THE ROAD TO WEALTH.—There are a great many roads to wealth, but the most direct one lies through the Pub-

$1,500,000 in cash to be distributed to ticket-holders, and 12,000 prizes, rang-can be no question about the advisa-

GRANGERS' COLUMN.

COUNTY COUNCIL.

Under a resolution of the Capital City Grange, the different Granges in Montgomery county are requested to send delegates to meet in the city of Montgomery, on the last Tuesday in this month, being the 24th inst., for the purpose of forming a County Council. The delegates will convene at 12 o'clock, m., in Good Templars' Hall, in the First National Bank Building. G. P. KIEYES, feb11 dtd Sec'y C. C. G.

NEW PROVIDENCE, Ala., Feb. 20, '74. Editor Montgomery Advertiser: In accordance with the wish expressed by J. M. N. in the ADVERTISER of Feb. 18th, I will send you the information he desires. The W. M. of New Providence Grange No. 119 Grenshaw county is James C. Gentry, Secretary, Henry D. Curtis, Regular meetings are held on the 2d and 4th Saturdays in each month. Number of members, 22; Grange in good order. Yours Respectfully, HENRY D. CURTIS.

Meeting of the Tuscaloosa Grange Council.

At the late meeting of this body, the following resolution was passed: Resolved, That the Council consider the debt and credit system ruinous to agriculture, and that the Council recommends all Patrons of Husbandry to abandon the practice of buying their supplies on a credit, and to look to their farms alone for most of the necessities of life, and to buy nothing in this way create no new debt and pay the old.

Oats. Editor Haymarket's Examiner: You speak of the number of acres sowed with oats by several planters of the county. Let me add something on the subject from North Lowndes, Messrs. Harris and McCurdy of Lowndesboro have about 200 acres in oats; and Dr. Hall has on his 3 or 4 plantations, about 300 acres in oats. If the seasons favor the crops we in Lowndes shall "feel our oats" next summer. Let me say, further, that no part of the grain crop is more important to stock than oats. Horses, cattle, and hogs relish and will fatten rapidly on them. And if the worst comes to the worst, you know, we can eat oat cakes as they do in Scotland. GRANGER. LOWNDESBORO, Feb. 17.

Resolutions of the Cherokee County Grange Council.

1. That whereas, example is the backbone of instruction, we of the Order of Patrons of Husbandry dictating to none, but by example request all members of our order and farmers generally to cooperate and assist us in carrying out these public declarations of our object and purposes.
2. That as soon as we possibly can, we will pay all our debts, more especially those contracted for advances made on our last year's crop and in the future we promise ourselves not to have advances, to plant only such lands as will pay and so much only as we are able to cultivate thoroughly.
3. Looking forward to a more complete acreage and an increase in corn and small grain, for instance one third in cotton and two-thirds in diversified articles.
4. That we recommend retrenchment and economy in only in agriculture, but in household affairs, that we dispense with superfluous luxuries, discourage extravagance in dress and with the disproportion in prices of corn and flour are so great, we will use less of the latter and more of the former.
5. That we discourage the manufacture and sale of commercial fertilizers and encourage composting home manures.
6. That we repair old fences and where necessary make new ones around our plantations, thus protecting our planted lands and forestalling too frequent disputes growing out of the trespasses of stock.
7. That as the garden, orchard, dairy and vineyard are indispensable auxiliaries of farm interests and that they may not be said of us, they have made me the keeper of vineyards, but my own vineyard have I not kept, we can call upon the lady members of our order to assist us in these important items of home happiness and prosperity.
8. Believing that competition in carrying on our great public highways injures to the general good, we pledge ourselves to oppose all combinations which seek to monopolize any branch of business in which we are interested and to encourage and foster all fair and honest competitions, in the furtherance of which, we as Patrons of Husbandry pledge ourselves to patronize and support at all times when necessary.

From the Lafayette Clipper.

At a meeting of Chappell Hill Grange in this county, held on the 7th instant, the following resolutions were adopted: Agriculture is the first and noblest of all occupations. It is the only of Divine origin. God planted in the Garden of Eden and placed man there to tend and keep it, and he was commanded that he should till the ground. History proves that where agriculture has been fostered by a people that nation has prospered and reached a high degree of perfection, but where it has been neglected, degeneracy began. Let us heed the warning and escape the doom of the South. Therefore be it resolved, 1st, That it is the true policy and bounden duty of every Patron of Husbandry to devote in the future a sufficient quantity of land to corn, potatoes, wheat, oats, and turnips for the support not only of his own family, but for the laborers and stock on his farm, thereby making his cotton crop a surplus. Resolved 2d, That instead of paying out vast sums of money for commercial fertilizers, every Patron of Husbandry should make and use as much home made fertilizers as possible and further improve our lands by resting and rotation of crops. Resolved 3d, That in view of the hard times, we earnestly recommend the men and women of our Order that they economize as much as possible in all matters, and especially in dress. H. H. ROGERS, Master, Chappell Hill, Ala., Feb. 7th, 1874.

Minor Crops.

The importance of a diversity of crops is impressed upon the farmers of the South by the speaker and writer upon agriculture. But sufficient importance is not attached to minor crops, many of which yield from four to five hundred per cent, better than our staple crops of cotton and grain. As one authenticated fact, one successful experiment is worth a hundred mere theories, I will give the result of the cultivation of sugar cane near Smith Station, Lowndes county, last year over two thousand gallons of syrup and six hundred pounds of sugar were made in a small neighborhood. I send you a specimen of each, made for Wm. Lowther by Wm. Lowther, I am sure you will acknowledge the sugar will compare favorably with the first quality of New Orleans. So much for quality. Now does it pay? I give the exact figures for one patch of three-fourths of an acre. The produce was one hundred and fifty-six gallons of syrup, and two thousand stalks for seed. And putting the syrup at 80 cents per gallon (it readily sells for a dollar), and the stalks at $5.50 per hundred, the cash value of the product of three-quarters of an acre is $174.80, or at the rate of $233 per acre. In other words, one acre of cane will yield as large a profit after deducting expenses for making (seed), as five acres in cotton. The yield given here is not unusual; it is about the same as has been obtained by these planters for the last seven years. If each planter in Lowndes county would plant one acre in cane, the net profit of the entire crop would amount to not less than $100,000. Who can't raise one acre? Other crops of this description yield handsome profits. Let planters and farmers turn their attention to these minor crops, and make them defray the minor expenses, and then raise your own breadstuffs and meats, and your cotton will then be a money crop. ECONOMY. —Opelika Observer.
