THE LAST ARRIVAL.

There came to port last Sunday night
The queerest little craft,
With out an inch of rigging on,
I looked, and looked, and laughed.
It seemed so curious that she Should cross the unknown water,
And move herself within my room—
My daughter! Oh my daughter!

Ye, by these presents, witness all,
She's welcome fifty times,
And comes consigned to hope and love,
And common meter rhymes.
She had no manifest but this,
No flag floats o'er the water,
She's rather new from British Loyne—
My daughter! Oh my daughter!

Ring out, wild bells—and time ones toy,
Ring out the lover's moan;
Ring in the little worsted socks,
Ring in the bib and spoon,
Ring out the muse; ring in the nurse,
Ring in the milk and water,
Away with paper, pens, and ink—
My daughter! Oh my daughter!

What is it which I have never saw,
Never possessed, and yet gave to each
Of his children? Parents.

A cat has nine lives, but a calumny ninety.

Mirrors were said to have been invented, because ladies are so forgetful of their looks.

A great drinker being at a table
they offered him grapes at dessert.
"Thank you," said he, pushing away the plate; "I don't take my wine in pills."

A small lady, aged five, whose paper had not bought her the usual new clothes for Christmas, was heard to privately remark that she guessed "Pa was holding on for a rise in the rag market."

A widower replied to a sympathizing friend at the funeral of his wife,
"Well, yes, I shall miss her; she was a very expensive woman."

An old lady on a train-not far from Lafayette, hearing the brakeman sing out "Eubank's cut," sailed to the door and asked: "Is he hurt much?"

Upon the outer wall of a female college in Ohio, the other morning, was discovered conspicuously displayed, the sign "Domestic sewing machines."
Some of those specimens of total depravity known as college students did it.

An old seaman at a prayer meeting in relating his experience, stated that when at sea in storms and tempests, he had often derived great comfort from that beautiful passage of scripture,
"Faint heart never won a fair lady."

A marriage, or a railway train, may properly be termed a railroad tie.

PROBATE NOTICES.—See all new Probate notices in to-day's paper.

Our Circuit Court will convene on Monday, the 13th of April. Judge Smith will preside.

The Democrats have carried New Hampshire by a small majority. The election took place a few days ago.

MARRIED.—In Prattville, by Rev. J. K. Hazen, on the night of the 10th inst., at the residence of the bride, Mr. A. Baker and Mrs. Margaret Suther.

CONCERT.—We have been requested to state that the Brass Band, of Prattville, will give a concert the first week in April, for the purpose of raising money to finish paying for their instruments. We hope their concert will be well attended.

Mr. W. R. Jones, Commerce street, Montgomery, has now on hand a splendid stock of buggies, carriages, rockers, harnesses, saddles, bridles, and the most beautiful baby wagons in the city. He sells very cheap, and if you want anything in his line be sure to call on him.

DEATH OF EX-PRESIDENT T. L. MORE.—Ex-President Fillmore died at his residence, in Buffalo, N. Y., on Sunday night last, after a short illness. A great and good man has fallen, and his death will fill this wide land with sadness and sorrow.

DEATH OF CHARLES SUMNER.—The Hon. Charles Sumner, of Massachusetts, died suddenly yesterday evening at Washington city. He was born in Boston, January 6, 1814, and has been an active politician since 1846, at which time he opposed the annexation of Texas.

MADISON HOUSE.—This house has been refitted and refurnished, and is now in splendid condition, under the control and proprietorship of our old friend, Chas. H. Scott, who is well known to many in this county. He charges only 50 cents for a meal or bed, and his table is supplied with the best the market affords. Read his card elsewhere, and call on him when you visit the city.

GRANDS CONVENTION.—The Grangers of Autauga County will hold a county convention at Prattville, on Friday, the 20th of March, for the purpose of organizing a County Council. The Prattville Grange appointed delegates at their last meeting to attend the convention.

At the last meeting of China Grove Grange, Pike county, a resolution was adopted that the members of the Grange do pledge themselves not to patronize or countenance persons who may engage in the suspicious business of bartering for counter produce after dark, as it leads to dishonesty and theft on the part of a certain portion of the community. It is hoped that every Grange in the county, if it has not already done so, will adopt a similar resolution. Prompt and united action is the surest way to stop this species of illegal traffic, which enables a large amount of stealing.

President Grant is strongly in favor of the "Centennial Exposition," and so states in a recent short message to Congress upon the subject, but wishes to make it a complete success or to suppress it in its infancy, acknowledging our inability to give it the international character to which our self-esteem aspires.

