OLD FOLKS.

Oh! don't be sorrowful, darling,
And don't be sorrowful pray,
Taking the year together, my dear,
There isn't more night than day.

'Tis rainy weather, my darling,
Time's waves, they heavily run;
But, taking the year together, my dear,
There isn't more cloud than sun.

We are old folks now, my darling,
Our heads they are growing gray,
But, taking the year together, my dear,
You will always find the May.

We have had our May, my darling,
And our roses, long ago,
And the time of year is coming my dear,
For the silent night and the snow.

And God is God, my darling,
Of night as well as of day,
And we feel and know that we can go
Wherever He leads the way.

Aye, God of the night, my darling—
Of the night of death so grim,
The gate that leads out of life, good wife,
Is the gate that leads to Him.

A fellow called to see a man in town
The other day who was engaged in taking his first bath since the financial panic set in. The man's wife told the fellow he couldn't see him, as he was engaged in making a "transfer of real estate."

The boy who put the chicken in his desk at school because he wanted a good laugh, says it was fun while it lasted, but he did not like it so well when it came to paying the fiddler.

To determine whether a man is drunk or not, let him to say, "The scenery is truly rural." If he says "rural rury," you may put him down as drunk.

A Georgia girl aided a noble charity at Macon by allowing three hundred men to kiss her at twenty-five cents a head. When she got home and washed off the emerald she felt better.

A crazy old bachelor says that love is a wretched business, consisting of a little sighing, a little crying, a little dying, and a good deal of lying.

A little girl asked her sister what was chaos that her papa read about.
The elder replied, "It was a great pile of nothing, and no place to put it in."

A Troy young lady plainly told a young man who called to see her the other evening, that she thought him very fat. To which the young man naively replied that that was why he wanted to be round her.

"Step in, step in," said a Chatham street dealer, to a countryman; "the cheapest goods in the market." "Have you any fine shirts?" said the country
man. "A splendid assortment, sir."

"Are they clean?" "Of course, sir;
clean, to be sure they are." "Then,"
said the countryman gravely, "you had better put one on for you need it!"

Autauga Citizen.

PRATTVILLE, ALA.

Thursday, March 19, 1874.

Hon. W. G. M. Golsen is our authorized Agent to receive and receipt for monies due us for advertising Probate notices.

Probate Notices.—See all new Probate notices in to-day's paper.

Low Middling cotton is now quoted in Montgomery at only 14 cents.

See advertisement of Receiver's sale of cattle, wagons, mules, &c., belonging to S. W. Coleman.

Godey's Book.—Godey's Lady's Book, for April, is received, and we find it to be a magnificent number. The best magazine in the land.

PUBLIC MEETING.—The colored citizens of Prattville have invited Col. C. S. G. Do-ter, Jesse H. Booth, Esq., and others, to deliver addresses upon the life and character of the Hon. Charles Sumner, at their church, in this place, on next Saturday night. A large crowd is expected to be in attendance.

The legislature of Iowa and Michigan have passed bills amendatory to the constitutions of those States, granting woman suffrage.

Praying in houses of ill-fame is the next reform. It has been introduced in Cincinnati.

"Grange" is a French word, and means a barn. The query, therefore, is pertinent, are the Grangers any kin to the Barn-burners of 1848?

It is estimated that one man dies from the use of alcohol every seven minutes, and that those who have died from its effects during the last fifty years, would bridge the American continent from ocean to ocean, allowing three feet to each body.

A terrible murder is reported from Knoxville, which occurred at Beaver Creek on Saturday night last. Two ruffians named Dineen and Webb, from Anderson county, went to the house of Richard Reynolds, tied him, took his wife out and raped her, then offered to release him if he would pay $400. Failing in this they shot him and killed him. The murderers have not yet been arrested.

