick." No one I suppose, believes that the white Radicals intend to support a negro for any office in this county. They want the negro votes but they want all the offices too.

S. Why don't the anti-Radical white people of the county have a convention to nominate one candidate for each office?

C. O, well there is not much use in trying to answer the question. My idea about the matter, however, is that men who wanted office and who believed that they could get a nominal nation, but they could be elected as independent candidates by a minority of their own party and voters from the other party, have caused a great hue and cry amongst themselves who are honest and sensible enough to send as their delegates to a county convention is to knock all the underpinning, foundation and braces from under the theory of a representative government. But the truth is that some of the people attend a primary meeting, vote for what they want and their delegates to the convention, then those who stand at home cry out, if everything is not done according to their notions, "conventions," "packed conventions," "rings," and all that sort of thing.

C. What you say is true but the anti-convention men in this county are set like the teeth of a saw—and a whip-saw is too in the hands of the Radical party. The very next thing to being a Radical is to put Radicals in office and that is just what the anti-convention—whip-saw men are about to do. They certainly don't intend to be, but they really are aiders and abettors of the Radical party. If every body in the county belonged to one party, the "let every man run that wants to run" policy would be first rate sense, but as there is a Radical party in the county the "let every body run" policy, does not rise to the dignity of idiosyncrasy. Objections can be found to any plan for selecting candidates, but no plan is so detestable as having Radicals in office.

S. But what are you in favor of doing?

C. I am in favor of trying a county convention in spite of Radicals and whip-saw men, for an anti-Radical convention can't be so packed in this county that I wouldn't prefer its nominees to the candidates of the Radical party.

S. But suppose nothing can be done and the "every body run that wants to run" policy prevails, what have you further to say?

C. Nothing, and "I stand in coldst expectation."

"And do arm myself To welcome the condition of the times, Which cannot look more hideously upon me, Than I have drawn it in my fantasy."

Our Reporter says that he felt very much ashamed that a stranger should have to tell that there were any white Radicals in this county and that he was mortified too at what was said about wh p-saw men, and that he apologized to the stranger as well as he could and was trying to assure him, and himself too, that Lauderdale would redeem her vanished honors and restore herself into the good thoughts of the world again when the citizen who is sort of a kinsman of our Reporter, turned sharply upon him and said, "Peace, cousin, say no more."

"NO CIVIL RIGHTS FOR US."

Messrs. Editors:—As an humble, though zealous member of the great Democratic party, I have frequently noted the fact that our struggles, since the close of the recent war, have been conducted almost entirely upon the defensive system of tactics. In order to secure our full and complete return to the Union, of which the Radical party, when it suited their purposes, declared we had always been members, we have been compelled either to unwillingly endorse or patiently acquiesce in all the outrages and wrongs which a bitter and merciless majority has devised, under the guise of Constitutional amendments, as well as the illegal legislation enacted under cloak of the same. Indeed, so anxious have we been once more to obtain peace and quiet for our oppressed section, that we supported, for the Presidency, only two years ago, one of our life-long persecutors, merely because he and his friends showed public symptoms of a desire to do us at least some degree of justice.

This course may have been wisely pursued in the past. Of that let us not argue. But, at any rate, methinks the time has now come, when we must, at all hazards, change our policy and commence an offensive, aggressive mode of warfare. Experience has proven how vain and futile are all our attempts at conciliation and compromise. Every step taken in this direction has but served to encourage and embitter our antagonists. They still disregard our pleadings and whet their knives anew.

Most fortunately for us, at this juncture, a golden opportunity is offered to "carry the war into Africa." The infamous Civil Rights Bill, which has lately passed the Senate of the United States by an almost strict party vote, and which will doubtless be endorsed by a House, more than two-thirds Radical, and approved by Ulysses the First, furnishes a text from which we can, if we will, pronounce the funeral discourse of the Radical party in this nation. It is useless for me to enter into the details of this loathsome bill, so familiar to all reading men, and which is simply an attempt to degrade thirty-four millions of white people to the social level of five millions of blacks. Some of the enthusiastic and ignorant negroes vainly imagine that its tendency will be to elevate their status. Misguided creatures! It is the death-knell of their fondest hopes. Their pretended friends, from motives of temporary political expediency, have adopted a line of policy whose only effect can be to array the great mass of white men against them, in one solid phalanx.

What rights does the negro claim?—How now has the right to acquire and hold property, to vote and hold office; to bear arms and serve on juries, to send his children to the free schools, which are supported by taxes paid by white men. In all these, as well as the protection of his person and the security of his liberty, the present laws form a strong bulwark around him. And yet, under the lead of designing political knaves and tricksters, he is willing to risk the loss of what he now possesses, for the abstract right to eat at a first-class hotel-table, take his "whiskey straight" at a marble bar, and send his children to the same school with those of his white neighbor, little reflecting that that white neighbor, by a stoppage of "the sinews of war," will soon close the school altogether, when forced to such a course.