The Lieutenant Governor of Bengal informs the home government that upwards of a million persons, even now, are starving to death, and all the poorer classes—which means millions more—are beginning to feel the want of food. There is no lack of food to feed their starving millions, but it has to be drawn from vast distances in the quickest time possible.

EDITORIAL BABBITTIES.

Several prominent citizens of Hale county have been arrested charged with assisting to murder an Irishman, who was found in New Prospect neighborhood with a stab in his side and his throat cut.

Dr. Schmidt, of the University of Athens, has just completed a map of the moon, on which he has been at work for thirty-four years.

Chess is said to have been played in India before the first stone of the Egyptian pyramids was laid.

In Missouri they are talking of protecting themselves against the ravages of the praying hands by the passage of a bill which has been offered in the legislature, to punish praying, preaching or swearing on the premises of another by fine and imprisonment.

The Metropolitan Catholic Total Abstinence Union of New York has disclaimed all confidence in the Women's whiskey war as being a sort of fanciful movement without any firm and lasting foundation.

Over three hundred Virginia babies have been named after Robert E. Lee and still the work goes on.

It is said that Virginia has more of her population at college than any other country save Scotland; also, that Virginia has at her colleges more students from beyond her borders than any other State in the Union.

Pope Pius IX is 82 years old, and has reigned 27½ years.

Rev. S. J. McMorris, of Wetumpka, who died on 2d inst., was well and widely known. He was a Universalist, minister and for more than fifty years had preached that faith.

The saloon keepers in Selma have received pressing invitations from the women to cease selling liquors.

Henry Broome, of Georgia, his three daughters, and his son-in-law, last year made twenty-five bales of cotton, and twenty of wool.

Helen and Judith, Hungarian twins, were united in a manner similar to the Siamese twins. They were born in 1701, and lived twenty-two years.

A monument to the confederate dead has been completed in Atlanta. It is sixty-five feet high.

The Supreme Court of Alabama pronounced the funding act constitutional, and by one of its recent decisions, tax collectors and county treasurers are required to retain one-fifth of the amount of taxes received and pay it to the school department.

There was a bell in a building burned at a recent fire in Providence, that bore a date two years prior to the discovery of this continent by Columbus. It formerly called the inmates of a Spanish convent to prayer.

A Bostonian has asked Wade Hampton to enroll him as a member of the Southern Historical Society.

Speaking of "Cremation," a Milan professor has lived up a plan by which a corpse can be consumed in twenty minutes, by a stream of hot air at white heat, for about three dollars cost. There is nothing left but a little heap of snow white ashes.

A public spirited Indianapolis hen has supplemented the Siamese twins and pay by laying a hybridized pair of eggs.

"There is nothing," says a Boston journal, "which will kill a man so quick as whiskey." Then, whiskey must be even more deadly than nicotine, of which it is said by a western paper that a single drop on a dog's nose will kill a man in three minutes.

A nephew of the great Danton was picked up the other day in the gutter of Paris, half frozen and starved. He was in his seventy-fourth year.

Alex. Stephens is quite ill in Washington, and some persons think he will not recover.

Dr. Douglas, a singing school teacher, at Troy, Pike county, noticed a little girl only 13 years old in his room, gazing at him with a look of intense curiosity, and then committed a most brutal outrage upon her.

Prof. Proctor, in his popular lectures about the sun, uses the most forcible illustrations. For instance, he says that if a child had an arm ninety-one million of miles long, and should touch the sun with his fingers, he would have to wait until he was one hundred and thirty-five years old before he could be conscious of the fact—that makes the experiment one that may be safely tried.

"A burnt child dreads the fire," but this child's experience would be of little use to him, for before he could instruct his hand not to do so again, he would be about two hundred and eighty-five years old.

When they find a man in Washington who has a plan of his own for relieving the financial embarrassments of the country, they cut his legs off. There are no cripples in Washington thus far.

A novel dining table is now in use in one of the palaces of the Emperor of Russia. The table is circular, and is placed on a wheeled platform. At the touch of a small like the rub of Aladdin's lamp, down goes the table through the floor and a new table, loaded with fresh dishes and supplies, rises in its place.

But this is not all, each plate stands on a weighted disk, the table cloth being cut with circular openings, one for each plate. If a guest desires a change of plate he touches a signal at his side, when, presto, his plate disappears and another rises. These mechanical tables render the presence of servants quite superfluous.

MADISON HOUSE.
Corner Market and Perry Streets, Montgomery, Ala.

