RONALD, DON'T CALL IN THE MORNING.

O. Ronald, you know that I love you,
And you know that my promise is true,
And I think there is nothing more pleasant
Than leading the German with you;
But listen, I have something to whisper;
Be sure 's no perils no warning
Put your fears all to rest, 'tis a simple request.
Please, Ronald, don't call in the morning.

Now, Ronald, don't wink your forehead
And open your eyes like a goose;
Don't try to look cruel or horrid,
My love it will be of no use.
One can't arrange puff, braid and ringlet,
With only half minute's warning.
And when en dishabille, why, one really don't feel
Like having a call in the morning.

Besides, mamma thinks it is silly,
And, surely dear many must know,
For she's been a leader of fashion
These thirty odd seasons or so;
Don't talk of simplicity, dearest,
What is beauty without some adorn-
ing?
And she looks like a fright, after dancing all night.
So, Ronald, don't call in the morning.

A Kansas preacher has had his salary increased $10 a year for thrashing 8 men who disturbed his congregation.

When a bit of ostrich feather is found by a wife in her husband's beard no one can blame her for being down on him.

An English wag asserts that machinery is the most modest of all things, since it almost always travels in cogs.

An old Brooklyn toper was asked which season of the year he liked best, and touchingly answered, "when the bloom is on the eye."

"My dear," said an affectionate spouse
to her husband, "am I not your treasure?"
"Oh yes," was the cool reply, "and I would willingly lay it tip in heaven." What a insulting wretch.

"It is a long lane that has no turn,"
and for that reason a philosopher asks us to clear up. The statement of no other particular fact would have the same happy influence.

An Irishman who had just landed said,
"The first bit of meat I ever ate in this country was a roasted potato, boiled yesterday; and if you don't believe me I can show it to ye, for I have it in my pocket."

When a young farmer's wife made her first boy's pants precisely the same before as behind, the father exclaimed: "Goodness! he won't know whether he is going to school or coming home."

"A party gentleman crowded himself into a car on the train leaving Atlanta, next to a young man, who said, 'Perhaps you would not mind in here if you knew I had just had the small-pox.' 'Oh, that's nothing,' was the reply, 'this is the first time I have been out since I had it myself.'"

Hon. W. G. M. Golsen is our authorized Agent to receive and receive for monies due us for advertising Probate notices.

Probate Notices.—See all new Probate notices in to-day's paper.

Cotton, low middlings, is selling at only 14 cents in Montgomery.

At the municipal election held in Eu- faula the other day, the Democrats elected their entire ticket. A big fight took place, in which five negroes were shot and two white men.

The Democratic State Executive Com- mittee were in session in Montgomery this week. The committee is preparing to make a vigorous fight at the coming Fall election.

We learn from the Advertiser that Mr. Joseph Richardson, a well known Knox- ville iron man, is coming to Prattville to engage in the manufacture of bar iron. We are glad to hear it, and most cordially wel- come him to our town. Mr. R. is repre- sented to be an intelligent, well known Welshman, whose whole life has been devoted to the manufacture of iron.

A Delaware physician some time ago grafted a piece of his own skin (white) on the body of a negro. It grew, but at the end of three months was black as the sur- rounding cuticle.

The proposition to acknowledge God and the Christian religion in the Constitution of the United States has been reported ad- versely to in the House of Representatives by the Judiciary Committee.

Persons addicted to the use of opium will be grieved to learn that there is a prospect of a great scarcity of that sub- stant. The failure of the crop in Ben- gal is beginning to have its effect upon the market.

At Athens, Georgia, recently, a young man while skylarking with a little boy put a rope around his neck and threw it over a shaft. The rope caught and the lad was drawn up, being so terribly crushed as to die soon after.

Though Chang and Eng are dead we are not, we are glad to note, to be thereby deprived of our stock of monstrosity France has produced one which will con- tinue to furnish speculative food for savans and profit to showmen. She possesses two colored girls who are joined at the lower part of the back, and the genuineness of the cartilage has been certified to by a medical commission appointed by the Paris prefect of police.