To show the insincerity and meanness of those Northern politicians who have been the foremost advocates of this accursed measure, which, though styled one of Civil Rights, is really one of uncivil wrongs, let me give a few figures from the census-tables of 1870. One would think, from the zeal which these gentry display in behalf of negro equality, that their own frigid homes were blessed with at least a fair "proportion of the negroes of the United States, but figures will very soon prove that their only aim is to consolidate the black vote of the South in their behalf.

In 1870, the whole number of negroes in the United States was 4,886,387, of whom only 311,127 were living in what, before the war, were known as the Free States, and the Territories, leaving to the former slave States and the District of Columbia 4,545,260, or more than 93 per cent. of the whole. Either of the States of Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina or Virginia has more negro inhabitants than all the Free States. The State of Massachusetts, from which came Charles Sumner, the father of this monstrous—the only offspring of which he could claim the paternity—and from which chain Senator Boutwell, one of its most offensive advocates, has 13,947 negroes within its borders. There are 59 counties in the 8-Union States, either one of which has more negroes than the whole State of Plymouth Rock and Boston. Again, in the Free States, exclusive of the Territories, there are 182 counties in which there are no negroes, 161 counties having less than 10, and only 151 counties having more than 500. Your own county of Lauderdale has 5,179 negroes, more than the States of Maine, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Hampshire, Oregon, and Vermont combined. And there are only five counties in the Free States which have more negroes than Lauderdale has, whilst in the State of Alabama alone there are 28 counties whose black population is greater than hers. The six New England States, the hot-bed of all the foulisms and dogmas that have harassed, corrupted and bedevilled this country since that sad day on which the Mayflower touched the American shore, have only 31,705 negroes—Dallas county, Alabama, has nearly 500 more negroes than they, and Montgomery county only 420 less.

These startling figures, and many others which I could give, show that this thing of "equality of races" is, to the Northern demagogue who advocates it, a mere abstraction, a feeble airy nothingness, so far as it affects him and his people, whilst, to the South, it is a Pandora's box of unmixing, unmitigated evils and curses.

Towards the negro, I have none but the kindest, most sympathetic feelings. In his right to freedom, the ballot, the free school, and the full protection of the law, I am willing to see him stand as he now does, simply sheltered and secured. But, when he claims an equality, socially, then, remembering, like our gallant Tamm, that "blood is thicker than water," I cannot and will not forget that I am a white man!

This unjust and insulting legislation will not drive thousands of good and pure white men, both North and South, from the ranks of the Radical party. Senator Brownlow has already predicted its effect in Tennessee. Elsewhere, it will be the same. Is it not, then, our duty, in the advance fast approaching, to force from the writers and speakers of this party, an avowal of their views on this question? Let us not rest content with vague uncertainties and generalities, but compel them to state unequivocally their position as to the subjects of negro juries, mixed hotels, spotted railroad-cars and steamboat-saloons, and mixed schools. Drive them to this issue, and keep them there.

I have already written more than was my intention. If these hasty scribbles are by you deemed worthy of publication, I shall hereafter endeavor to show some of the terrible effects upon the best interests of both races at the South, of this, one of the most atrocious crimes that was ever perpetrated in the name of fair Liberty.

The directors of the North Alabama Agricultural and Mechanical Association met yesterday and determined to hold another exhibition at the old grounds.

And now our Alabama Editors have gone on a tour with their New York brethren. "Things are done on such a prodigious scale in this country."

We again call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Capt. Andrew Brown, Watchmaker and Jeweler. Capt. B. is too well and favorably known to this people of this community to need commendation at our hands.

The following are the officers for the ensuing year, of Florence Lodge, No. 14, A. F. & A. M.
H. W. Sample, W. M.; S. J. Bowen, S. W.; Jno. Kitchell, J. W.; T. B. Ingram, Sec.; W. T. Price, Treasurer; Jno. D. Martin, S. D.; A. Easier, J. D.; I. S. Barr, Tyler.

The many friends of Mr. Bruce King will regret to hear that he is soon to leave us. They may console themselves, however, with the thought that "our loss is some one's gain." For a friend tells us that he understood Mr. K. was engaging quarrels for two at Bailey's for the season.

Mr. H. B. Lee, lately of Mobile, Ala., has recently purchased the Drug Store of Bruce King and now asks through our advertising columns the patronage of our people. We understand that Mr. Lee expects soon to remove his family to our place. We trust that he and his family may receive such welcome at the hands of our people as will render this stay among us both pleasant and permanent.