FRESHET.—The incessant rains of Sunday, Monday and Tuesday have filled our creeks and branches to the brim, and we learn that the Alabama river is fairly spreading itself, having risen over forty feet, and still rising. The ground is thoroughly saturated with water, and it will be at least a week or ten days before anything can be done in the way of farming. If the flood had to come, it is better to have it now than later. We have had no mail here since Saturday last, but hope to get one to-day.

We are glad indeed to see that the infamous Civil Rights Bill is receiving no attention from the committee to which it was referred. The bill does not, we feel assured, meet with approval from the great mass of the colored people. They recognize the forcible fact that such a thing as social equality in all its aspects can never be engrafted in full on the minds of the American people, and if tried no good can come of it. We hope to see the bill die a quiet and insignificant death, and be entombed amid the filthy rubbish of all such obnoxious propositions.

ATTENTION! GOOD TEMPLARS.—A letter from Dr. J. O. Patton, of Montgomery, to Rev. J. K. Hazen, of this place, states that S. D. Hastings, R. W. G. T. of the R. W. G. L., and Dr. J. J. Hickman, P. R. W. G. C., will visit Montgomery on the 25th of this month, and address the Good Templars of that city. They are the great leaders of the temperance cause, able and efficient in the discharge of their duties, and as speakers have few equals in this country. Dr. Patton invites the Good Templars of Prattville to be in attendance, and all others who may feel an interest in the good cause. We hope Prattville will be well represented on the occasion.

EDITORIAL BRIEFINGS.

Never kick a man when he is down, unless you are sure he can't get up.

Five and a half millions of hogs have been slaughtered and packed in the West this season.

A hand-organ is the latest excavation at Pompeii. The ancients had their torments as well as the moderns.

The destitution among the New Orleans poor has assumed such enormous proportions that the papers are calling loudly for relief.

The Carlists of Spain are not flourishing. Their principal army is confronted by 20,000 men of the national forces.

It is the boast of the Northport Spectator that Tuscaloosa—with 4000 inhabitants in the city and suburbs—has but 2 drinking saloons.

In Japan labor is seven and three quarter cents a day, for four hours work in the mines. On this sum the people are content, as with it they can get all they need.

Mr. McMillan, of Meridian, Miss., while eating supper last Saturday night got a piece of beef down his wind-pipe, from which he suffocated in an hour in spite of all efforts of physicians.

Judge J. Q. Smith decided last week that the "Funding Act" of the late legislature is not constitutional. Persons having state warrants can, therefore, pay taxes with them.

Tuscaloosa has, comparatively, more womanhood than any other place in the State. The aggregate weight of nineteen ladies there is 4,226 pounds.

The San Francisco Bulletin says there are two or three thousand outlaws in the mountains of California, who live by robbery and violence.

A thousand women are banded together for prayer against rum in Lancaster, Ohio. A sister of Gen. Sherman is among the most active workers.

The latest dodge of those artful dodgers, the Davenportes, was not a success and landed one of them in the New Orleans calaboose. They tried to run away, leaving behind them sundry unpaid bills.

The Grangers of Illinois turn out to dig the graves of deceased brothers, thus preventing extortion on the part of that "middleman," the sexton.

E. Powers has petitioned Congress for experiment by means of the firing of cannon to prevent droughts, and adduces facts to show that heavy cannonading will always produce rain.

A woman at Fort Laramie has sued a paper for saying that she murdered three husbands, when the truth of the matter was that only two of them died under her treatment, the third escaping with a broken rib.

The company raised for the conquest of Cuba at Augusta, Ga., was very strongly officered. It consisted of thirteen generals, seven colonels, four captains, nineteen paymasters, twenty-seven quartermasters and one private.

The war upon the saloons and drinking places where liquors are sold, inaugurated in the West continues its advance eastward, and women engaged in it are doing some very effective work.

At the weather station on Pike's Peak, the water boils at so low a temperature that it takes about three times as long to cook food as at the ordinary level. The air is so clear that the eye can sweep a distance of 200 miles in every direction.

