The next Mite Meeting of the Methodist Church will be held on Friday night of this week, at the residence of Judge B. W. Starke.

Joseph, the eldest son of Rev. J. B. Cottrell, D. D., formerly Presiding Elder of this District, but now stationed at East Selma, is reported as being very ill.

The DOLLAR STORE is now opening a large assortment of new Spring Goods.

Pike County Circuit Court commences its Spring Term on Monday next, and it is probable that there will be an unusually large number of strangers present.

Alderman N. O. Glover, of Union Springs, passed through our city on Wednesday, on his way to the "Land of Flowers." His trip is one of business and pleasure combined.

Watch movements are put and plates to look as well as solid gold, by W. A. Crews.

The City Fathers, last Saturday night, decided to have a new well dug on the north-east corner of the Public Square, a step which will meet the hearty approval of all tax-payers and citizens.

The Commissioners' Court met on Monday last, transacted the usual unimportant business, and then adjourned. Nothing was done in regard to the bridges of the county, destroyed by the late heavy storm.

Prompt attention was given to the matter of all dealers in liquors, tobacco and cigars, is called to the official notice of J. W. Douglas, Commissioner of Internal Revenue for the United States, in regard to special taxes, which must be paid to Louis H. Mayor, Collector of Internal Revenue at Mobile.

The DOLLAR STORE is always prepared to show goods to all visitors, even if they do not buy.

Mr. S. G. Murphy, of the firm of Swift, Murphy & Co., Columbus, beamed in upon us on Wednesday, and in his peculiar way, made us all feel better by his cheerful countenance and pleasant words. Troy has few better or truer friends than the men who compose this firm.

During Passover week, celebrated by our Israelitish citizens, Mrs. M. J. Seisel, one of the most estimable ladies of that faith, was kind enough to send us a fine specimen of the unleavened bread used by them during the Passover season, and for which we have our best thanks.

W. A. CREWS has had fifteen years experience in repairing Watches and Clocks.

County Superintendent Menefee has just returned from Montgomery with a pocket full of the atomizable looking State Currency just issued, which he will pay out to the teachers of Pike county next week. Bad as it looks, however, it will purchase bread and meat for hungry mouths.

All subscribers to the Troy Graphic, who desire the beautiful new given as a premium, and which can be seen at this office, can obtain it by leaving fifty cents with the editor of THE MESSENGER, the amount needed to pay for mounting and mailing this elegant picture for subscribers outside of New York City.

Although the bridges in many parts of the county are still in an impassable condition, it is gratifying to know that cotton is again coming in, and the business of Troy rapidly improving. Flats are being used on several of the rivers and creeks, thus affording communication with our city.

The DOLLAR STORE offers Boots, Shoes and Fancy Articles at exceedingly low prices.

Our thanks are due a select serenading party, whose fingers, touched their bright guitars, and made sweet music to float upon the midnight air, on Monday night last, beneath our window. Such music has power to wake the gentle zephyrus beneath the starlit sky, and hush to rest the weary, sleep-burdened heart of man.

Dr. C. B. Holman has put up a handsome sign at his new drug store in Jones' Block, and also made many improvements in his neat and attractive establishment, which fact indicates that he is doing a good business in his present location, which is a very convenient one for the people of that part of the city.

Solid Gold Rings and Jewelry made to order, and work warranted, by CREWS.

As cotton shipments are again resumed, over the Mobile and Girard Railroad, we renew the publication of the reports of Messrs. Swift, Murphy & Co., Planters' Warehouse, who quote the Columbus market, April 6th, as steady, low middling 14@14 1/2, middling 15@15 1/2, New York quiet, middling 17, low middling 16 1/2, futures firm, gold 131.

The Tuskegee News asks: "How many weekly newspapers in the state of Alabama take out state and county licenses? Let all answer, then we will give our reasons for asking." Let it be understood, by the News, says the Selma Times, that a decision in the State courts has been rendered, declaring the act imposing a license on newspapers inoperative.

The DOLLAR STORE is selling Spring Goods at the very lowest prices.

