SPRING & SUMMER SEASON

1874 1874

SHULMAN, GOETTER & WEIL
The First in the Field!

We hereby announce our readiness to display to the Citizens of Montgomery and the surrounding Country, our

MAMMOTH STOCK OF DRY GOODS AND SHOES,
Suitably Adapted to the SPRING AND SUMMER SEASONS.

The present Stringent Condition of the Money Market has been fully considered and carefully weighed by us, and we

STATE EMPHATICALLY that during the entire season the prices on our goods will be placed at the VERY LOWEST. Our determination during the Season will be to

SELL OUR GOODS! And in order to carry out this ultimatum, all the goods comprised in our Selections are to be offered at such confessedly low prices as

POSITIVELY TO DEFY ALL COMPETITION! Further, our Assortments are the most extensive we have been in receipt of for many Seasons, and have been purchased with the sole view of offering to purchasers at EXTRAORDINARILY LOW FIGURES.

THIS WE ARE DETERMINED TO DO, AND MAKE THIS ANNOUNCEMENT BOLDLY AND FEARLESSLY, THAT FOR THE DURABILITY, NEATNESS AND CHEAPNESS OF OUR GOODS, WE ARE RESOLVED TO STAND UNRIVALLED!

Those anticipating the purchase of such articles as are always found in a FIRST CLASS DRY GOODS HOUSE will positively SAVE MONEY by calling at our Stores.

Alabama Editors in Washington.

[Correspondence of the Advertiser.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 1, 1874.

We are here in the very hub of the universe--in the very shadow of the dome of our nation's Capitol, upon which aspect toward the dusky Gulf of Liberty, who has, alas! her back turned upon the poor South. Our party reached Washington early Friday morning, fully recovered from the effects of the biliousness of Lookout Mountain, the hospitalities of Chattanooga, the boundless kindness of the Selma, Rome and Dalton Railroad, and of Mr. Wren, and his subordinates, of the Kennesaw route. We went under the great dome, and were marked of kindness that were shown us on the line; and your space is too precious to tell of the grand and beautiful scenery from Lookout Mountain to Washington City, and of the many historical spots, with which, however, nearly all of your readers are so well acquainted.

We left the New York editors at Chattanooga, and their last words were a benediction on the new and unfortunate people of Alabama.

On arriving here the Alabama delegation, unsolicited and unexpectedly, found themselves in the hands of the Alabama Congressional delegation, who have earnestly vied with each other in their efforts to contribute to our pleasure. We loitered two or three hours at the Capitol--in the House and Senate. Mr. Speaker Blaine, through the request of our excellent young Congressman John H. Caldwell, having given us the privilege of the floor. We went undisturbed to describe things at the Capitol, in a correspondence of this sort. There was much speaking, and very little listening. Of course we all got a sight of Ben Butler, and saw Schurz, and Thurman, and Morton, and Logan, and Dawes, and Carpenter and last but not least, John R. Gordon, and all the other great men, (so called,) of the nation. The sight of Ben Butler and Fred Douglas did not materially expand our intellectual vision. The Capitol building is a sort of wilderness of marble pillars--its real grandeur is indescribable.

In the afternoon our party was invited by members of the Alabama delegation and we immediately became the guests of Hon. Joseph H. Sloos of the sixth District, who supplied us with carriages, and with the other members of the Alabama Congressmen, escorted us around the city. We first visited the Observatory, and had a glimpse of the great telescope just being swung. We might have got a good look at the "transit of Venus," but the atmosphere was rather "hazy," and so we had to defer the pleasure of such a sight. We next went to the Washington Club, where the party were very cordially received by Gov. Sheppard and other distinguished gentlemen and members of the club.

Thence we went to Sanderson's "Congressional" on the Capitol Hill, where we found a splendid banquet prepared for the Alabama delegation, by Mr. Sloos, at which excellent and appropriate speeches were made; the hilarity of the occasion closed by an appropriate, conciliating, good natured and earnest speech by Mr. Sheets of Alabama, which was heartily applauded.

Staidous, for our entertainment, our friends again seated those of us who wished to go, and the grand Opera House was the next place reached, where they witnessed a very farcical display of mimicry, in which quite a number of savages were surreptitiously disposed of--Capt. Jack amongst them, while a very gallant young lady exhibited the most wonderful traits of heroism, coupled with the capacity to shoot a rifle.

The scenes that followed this "Theatrical entertainment" were only dimly remembered by those who attended. The streets are dusty as can be, but large crowds of pilgrims are swinging around the hotels and the thermometer is nearly up to the hundreds. The Baptists here just had their National Convention and the city has been completely filled with the preachers and lay members of that congregation. On last Tuesday we are told 32 pulpits in this city were filled by their most eloquent preachers, and for once there was union everywhere.