The above named house is located in the center of the business portion of the city, convenient to street cars, Post office and places of amusement.

Tables will be supplied with the best the market can afford, attentive waiters and everything for the convenience of the traveling public.

Barber will be received by the day, week or month.

HEAT IT HOT, SAM.

Colonel McPatten went from Virginia to Illinois, in the early settlement of the country, when roadside inns were unknown, and every dweller in the wilderness kept a sort of travelers home. The Colonel, by a lucky investment in wild land, had become in time a rich man, but he kept up the habits of hospitality, and if the guest was well to do, he did not object to turning an honest penny in that way.

One cold, blustering winter evening, a horseman drew up at the house and asked accommodations for the night. A half-grown lad answered in the affirmative, and ushered him into a sitting room, where the great wood fire itself gave him a cordial welcome. After supper the landlord made his appearance for the first time. He was hearty and hale, and as rosy as any boniface should be, but he was bent and crippled in his gait. He explained by saying that he had taken a cold which had settled in his back.

"I don't mind the cold so much," he continued, "but it is so inconvenient. I have been recommended to try a poor man's plaster, and if you will excuse me, I will put it on. Sam! Samuel! Samuel McPatten!"

"Here, father," said the lad above mentioned, hastily swallowing a large piece of mince pie which he had been quietly enjoying.

"Here Sam, my boy, heat this plaster for me, and put it on my back. Heat it hot, Sam."

Say which, he handed the plaster to his son, and seating himself astride of a chair, with his back to the fire, threw his suspenders back, and shirked over his head. "Now, Sam," said the Colonel, "if the poor mans plaster is hot, you may put it on; but you may wait a little while; I'm afraid it's not hot enough." Heat it hot, Sam—heat it hot, Sam, he continued, turning to the traveler, who was seated in the corner, "why this is the poor mans friend, hey? Give it up!"—laughing to himself—"because it sticks closer than a brother!"

For Sam who had been watching his chance to speak without interrupting his father, ventured to say:

"I guess it's hot enough now, father."

"What do you know about it?" said the old man hastily. "I say heat it hot, Sam, heat it hot."

Sam, whose face was a red heat, had held the plaster to the fire until it ran and dripped down on the hearth, and had made no reply.

"Well," said the old man looking around, "maybe it will do, now, Sam—Clap it on."

Sam, armed with the plaster, approached him, and if my words can be taken, did clap it on. The old man gave one yell like a wild Indian, and jumped clear over the back of his chair, kicking his old fashioned breeches off his feet and dancing around with pain. The traveler laughed until he cried, and the more he roared the more he laughed. When the first agony was over, the Colonel began to swear, and our traveler thought it would be prudent to retire, lest he should share his wrath with Sam, who, he observed, was making good his distance.

The next morning when leaving, he handed the Colonel five dollars, saying with a twinkling in his eye, "I do not want any change. It is cheap at that."

Nothing is more certain than that water will find its level. On Christmas day last at Dayton, Ohio, Mr. John C. Water was married to Miss Caroline Level. There is a poem, not by Tennyson, which commences:

What'er that girl was set to do,
She done it with a zest;
No matter what her contract was
She done her level best.

A lady who was stoning raisins left the room, leaving her small boy, for bidding him to touch the fruit in her absence. "Well, Charlie, did you take any raisins?" "No, mama." "You know if you did God saw you." "Yes, I know he did, but he won't tell."

A preacher recently took for his text "How old art thou?" and a crowd of ladies of uncertain age left the church in high dudgeon.

Where are our forefathers—the Pilgrim fathers—the heroes of '76? Shouted an orator the other evening. Dared, responded a sad looking man sitting on a platform.

The Only Known Medicine

AT THE SAME TIME.

Purge Purify and strengthen the system.

Their research has at last been forwarded by a discovery which fully realizes the old standard of the medical faculty, and which is justly regarded as the most important triumph that Pharmacy has ever achieved. This important desideratum is Dr. TUTTS' VEGETABLE LIVER PILL.

Which purify the blood and remove all corrupt humors and unhealthy accumulations from the body, yet produces no weakness or laxative action, whatever, but on the contrary tones the stomach and invigorates the body during the progress of their operation. They unite the heretofore irreconcilable qualities of a Stomachic and a Purifying Tonic.

Dr. Tutts' Pills are the most active and searching medicine in existence. They at once attack the very root of disease, and their action is so prompt that in an hour or two after they are taken the patient is aware of their good effects. They are taken at any time without restraint of diet or occupation, they produce either nausea, griping, or constipation, and as a family medicine they have no rival.
