NEW YORK, April 2.

The Hudson river is free from ice. A dispatch from Portsmouth, Va., says the steamer Commerce, of 1,000 tons, loaded with merchandise, was struck by a snag in Albemarle Sound, near Plymouth, yesterday and sunk. Wreckers have gone from this city to her assistance.

LONDON, April 2.

A dispatch from Melbourne says Henri Rochefort and his party has started for London via California.

The ship Alaric, from Pensacola for Liverpool, got aground on the coast of Pernambuco, Brazil, and will break up if the bad weather continues.

The expected change in the bank rate was not made.

The Marquis of Devonshire is dead.

The Times says it is authentic advice from the scene of war before Bilbao to April 1st, which show that the Republican troops had taken no position since March 25th.

A three days armistice, in which Bilbao excepted, is included, has been agreed upon for the burial of the dead. Meantime bombardment of the city continues. Gen. Caballero de Rodas, with five thousand men, is advancing by forced marches to the assistance of Marshal Serrano.

PROVIDENCE, April 2.

The election yesterday brought out a light vote. No Democratic nominees were in the field. Several prohibitionists are badly beaten. United States Marshal, for the Third District, has been elected.

And Cakes, with her golden sign,

Display the riches of their store,

Corn, and meat, and all that's good,

And every other kind of food.

Here "lie around" in "bald relief,"

The smoked, and spiced, and pickled beef;

Our fried and roasted meats and puddings,

And puddings, puddings, fish and clams,

The tongues of beef and buffalo,

And now and then some poultry;

And puddings, puddings, fish and clams,

And every other kind of food.

Which no mortal postings,

Can ever exhaust our store.

To feed to horses, cows and goats,

And every other kind of food.

Which man may buy or cattle need.

When Phobus in the western waves,

His fiery steeds and chariot drives,

And Night, descending, trails her robe

Of darkness over the sleeping globe,

The stoutest, who would cease from sleep

The midnight hour for vigils deep,

Should try what virtue lies within

Our tried and tested cornucopia.

While those who sometimes like to take

A wee drop 'fore the slumber's sake,

In spite of all the "hair invaders,"

Yield to "The Temperance Crusade,"

Can find in store a large supply

Of Bourbon, Irish, white or Rye,

Old Scotch, or whatever you like,

Green peas are scarce, but dead beats are abundant.

There was frost at Columbiana, Shelby county, yesterday morning. We hope it has done no damage.

There are now fifty prisoners in the County Jail, about forty-four of whom are of the colored persuasion.

A number of farmers were in town yesterday and expressed themselves delighted with the seasons and the prospect ahead if frost spare them.

Black and white chip bonnets, chip fronts with silk crowns, and black net bonnets are the fashionable choice for spring wear, and will also comprise the summer selection.

The cry of "Police!" to which the streets resounded about 7 o'clock last evening, was suggested by the opening of the spring fights at some point near Shulman & Frankfurter's old stand. We heard of no resulting damage worthy of record.

The Charleston steamer last week took one hundred and fifty quarts of strawberries to New York, where they brought $2.50 per quart. The editor of the Galveston (Fla.) News & Herald complains that strawberries are selling in that market at the exorbitant price of fifty cents a quart!

Judge Cunningham, who was compelled to suspend the business of the City Court a few days ago in order to give his personal attention to other matters which would brook no delay, has returned to the city and will resume the session of his court next Monday. He hopes to be able to dispose of the criminal docket in short order, and will succeed if no unforeseen obstacles arise.

The extensive adulteration of liquors practiced in this country has suggested to a Philadelphia Judge a loop hole through which violators of the law may escape. In a trial before him for selling liquor on Sunday, he charged the jury: "In order to convict defendant you must be satisfied beyond doubt that the 'stuff' he sold was liquor." The jury was not satisfied, and rendered a verdict of not guilty.

The labor problem seems to have reached its last analysis in Mobile, where a negro labor union rages round the streets endeavoring its edicts, under penalty of "licking to death" any darkey who undertakes a job before "de rates ob de society." No people are so devoted to liberty, equal rights and all that sort of thing as the Americans, black and white; but none are so ready to sell their personal liberty and responsibility for the blessed privilege of paying weekly dues, and submitting to the domination of committees, as the colored brother.

The Richmond (Ky.) Register says: "If all the returned Confederates should do as well as General John B. Hood toward repopulating the desolated South, it would be but a short time until the places of those who were killed and those who died of disease during the war, would be filled by a new generation. From a private source we learn that General Hood has been married just five years, and that he is now the happy father of seven children. Considering his bad luck during many of the scenes of the late war, we are inclined to think that Providence has taken a turn, and that Providence has smiled on him at last."