On last Friday night, James Horn was taken from jail at Courtland, and hanged. He was placed in jail only that evening, charged with an attempt to murder a Miss Shoats, aged 14 years.

If we mistake not, this is the same young man who was mixed up in some way with the Pillow murder. If memory serves us aright, he was approached by the would-be-murderer, but refused to take any part whatever in the affair.

"Modern Henry," or his cub has gone off at a tangent again, at least so we take it. During the Session of the General Conference, at Louisville, a Committee on "Fraternal Relations" (between the M. E. Church South and the M. E. Church North) was appointed, and thereat in his usual clear-as-mud style he goes into ecstasies over immediate union. It may be that we are laboring under a false impression, but if "Fraternal Relations" mean "Union," then our dictionaries are at fault.

Crowd Whites and Blacks into the Same Schools.

This infamous idea is the very foundation stone of the Social Equality bill. We find ample confirmation of this opinion in the speech of Boutwell, of Massachusetts (the leading Radical in the United States Senate) as reported by the Congressional Record, the official organ of Congress. In the issue of this paper of May 22d, we find Boutwell's speech, from which the following is an extract:
"A system of public instruction supported by general taxation is security, first, for the prevalence and continuity of those ideas of equality which lead every human being to recognize every other human being as an equal in all natural and political rights; and the only way by which those ideas can be made universal is to bring together in public schools, during the forming period of life, the children of all classes, and educate them to gether."

The public schools are an epitome of life, and in it children are so taught that they understand those relations and conditions of life which, if not acquired in childhood and youth, are not likely afterward to be gained.—To say, that equal facilities shall be given in different schools, is to rob your system of public instruction of that quality by which our people, without regard to race or color, shall be assimilated in ideas, personal, practical and public, so that when they arrive at the period of manhood they shall act together upon public questions with ideas formed under the same influences and directed to the same general results; and therefore, I say, if it were possible, as in the cities it is possible, to establish separate schools for black children and for white children; it is in the highest degree inexpedient to either establish or tolerate such schools.

The theory of human equality cannot be taught in families, taking into account the different conditions of the different members and the families composing human society; but in the public school, where children of all classes and conditions are brought together, this doctrine of human equality can be taught, and it is the chief means of securing the perpetuity of republican institutions. And inasmuch as we have in this country four million colored people, I assume that it is a public duty that they and the white people of the country, with whom they are to be associated in political and public affairs, shall be assimilated and made one in the fundamental idea of human equality.—Therefore, where it could be possible to establish distinct schools, I am against it as a matter of public policy.

The attention of planters and others is again called to the above old and reliable make of Cotton Gins. They are furnished this year greatly improved, and nothing which an experience of thirty years in their manufacture could suggest has been left undone to make them the most reliable and perfect Cotton Gins in market. As the result of our efforts are used only for their established reputation and wide-spread popularity. For Perfection of Workmanship, Strength, Durability, Light Running, and quantity and quality of lint produced, we challenge competition. We are prepared to warrant to any reasonable extent, perfect satisfaction to every planter or operator. The Gins are sold at the lowest possible prices for good machines, and on reasonable terms. We invite examination of the samples in the hands of our local agents who will give all desired information and furnish applicants with circulars and copies of commendatory letters from parties using the Gins in all sections of the cotton producing country. Circulars, price lists, and other information, may be obtained of our agents or by addressing THE BROWN COTTON GIN CO., New London, Conn. Reeder & Co., Agts., Cave Springs, Ala. Orders left with Powers & Bro., Florence, will have prompt attention. May 13, 1874, 4t

8 New Patented Sewing Machine Attachments.
With which over seventeen different kinds of beautiful sewings, Fancy, Embroiders, Ornamental, Fine, Lingerie, Plain and Strong, can be done with perfect ease and rapidly by those who never saw a sewing machine before. Our new attachments have genuine merit that command immediate notice. They are the most valuable adjuncts ever patented to advance the usefulness of Sewing Machines, and are adjustable to all other good machines, equally as well as our own. Without them no machine can be considered perfect. Sold separately if desired at one-tenth the cost of the old styles used by all other machines.

Our New Machine
is larger than some of the $30 machines. Will do every description of sewing, hem, full, tuck, seam, quilt, blind, cord, blind, button, ruffle, shirt, pleat, fold, ecollor, roll, embroidery, run up breadths, &c. Will sew anything a needle will go through. Makes the strongest stitch known, so strong that the cloth will tear before the needle will rip apart. Has self-adjusting straight needle, reliable accurate feed, direct motion, no complication of needless gears or cams to oil or get out of order, is silent, easy working, light running, very rapid, smooth and correct, quickly understood and easily managed. SOALA WAG.