Mrs. Livermore is now lecturing against the evils of tight lacing. She is quite right. If a girl wants her waist squeezed she ought to employ some reliable young man for that purpose. Our experience is that no young man with any pretensions to reliability would when thus employed, for a single moment neglect his business.

We have known, says an exchange, readers of newspapers to pass over advertisements as uninteresting and not worthy of notice. This is a mistake. The advertisement columns of a paper are by no means the least interesting and important; and if strict attention is given to the advertisements appearing in every newspaper, many dollars would be saved to those who have purchases to make. The merchant who does not advertise has to rely on his personal acquaintances alone for trade, and therefore cannot offer the same inducements to customers, or compete in prices with others who, by liberal advertising, invite the patronage of the public generally, thereby making a large trade, which will enable them to keep better stocks, and to work for a smaller profit than the man who does a small business only with his own acquaintances.

The Savannah papers ran, an alleged mad-dog occasioned a good deal of excitement at Decatur the other day. He cured one man of inflammatory rheumatism, and led another to suspect that he had inherited the limberness of an acrobat. The dog was finally suffocated with an axe in the hands of the rhuematic.

Prattville, March 19, 1874.

A Woman at Xenia, Ohio, who kept a liquor saloon, when visited by a band of praying women, said: "We were poor and dressed common, and no person cared for us. I would go into the store and clerks would hardly notice me. We opened a saloon, got money, and bought finer clothes; and now when I go to trade half the clerks in the store come to wait on me. It is Mrs. Foley here, and Mrs. Foley there. Can't I sell you this? and shall I send this to your house? Now, to quit this business would be to spoil all this pretty talk. Can't afford to lose the respect of society when money will keep it. Ladies, you know this is so. Some of the most noted houses in town were built out of whiskey money, and retired distillers and their families rank high in your Xenia society."

The mouth is the variable index of moral character. If it wasn't for the mouth there would be no necessity for the female crusade against biters, oratory would lose its force, and kissing become one of the lost arts.

James Parton says: "We must now accept it as an axiom that universal suffrage, where one-third of the voters cannot read the language of the country they inhabit, tends to place the scoundrel class at the summit of office."

A contemporary says that the ancient fiction of law that man and wife are one in the courts, is undergoing modification. Their separate property interests having been established, it is now proposed that they shall be two, for purposes of evidence in each other's behalf, though not as yet against each other. A bill to this effect has passed the New York State Assembly, and it seems only supplementary after all to that which recently gave a man the right to testify in his own defence. No doubt the testimony of husband or wife will be so limited to the defence of the other partner.

CAROLINE A. BROWN,
Jan. 15, 1874—n8—6t

WOMEN OF WISDOM—Diligence is the mother of good fortune. Don't cross the bridge until you come to it.

No man is free who does not command himself.

The tongue—the latch-key that lets out the mind.

Revenge converts a little right into a great wrong.

Books, like friends, should be well used, not abused.

He who blackens others does not whiten himself.

The fate of the child is always the work of the mother.

If folk were a pain, there would be crying in every house.

Nothing is more precious than time, yet nothing is less valued.

Plant the crab-tree where you will, and it will not bear pippins.

Plain dealing is a jewel; but they that wear it are out of fashion.

The clue of our destiny, wander where we will, lies at the cradle-foot.

Every person has two educations—one which he receives from others, and one, more important, which he gives himself.

A worthy Quaker thus wrote: "I expect to pass through this world, but once. If, therefore, there be any kindness I can do to my fellow human being, let me do it now. Let me not defer nor neglect it, I will not pass this way again."

SUNSTROKE.—About a year since I saw, in a newspaper, an account of a case of sunstroke, written by the party himself. After suffering a long time from the attack, and having to a considerable degree recovered, he experienced suffering even from the rays of the moon. This led him to reflect that it was not altogether the heat of the sun that produced prostration. After much research he discovered that the injury came from the chemical ray, and not from the heat ray. He was guided to this by observing the fact that a photograph could not be taken through yellow glass. Accordingly he lined his hat with two linings—one of orange yellow, to arrest the chemical ray, and one of green, to arrest the heat ray.

