

The Judicial Nomination.

We publish to-day an article from the Greenville Advocate, suggesting that the delegates from this judicial district to the State Convention be also empowered to nominate a candidate for Judge of this circuit. The request given by our contemporaries appears to be good, and doubtless from his standpoint. We have heard some objection urged to the proposition, and the general sentiment is perhaps opposed to it. But it is a matter of the district, and we propose to take only an advisory part in it. We have no pet scheme to accomplish in this campaign except the nomination of the best qualified person to the State in all its departments; nor have we any favorite candidate for any office whose claims we would press to the detriment of others. We are therefore ready to adopt any suggestion that is likely to add to the harmony and efficiency of the party, without a compromise of principle.

We hope the people of the different counties comprising this judicial district will give expression to their wishes in this matter above referred to. Our columns are open to communications on the subject. Let us have no misunderstandings, no cross pulling, or anything that will stand in the way of peace and victory.

Impudence.

The Montgomery Advocate, a Radical paper, (and no relation of ours, notwithstanding its name,) in commenting on our article of two weeks ago on the subject of high taxes, uses this language: "We think we can convince our contemporaries why the taxes are so onerous. It is a hellish thing when you find slaves to do your work and make money for you, and you are not hard to pay; but when you are compelled to pay your money, you feel the tax." "When our people work as do the people of Pennsylvania they will be just as prosperous."

It is contrary to our custom to employ such words in response to this insulting impudence as would seem to be justified; and we shall therefore leave the reader to the selection of his own epithets. There is no argument in the lines quoted that deserves notice, not to mention the fact that "convince" us why the taxes are so onerous, and we reproduce them simply that our readers may see what a kindly feeling is entertained for them by the exponents of the party that will in a few months ask them to vote for its candidates. It is not enough that we are robbed of our property; but we are also robbed of our rights, and our property is taken from us by force, and we are told by the robbers that if we were not so lazy, and would go to work, we would not feel the robbery quite so much. The Greenville Advocate is evidently fresh from the precincts of Puritanism, and has not yet learned the latest Radical dodge of pretending to be one of us, and to have common interest with us; consequently this impudence is as broken as was that of his brother pretenders a few years ago.

Hon. T. J. Judge.—The following paragraph is going the rounds of our exchanges. We have not published it before, because there is ample time before the meeting of the State Convention for the discussion of the claims of the various gentlemen whose names have been mentioned in connection with the different offices to be filled. But we would now say, that as a citizen of Butler county with Col. Judge, and as a citizen of Alabama, it would be highly gratifying to us to see him again upon the supreme court bench. He is amply qualified for the position, as he showed when he occupied it before; and as he was removed from it against the wishes of the people, it would be a deserved compliment to him, and a benefit to the State, if the people should place him upon the bench again. We would also support Mr. Clifton, whose name is mentioned with pleasure. Here is the paragraph alluded to:

Hon. Thomas J. Judge, of Butler county, is being very favorably mentioned in some of our exchanges for re-election as judge of the supreme court. He is the man for the place. It will be remembered that "Clifton and Judge" were candidates for congress in olden times; and the contest was a very close one. Mr. Clifton succeeded by one or two hundred votes in the district. It would be a fine combination of the old and the new, and a very desirable one.

The postmaster at Selma has had a Talladega man arrested for sending a scandalous postal card to a citizen of the former city. Right.

Montgomery was lighted by gas for the first time, on the night of the 7th of February, 1874.

The County Convention.

We suggested last week that the people begin to consider the subject of our County Convention. A communication appears in another column in which the matter is also alluded to.

We do not suppose that any argument is required to impress the importance of this matter upon the minds of the people of the county. Every one is convinced of the benefit—the necessity—of a convention for the selection of delegates to the State Convention. There is no question about that. But what we desire to insist upon here is, that the people in each beat shall begin to think and talk over the subject among themselves—come to an understanding of each other's views and sentiments—so that when the time comes there may be a general movement and harmonious action. The county is entitled to eight delegates in the State Convention. In the County Convention this ratio of representation will perhaps be one delegate for every twenty-five Democratic and Conservative votes cast in the beat. The County Executive Committee will soon take action in regard to a convention for the purpose mentioned.

Arkansas.

Affairs are in a bad condition in Arkansas. The two claimants of the office of Governor, Brooks and Baxter, are at war. They are both Radicals. At the election, which occurred a good while ago, the Democrats supported Brooks, and he was really elected, but was defeated of his rights; and since Baxter has been acting Governor, the Democrats have made the most they could out of him—supporting him, it is said, in the present contest. Brooks got possession of the Executive office by a sudden movement, and held the state-house at just accounts. Both men have a large number of white and black friends under arms, and members of the opposing parties are frequently arrested. There are several companies of United States soldiers on the ground, but the President has declined to interfere, except to prevent bloodshed. The following is the latest dispatch from the seat of war:

LITTLE ROCK, April 21.
Gov. Baxter's forces were increased by the arrival of several companies this morning. The State House party was also reinforced. The cannon have been withdrawn to a more eligible position. Baxter's troops can hardly be held in check, and an outbreak may occur at any hour. It is said a bout load of Brooks' men is coming from Pine Bluff, and Baxter's troops will capture it if it attempts to land.