We are glad to welcome to our city, as a permanent resident, Capt. Henry D. Green, son of Chas. A. Green, Esq., of Columbus, who has associated himself with ex-Alderman W. L. Wilson, in the proprietorship of the Alabama Warehouse. Capt. Green is an experienced business man, and cannot fail to prove a most desirable and profitable addition to the city. In social life he will be found an agreeable and cultivated gentleman.

Col. R. H. Powell, late editor-in-chief of the Union Springs Herald, was in the city on Saturday last on his way home from Ozark, where he had been in attendance upon the Circuit Court. We are glad to see that the suggestion of his name for Lieut. Governor is meeting with a general and hearty approval in this section of the State.

We publish, on the first page, an able review of the Address of the State Democratic and Conservative Committee, which every voter in Pike county will do well to read. The time for primary meetings is now near at hand, and we shall next week devote a portion of our space to the discussion of the duty of the voters of Pike county to organize promptly, thoroughly and efficiently for the coming campaign.

We hope that no one will fail to read the pathetic article on the first page of this issue, and that the Forgetting will be soon forgotten. It is copied from the Selma Times. It comes to the people of this city and county at this time, with peculiar force and deep pathos, as applied to the apparently forgotten dead of the Confederate army. Read it thoughtfully and ask yourselves what your duty is in the matter to which it refers.

Watches accurately adjusted in position and to chronal, by W. A. CREWS, Troy.

Several prominent citizens, who have young daughters growing up in the community, have requested us to write something in rebuke of the practice now too common with a certain class of boys-men in our city, of smoking in the presence of ladies and misses on public occasions, and in public places. If the practice is continued, as we hope it may not be, we shall take occasion to express some very decided opinions on the subject.

The Ladies' Memorial Association is bound to touch a tender spot in the heart of every noble-hearted mother and daughter. Before it had been organized an hour, a handsome and costly "Lee Memorial" was presented to the Association by Miss Mattie Rice, daughter of Mr. W. R. Rice of this city. We know of other valuable gifts of a like character that will follow, in due time, as the result of her patriotic and generous action.

Passengers from Troy, over the Mobile and Girard Railroad, can be sure of a good breakfast at the Johnson House, Union Springs.

It is reported that during the past few months 950 bales of cotton have been bought in Columbus for the Tallahassee Factory. The trustees of the company have high hopes of relieving the institution of all its embarrassments and leading it to prosperity. No more false book-keeping nor speculations, is to be admitted. The trustees are determined to show the great advantages the South possesses, over the North, in cotton manufacturing, when such establishments are legitimately managed.

Col. R. L. Mott, Vice President of the Mobile and Girard Railroad, came in on the train Tuesday afternoon, and reports the train of that day as unusually severe, much damage being done along the line of the road. The Uchee bridge is rebuilt, but it is uncertain when the old schedule will be resumed. The freight and passenger trains are still consolidated. The officials of the road have spared no efforts to repair the damages of the late heavy storm, and will put the trains upon a proper schedule at the earliest possible moment.

Passengers for Troy, on the Mobile and Girard Railroad, can get a good supper at the Johnson House, Union Springs.

The revival meeting at the Methodist Church, of which we spoke in our last issue, closed on Monday night, having resulted in the addition of one male and several female members to that church. The pastor was assisted by his father, the presiding elder, Rev. J. A. Peterson, of Union Springs, Rev. Wm. C. Combs, of Orion, and Rev. W. H. Biggs, of this city. The services were very fully attended, and the sermons listened to with marked attention. In fact, we have never seen such good order and respectful attention displayed on similar occasions.

It is a vain effort to attempt to stop the use of slang phrases on the part of children, if sensation preachers are allowed to use them in the pulpit unrebuked. "I make a point on you," is a billiard slang expression. "I close in on you," is a prize fighter's term. "That's what the matter is," and "I speak of you," are slang phrases that fall very harshly from an ambassador of Christ, "who speaks never man spake," even though the preacher be a man of sense and a philosopher. A regard for the propriety of speech aside from the sacredness of the pulpit and its mission, should deter preachers from the use of such expressions.

Ladies' Memorial Association.