Thus prepared he went where the rays of the sun were most intense with perfect impunity. It is well known the negro is seldom or never sunstruck; the color of his skin over the skull being of the orange yellow may assist in accounting for the fact. I practised upon this suggestion all last summer, lined my hat with green and orange yellow paper, and had confidence enough in the truth of the theory to neglect my umbrella, which I had never done before. I mentioned it to many, who tried it also, and in all cases that came under my observation they uniformly ascribed that the oppressive heat of the sun upon the head was much relieved. Deeming this discovery of great value to the world, I send you the enclosed.

A revival preacher says that the toughest customer he ever came across in the pursuit of his calling was a rough old fellow in a valley of the Green Mountains, who approached him at the close of an evening meeting with a sad face, and asked gravely: "Did I understand you to say that hell was a lake of fire and brimstone?" "Yes," said the divine, thinking he had at last succeeded in making an impression on the hitherto obdurate heart, and going on to enlarge upon the horrors of the place torment. "Nonsense! nonsense!" interrupted the listener. "I don't believe a word of it, you pile it on too thick, a man wouldn't live a minute in such a place." "They will be prepared for it," said the minister, impressively. "Oh! prepared for it, will they?" exclaimed the anxious listener, brightening up. "As soon as there is any where else, then," and off he walked, perfectly satisfied, and as gay as a lark.

AN ANTHRAX CALCULATION.—Mr. O'Brien undertook to tell how many were at the party. "The two Crogons was one, myself was two, Mike Finn was three, and—and—who the mischief was four? Let me see (counting on his fingers), the two Crogons was one, Mike Finn was two, myself was three, and—and—there was four of us—but St. Patrick couldn't tell the name of the other. Now it's myself that have it! Mike Finn was one, the two Crogons was two, myself was three—and—and—be the powers, I think there was but three of us, after all!"

RELIEF FOR RHEUMATISM, GOUT, GRAVEL, FACIES, SINDORNO

It is a purely vegetable preparation, and is entirely free from all the deleterious and dangerous ingredients of the various remedies now in vogue. It is a powerful and reliable remedy for Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, and all the kindred affections of the blood. They unite the best of the irreconcilable qualities of a Strongly Purgative and a Purifying Tonic.

Dr. TUTT'S PILLS are the most active and searching medicine in existence. They at once attack the very roots of disease, and their action is so prompt that in an hour or two after they are taken the patient is aware of their good effects. They are taken at any time without restraint of diet or occupation, they produce neither nausea, griping or debility, and as family remedies they have no rival.

Ayer's

Sarsaparilla

Is widely known as one of the most effective remedies ever discovered for cleansing the system and purifying the blood. It has stood the test of years, with a constantly growing reputation, based on its intrinsic virtues, and sustained by its remarkable cures. So mild as to be safe and beneficial to children, and yet so searching as to effectually purge out the great corruptors of the blood, such as the scrofulous and syphilitic contamination. Impurities, or diseases that have lurked in the system for years, soon yield to this powerful antidote, and disappear. Hence its wonderful cures, many of which are publicly known. Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Urticaria, eruptions, and eruptive disorders of the skin, Tumors, Blisters, Boils, Pimples, Pustules, Sores, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scalds, Ringworm, and internal Ulcerations of the Uterus, Stomach, and Liver. It also cures other complaints, to which it would not seem especially adapted, such as Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Fits, Neuralgia, Heart Disease, Female Weakness, Debility, and Leucorrhoea, when they are manifestations of the scrofulous poisons.

It is an excellent restorer of health and strength in the Spring. By renewing the appetite and vigor of the digestive organs, it dissipates the depression and listless languor of the season. Even where no disorder appears, people feel better, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. The system moves on with renewed vigor and a new lease of life.