GO'LOCK R. M.—Fighting is now going on in the streets.

"Look at the last National Democratic platform, and compare it with the Republican. Is there any difference of principle?" If so, no mortal man has been able to discern it. Democracy has no principles and no well defined policy."—State Journal (Rad.)

Democracy has the same platform that Radicalism has, and Democracy "has no principles and no well defined policy!" Samson pulled the house down upon himself so as to enjoy the satisfaction of destroying his enemies, and he has an imitator among the latter day saints!

CONVENTION OF LAWYERS.—We learn from the Selma Times that a movement is on foot, in that city, to call a Convention of the lawyers throughout the State, sometime during the summer. The object of this convention are:

- 1st. To suggest changes in existing laws.
  - 2d. To suggest the enactment of such general laws as may afford better protection to persons and property.
  - 3d. To suggest rules of practice in the several courts, better calculated to reduce the expenses of litigation, and more speedily attain the ends of justice.
  - 4th. To declare a code of legal ethics, and to adopt measures for the purpose of enforcing the same.
- Many other matters of general importance may be considered.
- For the Greenville Advocate.
- "United we stand," is a true saying; "divided we fall," is equally true. An important election will be held in the State on the first Tuesday in November next. A State Convention meets in Montgomery in July next, for the purpose of nominating State officers. It is believed that Hon. G. S. Houston, of North Alabama, will be nominated for Governor. It is hoped that the Convention will select "honest and capable" men for every office, as it is of the last importance that every candidate should be such as the Conservative masses can rally around with enthusiasm. There must be no division this year in the great work.
- Some students fixed up a glass and placed it on the staircase of a Troy (N. Y.) newspaper office the other night, and then retired and awaited developments. One of the editors came along and didn't get frightened. He disrobed it, and now wears a fifteen-dollar pair of pants, a ten-dollar vest, a seven-dollar pair of boots and an eight-dollar hat, while one of the students goes about without a vest and another roams around through the least frequented streets wearing a very ancient pair of inexpressibles.

Letter from Tennessee.

CLEVELAND, TENN., April 18.
Dear Advocate:—For two months I have been "bouncing around" in Georgia and Alabama, having arrived at this place only on the 13th inst., and can truly say I have never witnessed such a protracted rainy season and so fruitful of disaster.

On the morning of the 9th I was in Columbus, Ga., and the rain of the preceding night, although not extending ten miles, raised the Chattahoochee river two to ten feet deep—not from river overflow, but from a square foot fall in the city. Only two persons were drowned, although many families suffered from inundation. En passant—Columbus is one of the most promising cities in the South; her manufacturing interest, already surpassing everything in the Gulf States, is growing daily, and with her magnificent water-power, all of which (from the upper City Mills to the Columbus Factory, is owned by Daniel I. Keller, Esq., of St. Louis) will soon be dotted with cotton mills, and add millions of wealth to the city.

The Columbus Sun and Enquirer, the first paper of the South, is published and edited by Genl. A. B. Oulahan, one of the ablest and most philanthropic gentlemen of the age. He is from the State of Ohio, and gave up home, friends and fortune, and offered himself a sacrifice to redeem the degenerate and fallen sons (and daughters, too,) of Georgia and Alabama. A missionary in the cause of humanity and peace! and as such he has done wonderful good. Georgia is redeemed, and soon every man in Alabama suspected of murder, or shooting, or cutting anybody in a fight, (having Bill Thomas, nigger, who fully redeemed old Alabama for his money in the Alabama) will be hanged; and even Bill Thomas will have to give a five hundred dollar bond. See what pluck and persistence can do. So much for the peace question.

Now see what hell can do for humanity. Changed thousands to rush frantically to the relief of John McVay, a man, who is dying, Egypt dying of consumption, and whom he found so far gone that he was speechless; and a rich man in Marshall (at the foot of the Factory Bridge, on the Alabama side) had refused to respond to a contribution asked for by the General. And now that John is safe, and his "voiceless appeal" has been heard through the great "Missionary," the supplies furnished him by the county of Russell and State of Alabama, at the store of Markham & Co., Girard, will be sold for the next thirty days to non-belligerents at reduced figures, and the proceeds given to Cynthia and her daughter (the latter in Atlanta, address not known) and the former in Warren's building, Columbus, "wearing of the green."

Crops in this part of the country are supposed to be generally not planted, consequently "nobody hurt on our side." Japan peas for 50 cents a year speaks for the Press of Cleveland. Mark and forward at X.

The Once House, equal if not superior to Battle House, Mobile, boards at $20 a month, furnishing splendid rooming of water and towels, and fire in winter and free baths in summer make it a desirable resort. Come to see me.