Five sets of hands are at work putting down the fire-plugs. The number which the Water Works company have contracted with, thirty for one hundred. Thus far only fifteen have been put down, but at the rate, the workmen are performing the task, the whole will be completed within the next few days. If persons residing in the neighborhood of these plugs will purchase a piece of canvas hose and a pipe, they can attach it to the fire-plug and have water at play, in case of fire, before the services of our excellent Fire Department could be rendered. The height of the reservoir is sufficient to force water over any house in the city.

This Good Friday, the day of the crucifixion, is observed both by Catholic and Episcopal churches. In the former there is no mass (the only day in the year in which there is not), but what is called the mass of the Presanctified.

To Holy Saturday belongs the solemn blessing of fire and of the water of the baptismal font. From the fire blessed on this day is light—the Paschal Light—which is symbolical of Christ risen from the dead. This symbolic light is kept burning during the reading of the Gospel at mass throughout the interval between Easter and Pentecost.

With the close of Saturday Lent is over and the joyous festivities of Easter begin.

Quite a large crowd assembled on Market street yesterday to witness the trial of Mr. Willie Leudeus' new steam engine, described in this column yesterday morning. It is due him to say that the promise to "fire up at ten" for the benefit of those who wished to see it performed was ours—not his. At least he did not ask us to make it, but we knew that much curiosity would be felt to see it at work, and therefore took the liberty of volunteering it. The trial was highly satisfactory, and the skill and ingenuity manifested by the young amateur machinist were rewarded with the highest praise. It is wonderful to see how the little machine works. One would hardly dream that such works, and such power could be looked up in such small compass. A child can carry it from place to place, yet under a good head of steam it develops the half of a horse power! i. e. the fourth of a horse in strength and a quarter horsepower.

The great secret of health is obedience to the laws of health.

The number of Granges in Alabama is five hundred and twenty-five.

Messrs. Sayre & Graves, attorneys, advertise an important sale.

All do not know that lemons sprinkled with leaf-sugar almost completely allay feverish thirst.

The time of meeting of the Capital City Grange has been changed from Monday afternoon to Tuesday of each week at 7 o'clock P. M.

We have had most every shape of parasols, and now we are informed they are to be flat, a la Japanese, and so inexpensive that numbers can be owned, to match every costume.

Mr. Joseph Goetter, who had been absent for a few days in New Orleans on business connected with the firm of Lehman, Durr & Co., of which he is a member, returned to the city yesterday morning in excellent health and spirits.

The cold weather yesterday brought coal into demand, and quite a brisk business was done. There was much apprehension of frost last night, but we hope they will prove not well founded. It would be quite damaging to vegetables, corn and what cotton is up.

In most parts of Europe the weather has been just as mild and lovely this winter as in the United States. Italy seems the only exception, and is suffering from an extraordinary cold season. Florence has snowing almost every day; in Rome it is constantly having ice; and all Southern Italy, down to Palermo, indeed, is covered with snow.

Emigrants are having a hard time out West, and the Chicago Tribune tells them that it would not be prudent, just yet, for either skilled or unskilled laborers to go to that country. It says a proof of this is found in the fact that first-class carpenters in Chicago, who were employed a year ago at $3 per day, are now glad to get $1.50. So great has been the decline in the cost of labor that the Board of Education has just let for $2,200 a contract for building a school-house after the model of one built last year for $9,500. This accounts for the yearning toward the South which gentlemen who have recently travelled in the Northwest report to be springing up there among all classes who desire to better their conditions in life. Let them come; we have homes for all and lands that may be bought for a song.

The officials of the State Grange, mentioned in the ADVERTISER of yesterday, were in session all day at the Exchange Hotel. Their proceedings, in great part, cannot be given to the public, but one matter was discussed which is of prime importance to every citizen of this State. The plan of the Georgia Grange, for direct trade with Europe, was recommended to all the subordinate Granges which trade to Eastern ports, and co-operation with the Georgia Grange for that purpose was also recommended. In addition to this, the Executive Committee was instructed to take such steps as would aid in establishing direct trade between Mobile and Europe, and the Mississippi Granges trading at that port were invited to co-operate with them. This is a grand movement and bids fair to be a successful movement. Encouragement from mercantile and manufacturing establishments in Europe, has been received, and aid promised, in all efforts to open up communication between Southern and European ports.

The Immigration question was discussed, and plans proposed. This matter, however, is left open for another meeting. It can be safely stated that the plan likely to be adopted is exceedingly feasible, and will be necessarily successful.