Serenade.—We tender to the clever members of the Prattville Brass Band our warmest thanks for a delightful serenade, at our residence, on Saturday night last. The band have only been taking lessons from Prof. Myers about two weeks, and we were really surprised to find that they had made such rapid progress under his instruc- tion. Prof. M. is one of the finest musi- cians in the State, and we feel confident he will make our amateur band something for our citizens to be proud of in the course of a couple of months.

SOUTHERN MUSICAL JOURNAL.—The Feb- ruary number of this most able exponent of the "Art Divine" comes promptly to hand, with its usual variety of original and se- lected articles, music, etc., etc. Eight large pages of music (both Vocal and In- strumental) are given in this number, and this feature alone is worth the subscription price—(one dollar a year). As we glance through these interesting contents, and notice how ably every department is edited and arranged, and also the elegant and tasteful appearance of the magazine, we query, if there are not many Southern musicians and music lovers, who unaware that "Away down South in Dixie" we have a musical periodical equal to any in the land, are now regular subscribers to similar publications from the far North.

If there be such among our subscribers, we would say that while we do not dis- parage other musical publications in the least (no matter where they hail from), yet we can consistently urge our Southern Musical Journal, first on the list, and more- over, to endorse and sustain it in every way possible.

The Journal is published, printed, and gotten up wholly at Savannah, Ga., and de- signed especially for circulation among Southern readers.

Specimen copies containing notice of the new premiums now given each subscri- ber will be mailed free of charge, to any ad- dress, by Laiden & Bates, Savannah, Ga.

EDITORIAL PEETITIES.

A Life of Washington, in Japanese, con- sisting of forty-four volumes, illustrated, has just been published in Yeddo. Wash- ington is represented in the costume of the present time, with a mustache, a cane and a Baye terrier.

An ugly fashion has been recently re- vived, that of cutting the front hair so that it hangs like a fringe across the fore- head. It will, of course, be universally followed.

Coffee county is said to be the most pros- perous in the State. They have no rail- roads, no telegraphs, no granges, nor no politicians. They claim to be a happy people.

We notice in a recent issue of the Her- ald, details of the most abject poverty, which the recent panic has visited upon thousands of the citizens of New York, and the relief societies are actively at work to meet the earnest and urgent demands upon them, in the fearful extremity of hun- ger.

The granges of Greene county recom- mend the importance of making a living at home, by planting small grain and rais- ing their own meat.

Dispatches from the West, show that the women raid upon saloons, is spread- ing. Numbers are not large, but they com- prise a very determined class of the fair sex. Saloons are closed upon the approach of the women, and opened after they leave.

It is averred that the reason American girls refuse to enter domestic service is that they object to anything approaching mer- cenary employment—what they seek is by menial.

Gen. Harney charges all our Indian troubles to dishonest agents and bad wis- dom. He is in favor of hanging as the proper remedy.

The Shelby Guide reports that a farmer in that county, who has tried the remedy, says salt water will destroy the cabbage worm and the striped cabbage bug.

Fifty thousand acres of Marengo coun- ty, assessed to unknown owners, are to be offered at tax sale on the first Monday of April.

The Ledger says that Wm. Smith, one of the defendants in the famous Smith and Plant case in the United States District Court, was killed by lightning near Nix- burg in Coosa county, last Tuesday.

In the election held last year, the Dem- ocrats carried the States of Oregon, Dela- ware, California, Texas, Connecticut, Mary- land, Georgia, Virginia, Tennessee, Wis- consin, Kentucky, Missouri, Indiana, Ohio, and New York.

An exchange says the old story comes from New York, of a plethora of money and renewed activity at the stock exchange. Now let old "Pleth" step this way, Mr. Merryman.

When intoxicated, a Frenchman wants to dance, a German to sing, an English- man to eat, a Spaniard to gamble, an Ital- ian to boast, a Russian to be affectionate, an Irishman to fight, an American to make a speech.

On the 21st of February, last year, Ala- bama cotton—Low Middling—sold in New York at 20 cents. It lacks something of being up to that figure now.