Pursuant to a public invitation given at the Methodist Church on Monday night, a number of ladies and gentlemen of this city met at Freeman's Hall on Tuesday afternoon, for the purpose of organizing a Ladies' Memorial Association. Capt. W. H. Strickland was called to the chair, and Capt. B. W. Starke requested to act as secretary. After the object of the meeting had been stated, a committee, consisting of three ladies and three gentlemen, was appointed to prepare and report a basis of organization and a partial list of officers, which they subsequently did, and their action was unanimously ratified by the meeting. A severer of the ladies elected were not present, and it is not yet known whether they will be able to act or not, the publication of their names is deferred until next week, at which time the Association will be fully organized in all its departments.

The ladies were selected from those who lost husbands, sons or brothers during the war, or who are the wives of Civil War veterans who commanded companies from this section. The Advisory Committee, which is composed of gentlemen, was made up from the list of Captains under whom the dead heroes of Pike county so bravely "marched to victory or to death." Taken as a whole, the selections are eminently wise and just, and give promise that the Association will yet accomplish a great and noble work in gathering up the scattered memorials of our dead heroes, and preserving them for future generations. This will be the chief work of the organization, although it also proposes to annually celebrate "Decoration Day" in a patriotic and appropriate manner. The Association opens its doors to every mother, wife and daughter in Pike county, and it is hoped that not one will refuse to join heart and hand in the sacred and patriotic purposes it has in view. There will be an important meeting, on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at Freeman's Hall, which all the ladies of Troy are earnestly invited to attend and take part in.

Dallas County Awake.

The Executive Committee of Dallas county has opened the campaign by the adoption of the following resolutions:

Resolved, That each best in the county, be entitled to one delegate to the county Convention for every twenty-five votes cast for Colonel Herndon for Governor at the last State election, and to one delegate for every fraction over ten votes.

Resolved, That the Democrats and Conservatives of this county be recommended to hold primary meetings at their usual places of voting in their respective precincts, on Saturday, July 11th, 1874, for the purpose of electing delegates to the County Convention to be held in Selma, on the 16th of July next.

Grange Column.

That man who by the Plow would Thrive, Himself must either Hold or Drive.

Items For Granges.

The Granges of Dale county are to meet at Ozark on the fourth Saturday of this month, for the purpose of organizing a Council.

An adjourned meeting of the Pike County Council was held in this city on Saturday last, at which important business was transacted. A full report of the proceedings will appear in our next issue.

We offer as a premium to the Granger who shall bring us in the largest number of subscribers, old or new, with the cash, before the first of May next, a handsome gold Grange Badge. There is no limit to the number required; three or twenty, the highest will take the Badge.

Grangers on Education.

The Batesville Grange, of Barbour county, recently passed the following preamble and resolution: WHEREAS, One object of every organization, and the greatest effort of every good citizen, should be to enlighten the young, the rising generation, who are soon to take our place as men and women in society, to take charge of our homes as well as the reins of government, and will remember us with gratitude according to the legacy left them; and as education is the only legacy that cannot be soon squandered, or spent in idleness and dissipation, it is our duty not only as brothers of a common order, but as intelligent beings, to assist the poor of our land, and to render assistance in the way of education to the children of those who have been unfortunate in our midst; and for which their children's children will rise up to bless our good name; therefore,

Resolved, That it be a part of the duty of the Executive Committee to enquire into the ability of those who have children in our midst, and if not being educated, the cause be ascertained, and if it be from an indifference of this important matter, such parents shall be encouraged to a performance of their duty; if, from the want of necessary means to send them to school, the fact shall be made known to the Grange, and that we take steps to assist them so far as we deem ourselves able.

Writing for the Press.

If those to whom "these few lines" are applicable will cut them out, post them up, and read them every day until reformation is produced, we shall feel amply compensated for their publication in our columns.

