Owen and William Mahone were committed in Brooklyn, Saturday, for stabbing their father. Owen held the old man down, while Bill lender, indicted for having accepted a bribe of $76,000 from the Ocean National Bank, of this city, to influence his official action as bank examiner in regard to the affairs and condition of that institution, after being out from 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon till 5:30

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 1.
Late on Saturday night, an alarm of fire occurred in the State Lunatic Asylum, caused by a slight fire in the fan house, so that smoke instead of pure air was blown into the main building. Great alarm occurred among the inmates, who broke the glass in the windows to admit fresh air. Finally the doors were blown open, and the inmates were allowed to escape into the grounds. Only one hundred and twenty left the grounds, and all but six have been taken into custody and are now in the Gen. John Sidney Jones, of Philadelphia. Loss $500.
Two deaths have occurred here from trichinæ, caused by eating raw ham.

LONDON, June 1.
A riot occurred between citizens and M. A. S. soldiers.

Ship Charter Oak, from Mobile, via Elsinore Saturday, to repair damages, having lost bowsprit by collision, arrived at Liverpool.

WASHINGTON, June 1.

In the Senate Windom presented resolution of National Agricultural Congress recently in session in Atlanta, asking appropriations for increased water communication from the interior to the seaboard. Referred to Committee on Transportation.

CLEVELAND, June 1.

In the case of Rush P. Sloane, late President of the Cleveland, Sandusky & Cincinnati R. R. it is stated that Sloane returned to Windsor, Canada, some time ago, supposing he could settle with the Railway Co, by payment of $250,000 and costs, but owing to some misunderstanding concerning suits to be brought against him, the settlement was not effected, payment of the money being considered as for a settlement of civil suits only. Sloane was not satisfied and returned to Europe. The Grand Jury at Sandusky this week, found against him on indictments against Sloane for embezzlement, and nine for forgery.

Capt. Peter Aunsbaugh, well known in Montgomery and all along the Alabama river, recently died at his home in Mobile. He was a good man and citizen.

Who are those "moon-eyed monsters" alluded to by the News of May 30th? Several patients, booted and spurred, were indulging that inquiry yesterday.

We are indebted to some kind friend for a most faithful and excellent "presentment" of the well known features of the Grand Duke of Birmingham—Col. James R. Powell. It is executed from a fine steel plate engraving and does equal credit to the subject and the artist.

A little child of Mr. Newman, who resides on Sayre street, was suddenly attacked with convulsions yesterday afternoon and fell, apparently dead. But medical assistance was promptly rendered and at a late hour last evening the child was still living, but in a precarious condition.

It is thought that the Bostonians who have purchased the A. & C. R. R. will be put in possession in a few days. We understand that the trade is not so advantageous to the State as that made by Gov. Lindsay, but the people are ready to welcome any solution of the problem, which eliminates this white Elephant, and gets the "unknown quantity" of debt incurred in keeping him, off their hands.

The kitchen on Mr. Levystein's premises, corner Moulton and Clayton streets, took fire about 11:30 Sunday morning. The fire was soon extinguished, but not before the alarm had broken up Dr. Wardworth's congregation. A few moments later the fire bell sounded—but without fault on the part of the watchman. Persons living within one square of the threatened premises could not see the flames.

The Chalybeate Springs of Meriwether county, Georgia, are now open for the reception of visitors. The grounds are very handsome and shady—the cottages neat and comfortable, and the table will be supplied with the best the country affords. It is one of the most pleasant summer resorts in this country and ought to be largely patronized. The rates for board are very reasonable.

On last Sunday afternoon, Charley White, a colored boy, started for the butcher pen with a valuable saddle horse belonging to Mr. Strauss, a butcher in the market. The horse was unused to harness, but Charley hitched him to the cart. When he arrived on the street the horse became restive, but soon dashed up the hill towards the old Randolph mill with fearful rapidity. Arriving at the top of the hill the reins broke and the horse, continuing his 240 time, came in contact with a large tree, throwing the boy about 25 feet in the air, and injuring him internally. The horse broke his neck and died on the spot.

We have a singular coincidence to relate. On the 28th of April, Rev. J. B. Jones of this city preached a sermon before the assembled lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in Montgomery, from the 8th verse of the 18th chapter of 1st Samuel. On the same day at the same hour, another divine of the same surname (Rev. A. M. Jones) preached a sermon from the same verse, chapter and book, before the same order in the town of Camden in Wilcox county. We have saved the Pacificator, in which this latter sermon is published, for the eyes of our friend, Rev. J. B. Jones, who may be curious to see it.

The pastor of Little Zion Church must be careful how he resigns his pulpit to strangers. A Selma preacher told the pastor's congregation last Sunday evening that several years ago there lived near Memphis a wicked man who told his wife early one Sunday morning that he could "go out and catch a mess of fish before God woke up." He went, and was fastened to the first rock on which he sat down. All efforts on the part of his friends to remove him proved unavailing. Whenever they promised to be successful the river would suddenly rise above him and run them off. He could speak to no one but his wife, and he asked her to have a shelter built over him. A small cabin was therefore constructed above and around him, in which he still lives, and where he may now be seen on payment of twenty-five cents admission fee—no half price for children or servants. This new exponent of the Gospel said that he had himself paid the necessary quarter and witnessed the terrible fate of the blasphemous Sabbath-breaker. We must not be understood as attempting to discredit the preacher's story—but didn't that fellow have a tough old time during the late freshet? He might be made Worthy Chief Templar of the world if he has managed to survive all that water.