The Democrats last week carried the city of Syracuse, New York, by 504 ma- jority. It went Republican last year by 234 majority.

A negro, while plowing in the eastern portion of Auburn, a few days since, ex- humed a skeleton.

James McMillan, of Shelby county, was accidentally shot, the 2nd, by Mr. Luther F. Hilt, and killed.

On the 17th ult. Mr. David U. Patton, a Sumter youth who has not yet reached his 20th year, killed his 58th deer.

In Lowndes county, where cropping last year was not a success, 58 mortgages were entered for record in the Probate Court for the week ending the 17th.

Jack Martin of Crenshaw county has killed a hog that netted 568 pounds and yielded seven gallons of lard.

Mrs. Clarence Prentice proposes to col- lect, edit, and publish the literary remains of the late George D. Prentice.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Prattville Male and Female Academy, held on the 14th of February, 1874, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted by the Board, to wit:

Resolved, That in accepting the resig- nation of Maj. J. M. Smith, this Board de- sires to express its appreciation of the ser- vice of Maj. Smith in his long continued course of his trust as a member of this Board, and regret that his connection with us in this capacity is now to close, and our best wishes for his prosperity in all his future social or business relations.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this Board the Academy, under its present fully met our expectations, and that the Principal of the Academy and all her as- sistants eminently merit and unqualifiedly have our thanks for the extraordinary efforts which they have made to make the School a success.

O. S. G. DOSTER, Secretary.

The epidemic among the horses in New York appears to have occasioned serious alarms. The disease, the symptoms of which have been the same in all cases, has not been confined to any particular con- dition of the stock, affecting all alike. At first the animals exhibit stupor and great weakness when seized on the road, in some cases reach the stables with difficulty. For a time they refuse all food, the eyes become swollen, and a copious discharge of matter follows. In some instances the eyes have become entirely closed. These indications are accompanied by swelling of the fore and hind legs, and sometimes other portions of the body, though usually the swelling has been confined to the legs. Little mortali- ty has attended the epidemic thus far, with prompt medical treatment the appeti- te soon returning, and, as a rule, the ani- mal recovering from the attack in the course of three days or a week.

The Pall Mall Gazette publishes a re- port that the British forces took posses- sion of Coassima, the capital of Ashan- te, on the 29th of January, and would commence their march back to the coast on the 24th of February.

The Missouri State Grange now in ses- sion represent a membership of over 100- 000. Every county in the State but two is represented. The interest and atten- dance are greater than ever before.

Milt. Malone committed suicide the night before he was to be hung; Gus. Claytor was killed by a gambler in Waco, Texas and now Penn. Betch has been killed in the streets of Atlanta, by Gains Cushman, a gambler. They were all men of violent passions, and reckless lives.

Here is a nut for the teeth of the anti- quarry. Two weeks ago a miner discovered in mine No. 10, at Pitt-on, Penn., a small wooden box firmly imbedded in the con- crete of the earth. Upon touching the box it crumbled into dust like a fungus, and disclosed a copper whistle, having a flint mouthpiece and in other respects shaped like our ordinary tin whistles. The miner brightened it up, applied it to his mouth and made it sound, doubtless for the first time in centuries.

Montgomery Female College.

The Spring Session of this institution opens February 15th, 1874.

No more superior advantages in point of female education are presented anywhere in the Southern States; and it will be the constant care of the Board of Trustees to preserve the high standard which the institution has established.

The following constitute the several departments, and the names of the Faculty:

President, Teacher, MRS. M. C. BIBB. Higher Mathematics, Latin and French, MRS. THOMAS G. CHILTON. Philosophy and Chemistry, MRS. M. M. COVKE. Intermediate Department, MISS PETRIE. Primary Department, MISS HANCOCK. Music, MISS PORTER. Elocution, MISS VAIL. Art Department, MISS LOCKETT.

Young ladies can find suitable accommoda- tions at the residence of Mrs. Chilton, adjoining the College. MRS. THOMAS G. CHILTON, Principal.