This is a beautiful city with immense avenues and wide streets, and interminable parks and squares, filled with the choicest shrubs and flowers. This has been done though, it is said, at a vast cost of millions, where thousands would have sufficed. The grounds of the Soldiers Home could afford an everlasting study for the horticulturists of Alabama. The Patent office is a magnificent building, the finest of the kind in the world. The Smithsonian is entirely different, and built of red sand stone. The Treasury is an immense concern of granite, with its thousands of clerks and millions of treasure. The new State Department, now in course of erection, will be the grandest of all, and will cost several millions. Pennsylvania Avenue is certainly the most splendid street on the globe, and looks almost fairy like, when lighted up at night, and dotted over with thousands of vehicles, containing the denizens on their evening drives. I wish to write you to-night about the Public buildings, what Congress is doing, historical incidents, to visit to the President, the personal cleverness of some of our Congressmen, and some things about how local affairs are managed in the great Nation's Capitol.

It positively induces a Permanent Cure.

It is strong, yet true, that as a rule it is the most difficult of all the habits of the body to become addicted to this disease, and it is a habit which makes them slaves, bedevils their minds, ruins their constitutions, and gives them, in their natural moments, a hatred of self as well as a feeling of every body despises them to such an extent that society has no charms. But thanks to the power of all right, the most terrible habit and degraded condition, as well as all of the desire and craving for opiates in any form, is soon removed by this remarkable Antidote, entirely so; and the weakened body and mind are invigorated, even renewed, and love and hope take the place of despondency and despair. CHALYBEATE SPRINGS,

Meriwether County, Georgia

THE undersigned is still in charge of this celebrated Fountain of Health, and has the honor to announce that it is in the best of order, and is ready for the reception of company.

The Chalybeate is pronounced, by competent judges, the best in the United States, and is justly celebrated for its curative powers. There are two other springs--Bull Run and Moccasin--which are the finest freestone springs in the world; forming a most valuable variety of natural mineral waters.

A spot Band of Music for the Ball Room and Lawn will be in constant attendance, and every variety of innocent amusement will be provided. No pains or expense will be spared to make guests feel happy.

A fine Livery Stable, on the grounds, will furnish Carriages and Saddle Horses for the most beautiful drives and rides in the South. The establishment is situated in close proximity to Fine and Oak Mountain, in a high region of country, where it is always cool and delightful in the hottest seasons. Showers and Blankets are in constant requisition in the evening and at night, and we desire all to come well provided with these useful appendages.

Among the other attractions is a LADIES' SWIMMING BATH, of immense proportions, built in a stream of pure soft water which gushes from the mountain, and is supplied with the most delicate of the depts of which can be regulated by the bathers. It is well enclosed and furnished with abundance of dressing rooms.

The kindest and most considerate attention will be paid to the guests.

RATES OF BOARD. Per Day, $2.50; per Single Week, $12.50; per Month, $35.00. Children and colored servants half the above rates.

Mrs. L. L. LOVE will be with us this season and will be happy to receive her friends at the Springs.

A Line of Stages will run daily from Geneva, on the Southwestern Railroad, to the Springs and return. Fare for the Round Trip $5.00. CHAS. E. FORTNER, Agent Proprietor.

The Artesian Basin is beginning to emit a very disagreeable and unhealthy odor at night. It is also a regular mussickness and mosquitoes enough to stock London. Better change it into a regular fountain and make it beneficial, instead of detrimental to the city.

The Mobile contested election case will come up for argument before the

the Selma Agricultural and Mechanical Association, were sold a short time since to satisfy a mortgage on the same

held by the Mobile Gold Life Insur-

of ten thousand dollars. What will become of our Fair Grounds at Pickett

Springs Park, now that the Association has been placed in bankruptcy? Will some of our enterprising citizens purchase the same, that our people may not be deprived of the pleasure of attending the annual Fair?

ment made by Jno D. Belser (col.)

that he had been denied admission by

MacDonell to the white Radical's "informal meeting," a "slandering lie."

In addition to this MacDonell, in his card, proceeded to state that John D.

Belser was "one of those colored dirteaters who, for the swell of Strobach's political kitchen, would be willing to tell, or swear to, any falsehood." Bel-ser saw the card before breakfast and forthwith proceeded to "sarch" for MacDonell. In a few moments he found him in the front door of Jones

& Cary's drug store, and went for him. He punched Mac's "snout,"

once or twice in regular Heenan style,

when the latter broke loose and dodged into the drug store for protection. Bystanders then interfered and saved

Mac's bacon. But Belser, like Mary's

"little lamb," when turned out of school, "waited patiently about,"

until Mac appeared on the streets,

when he went for him again. This time Mac made for Egger's jewelry store, in which he took refuge. After that Belser let him "rest in peace," whereupon Mac had him arrested and brought over to appear before Justice

Nettles to answer proceedings against him to keep the peace. The bond was fixed at $1,000, but that was given without difficulty—showing how readily the white people will defend and protect the colored people

against that common enemy of both—the carpet-bagger. And thus it would be with the whole race if they would only put their feet on the white sum-