The Montgomery Schuetzen Verein.

leaves for Selma this morning on a special train at 6 o'clock. Tickets for round trip $3, good for three days.

The Hebrew Ladies' Fair opens this evening at Standard Club Hall. This fair is gotten up for the benefit of the Synagogue, and deserves all the encouragement and patronage within the power of our citizens to bestow. The rooms have been elaborately and elegantly decorated, and the articles designed for exhibition are unique and attractive. Let all attend it who can, for it is remembered that these excellent ladies are always prominent in every good word and work, whether it be in behalf of their own institutions or the institutions of the Christian.

Apply good verberna water to the skin, and you may rest and sleep in the midst of mosquitoes with impunity. Mind, it will not drive them away, but they will not bite as long as a faint trace of the perfume remains. Below you will find a receipt for a superior article. Any druggist can put it up and the expense is trifling: Essence oil of verberna, (Limonis Trifol.) one drach; cologne spirits, (not cologne water) ninety-five per cent. one pint; mix and agitate for twenty-four hours, then add distilled water, four ounces, and filter. Bathe the face, neck and hands well, and mosquitoes will not trouble you.

A meeting was held in this city last evening by the colored wing of the Radical party, to protest against the action of those white members of the party who, last Thursday evening, met in secret convocation at the Republican office. The presiding officer was a medium sized man, light colored, apparently about thirty-eight years of age, and with rather a thin face. Several speeches were made, but the gist and purport of the whole may be gathered from the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, We learn that a "race issue" has been inaugurated in the city of Montgomery by a meeting of white men calling themselves Republicans, who refused to allow colored men in their said meeting, as is shown by an article in the State Journal, of the 29th, reciting the names of those present at the said "informal meeting" therefore:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that such action on the part of the white Republicans of this city merits the condemnation of every honest, right thinking citizen of Montgomery county, because without the colored men of said county there would be no Republican party in it, and because such action is unprecedented in the history of said party in the Southern States.

Resolved, That we believe that any colored man who will countenance the action of such meeting, is unworthy of the rights of a free man, and any white man claiming to be a Republican, who would pat the colored man on the shoulder when desirous of using him and shut the door in his face when seeking to be a free man, is held with a view to the better of his rights, is utterly devoid of any sympathy with or interest in the welfare of the colored people of this county, and only desires to use him as a tool to further his schemes and treacherous purposes to plunder wherever he may.

Resolved, That we will hereafter regard any colored man as being unworthy the privileges conferred upon him by Congress who persists in supporting such men in preference to those of his own race and color competent to discharge the duties of the office to which they are called upon.

Resolved, That we believe that any colored man who will countenance the action of such meeting, is unworthy of the rights of a free man, and any white man claiming to be a Republican, who would pat the colored man on the shoulder when desirous of using him and shut the door in his face when seeking to be a free man, is held with a view to the better of his rights, is utterly devoid of any sympathy with or interest in the welfare of the colored people of this county, and only desires to use him as a tool to further his schemes and treacherous purposes to plunder wherever he may.

Resolved, That we will hereafter regard any colored man as being unworthy the privileges conferred upon him by Congress who persists in supporting such men in preference to those of his own race and color competent to discharge the duties of the office to which they are called upon.

Resolved, That we believe that any colored man who will countenance the action of such meeting, is unworthy of the rights of a free man, and any white man claiming to be a Republican, who would pat the colored man on the shoulder when desirous of using him and shut the door in his face when seeking to be a free man, is held with a view to the better of his rights, is utterly devoid of any sympathy with or interest in the welfare of the colored people of this county, and only desires to use him as a tool to further his schemes and treacherous purposes to plunder wherever he may.

WASHINGTON, June 1.

The House, under a suspension of the rules, passed the bill to amend the customs and internal revenue laws. Among its provisions is one that the time for the redemption of direct tax lands held by the United States, under the several acts levying direct taxes, is extended for the period of one year from June 8, 1874, and another giving a drawback on imported tobacco equal to the amount of duties which have been paid on imported liquor entering into its manufacture. A section taxing all sales of stocks, bonds, gold, &c., one-twentieth of one per cent. was afterwards incorporated in it. A proposition to revive the income tax was defeated.

A motion by Butler, of Massachusetts, to suspend the rules and refer the Senate Civil Rights bill to the Judiciary Committee, with leave to report at any time, was defeated by dilatory motions. Butler has the right to report civil rights at any time and can report the Senate bill as an original measure.

The President sent to the Senate today the following nominations: Benjamin T. Bristow, of Kentucky, to be Secretary of the Treasury; Wm. A. Richardson, to be Judge of the Court of Claims and Peter Negley to be Assistant Treasurer at Baltimore. The debt statement issued today shows a reduction in May of $4,566,888; cash in the treasury, coin $81,958,979; currency $11,777,708; special deposits held for redemption of certificates of deposits $56,050,000.

The President will leave this city tonight for New York, whither he goes to lay the corner-stone of the Museum of Natural History in Central Park. The Cabinet session which was to have been held to-morrow was held today. Before the session of the Cabinet Gen. Bristow, who has been nominated to succeed Judge Richardson, had an interview with the President. Solicitor Banfield has on record his resignation.

The Attorney-General has decided the time at which the importation of goods is accomplished is not when they are entered for consumption, but when they are brought into a port of the United States with the intent to be there discharged, and that an act of Congress increasing, in general terms, the duties upon importations, does not apply to goods then in a warehouse.