Write upon pages of a single size.
Cross all your r's and dot all your i's.
On one side only let your lines be seen—
Both sides filled up announce a Verdant Green.
Correct—yes, re-correct—all that you write,
And let your ink be black, your paper white,
For a spangly, fleecy, or a muddy blue,
Betrays a mind of the same dismal hue.
Be scrupulously, for on this score
Nothing proclaims the practiced writer more.
Then send it off, and let it merit lack;
But first pay all the postage on it too.
For editors look black on "six cents due,"
And murmur, as they turn the effusion o'er,
"A shabby fellow and a wretched bore!"

The Alabama Baptist.

This is the name of a new Baptist weekly, published at Marion, Ala., which claims the patronage of the members of that denomination in this State. The second issue, which is on our table, contains a letter from Rev. R. W. Priest, of this city who says: "I was for about two years, under the care and protection of the English flag. There I felt all was right and secure; and so it was. But when I saw the Stars and Stripes flying from the mast-head of an American steamer, there was an indescribable impression upon me, and an unyielding desire to get aboard the American vessel."

When I first heard that there was a talk of getting up an Alabama Baptist, I did not feel in favor of it. I have been reading the Tennessee Baptist nearly all the time for about twenty-five years, I have loved it and the editor, as much as I ought to love any paper or man. For nearly the same time I have read and loved the Index. The South-Western Baptist was as dear to me as a paper could be. These papers brought joy and gladness to me during my stay in that dark, that far-off land. When they stood in conflict, as friends should not stand, still I loved and read and praised them; for where is the man whose weaknesses and faults are not felt? When the South-Western Baptist was united with the Index, it gave light and glory to the Index, but the South-Western Baptist was shrouded, and I have never clearly seen it since.

When I opened my post office box, and found the Alabama Baptist, it was with feelings kindred to those that possessed me when I saw the Stars and Stripes flying from the HOME SHIP. How clearly the great necessity of a State paper stands out before me! It will be that Alabama Baptists must see and feel their interests lighted and blighted until they have a paper to build up, unite, and hold them together. I would do nothing to harm any one, or any State paper, but why shall or should the Baptists of Alabama be divided, and have not even a name, while they have numbers and power enough to be known and felt everywhere.

The Alabama Baptist. Brother editor, I love to see the name, and to read it. I want it to remain as long as the rivers run into the ocean. I want it together in one all the General Associations, District Associations, all the churches and individual Baptists of the State. I want it to unite North Alabama—the home of my birth and childhood—with Central and South Alabama. Let it tell us of love and mercy—let it tell us of our children of Jesus and the Cross; then its beauty and warmth will establish its power in the hearts and homes of all of God's people. We all have some things about which we could complain, but let brethren talk and write for eternity, with soul and mind raised above the little differences and follies to which we are all incident, and brethren that now seem to oppose the Alabama Baptist will come to the feast of love. Let me thank you for the numbers sent to me—I did not notice how many; I suppose about ten. I am teaching, and the papers should have been sent to Bro. E. Y. VanHoose—he is our pastor.

Minor Topics.

The fences of the United States have cost more than any class of property save real estate. Figures could be adduced to prove the truth of the above, but it is unnecessary, as the public mind has so often been directed to it. A fee simple in land should be free from molestation, not only from men, but from stock. A king may not place his foot upon the soil of a peasant without permission; is the doctrine of the common-law, and yet animals are allowed privileges that are denied to individuals. Is this right? What right has any man to graze his stock upon the land of another? Every farmer in the land knows that the cost of fencing stock out is much greater than that of fencing them in.

He may be seen any day, in almost any part of the village; he never makes room for you on the sidewalk, looks at you slyly, and swears smartly if asked anything; he is very impudent, and often vulgar to ladies who pass; he delights in frightening and sometimes does serious injury to little boys and girls; he lounges at the street corners, and is the first arrival at a dog fight or any other sport or scrap; he crowds into the post office in the evening, and multiplies himself and his antics at such a rate that people having legitimate business there are crowded out; he thinks himself very sharp, he is certainly very noisy; he can smoke and chew tobacco now and then, and rip out an oath most any time. We ask whose boy he is? Mother, is he yours? We think he is; for there are many good qualities in the lad, and we do not think that you know what he does on the street. Look after him; mother, keep him more at home. Train him, and you will have a son to be proud of in after years.