The probate judge of Tuscaloosa county is a radical. He became one at the close of the late war between the States. The south had been conquered by the federal arms. Her cause was lost, and her people in chains. Her true sons gathered closer to her side in the sad hour of her darkness and defeat. But, alas! there were some who deserted her when she most needed their sympathy and help. Like Judas, they betrayed her, when, like Judas, they could make money by the betrayal. They deliberately bartered principle, honor, and their southern manhood, for Yankee gold! They rushed in ravenous crowds to the head quarters of the conqueror, and begged a share in the robber privilege of plundering the helpless people of the south. The flushed and cruel victor, willing to torture the hated south, granted this request of her apostate sons, and led an army of sealwags armed through the trodden land, ravenous as wolves for spoils and greedy as vultures in the day of famine.

The conquered province of Alabama was to be erected into a state by the manipulation of the federal bayonet. The constitution, framed for her by aliens and apostates, was rejected by her people in conformity with the express provisions of the law of congress submitting it for their ratification or rejection; but it was forced upon her by the fiat of congress, and in the elections, the people of Alabama neither voted nor had candidates in the field. The negroes, the plunderers from the north, and the traitors at the south, divided the offices among them. It was the foulest wrong, the direst outrage, ever perpetrated by man upon his fellow man. It was the reconstruction era of robbery, pillage, and plunder, when the white men of the south, disfranchised, bound and helpless, were delivered over to the rule of the negro, the spoil of the carpet-bagger, and the Judas-bargainer of the scalawag.

The coalition of the negro, the carpet-bagger, and the Federal bayonet, made him a judge, not only without the votes but against the will of the white men of the country. It was spoli, ravished from their hands by violence and fraud, and became the fat reward of an apostate, who preferred radical promotion to the honor of his southern manhood, and herded with the negro and his more degraded white allies, that he might fill his purse with the wages of apostasy and political shame.—Tuscaloosa Times.

There has been discovered out in Iowa a pond in which every living thing is perfectly white—turtles, tadpoles, snakes, and so forth—and it is the water that makes them so. It is understood that efforts will be made to remove the pond to the nation's capital; or, that failing, to move the capital out toward the pond. Now the main desire with a few whites who are consorting with the blacks in this region is to find some process to change white to black.—[Advertiser.]

A Montgomery school teacher upon receiving a new pupil interrogated the little fellow as to his age. "Six years, mam." "Have you any brothers?" inquired the lady. "Yes, mam," replied the little one; "brother Bob." "How old is he?" asked the lady. "Don't know, mam," was the response; "but he's just commenced to chew tobacco." The teacher smiled.—Ledger.

Our climate is unexceptionable; our lands, all things considered, the best in the world for the production of cotton, and adapted, at the same time, to the successful growing of the cereals and fruit; our railroad facilities are unsurpassed; and our mineral wealth, unequalled. No other state presents, in the same number of acres so great a diversity of soil, climate and productions.

The Subsoiler, late a monthly, published at Corinth, Miss., by S. G. Barr, has been converted into a weekly.

The value of the mineral resources of Alabama can hardly be estimated. The knowledge of that value will stimulate immigration, materially increase our population, and bring the state up to the standard which has been reached by the most prosperous states of the Union. Alabama is destined to be the Empire State and Mobile the Queen City of the south.—[Mobile Graphic.]

SYRACUSE, N. Y. May 21, 1874. The engine of the early train north on the Syracuse and Northern Railroad yesterday morning went through the draw of the bridge over the river at Brewerton, killing Engineer Wiggins and Conductor Church, who were on the locomotive. The fireman was slightly hurt. The accident was the result of pure carelessness on the part of the engineer. Church's body is still in the river.

In 1850 we had a population of 28,784,000 a circulation of notes of $150,000,000 and of coin $100,000,000 equal to $10.60 per head. In 1870 we had a population of 38,000,000 and a circulation of $200,000,000, of notes, equal to $18.42 per head. The assessed wealth of 1850 was $7,135,000,000. The note circulation of England is only $6.50 per capita, and is actually less by $50,000,000 than it was in 1810.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so perceptible an influence that improvement is soon discernible. Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find it impurities arising through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is full; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Eczema, Scabies, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurf, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors, and all eruptions of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are instantly dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuge, no medicine will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters

are a purely Vegetable preparation, made from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and that they restore the health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded, possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs in Bilious Diseases.

The properties of Dr. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Cathartic, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Emetic.

Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to Dr. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fortified.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Serofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Serofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In all these and other constitutional diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Eczema, Scabies, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurf, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors, and all eruptions of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are instantly dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.