A Radical county.

T. W. Morefield, deputy postmaster at Birmingham, has been arrested as a defaulter for about $3,000.

Gen. D. P. Baldwin, formerly of Wilcox, but long a resident of California, is dead.

Dr. J. S. Weatherly, of Montgomery, is President of the State Medical Association for the ensuing year, and Dr. Riggs, of Selma, Secretary.

Miss Julia C. Tyler, daughter of Col. Robert Tyler, of Montgomery, was married on the 15th to Henry H. Tyson, of Maryland.

Judge Woods, of the U. S. circuit court, has decided that the subscription by Troy of $65,000 for the extension of the railroad, to that place, was void.

The crops of Dallas county, except overflooded bottoms, are very good, and it is thought that corn enough for home consumption will be raised.

Portions of Jefferson county were visited, last week, by a severe hail storm, which stripped the trees of leaves and fruit, and injured wheat in some places.

The cotton factory of Mr. Matthews, at Selma, has commenced operations. There are only four or five operatives employed at present, but the force will be increased when needed. The thread made is said to be very good.

In speaking of Lee and Grant, "the Hector and Achilles of the American World," the Virginia Saturday Review says: "The Virginia character was of that noble kind which retains its full measure of dignity in the shadow of adversity. Though 'nothing succeeds like success,' yet in the last meeting of the hostile generals, our admiration and respect are given chiefly to him who surrenders his sword; and, viewing them as they appeared in later years, when their fortunes diverged so widely, the President of the great republic looks small and commonplace compared with the broken-hearted schoolmaster of Lexington."

General News.

(FROM THE LATEST PAPERS.)

Information from river bottoms in Mississippi not very encouraging as to farming prospects.

The town elections in Wisconsin and Michigan have resulted badly for the Radicals.

At last a Senator has been elected from Massachusetts to succeed Mr. Sumner, Gov. Washburn having been chosen.

A destructive tornado passed over Nashville on the 15th, doing much damage.

In the city elections on the 15th, the Democrats were successful in Jersey City and Hoboken, N. J.

Both Atlanta and Savannah, heretofore great guano marts, report a heavy falling off in sales this year.

In the House, Poland introduced a joint resolution for the recognition of Cuba.

The committee on privileges and election reported unfavorably to the memorial of Sykes, claiming a seat in the Senate from Alabama.

A meeting of prominent merchants was held in Boston on Tuesday, and $10,000 subscribed for the Louisiana sufferers.

The Cumberland, Stone and Duck rivers, in Tennessee, were recently higher than at any time since 1847, and the overflow of the Cumberland at Nashville had done great damage in the city.

Official returns show that 11,813 emigrants arrived at New York, for the quarter ending the last day of March. Of the total number, 2,048 were under 15 years of age, 8,283, 15 and under 40, and 1,482, 40 years of age and over.

The Bender family, an account of whose bloody murders and robberies in Kansas was published in the papers some months ago, have been discovered in the mountains of Utah, and the old man and his daughter captured. It is thought the son and wife will also be caught.

There has been considerable excitement and uneasiness at New Orleans and along the Mississippi river on account of the overflow. A part of the city was under water at last accounts, causing much distress, and the breaking of the levees on the river had allowed the water to do great damage in the country.

The new mayor of Albany, N. Y., was inaugurated on Tuesday. His first act was to call upon the citizens to respond to the appeal in behalf of the afflicted people of Louisiana, and to recommend that the unexpended balance raised for the Chicago sufferers, be handed over for this purpose.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The final hearing in South Carolina matters was held before the sub-judiciary Committee this morning. Cardozo, negro State Treasurer, spoke against the tax-payers. He tried to show that the present judicial rate Government did not create the present debt. Thos. T. Simons closed for the memorialists, and repeated and elaborated their former statements. It is believed the committee will report that Congress can do nothing in the premises.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Senator Edmunds, from the committee on judiciary, reported adversely to the bill for the relief of a purchaser of lands sold for direct taxes in the insurrectionary States. The bill, with adverse report, on motion of Clayton, was placed on the calendar.

The opposition to the South Carolina taxpayers movement is strong and organized. All information and the impression are not of a nature to inspire hope of official recognition of existing troubles in that State.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The Department of Agriculture has received very full information concerning the appearance of wheat throughout the country. The returns cover a large proportion of winter wheat area of each State. The winter has been extremely favorable in all sections, but more general so since the inauguration of the crop reports. California alone will yield 40,000,000 bushels. In the South the growth is luxuriant, and everywhere the promise is remarkable.

The Louisiana relief bill, as amended by the Senate, passed the House and goes to the President. It gives all army rations and clothing not needed by the army to the drowned-out Louisianians. There is a large amount of clothing at Jeffersonville, Indiana, and commissary stores at various points, which will be hurried forward when the President signs the bill. Indeed, transportation has been prepared in anticipation of the event. Northern cities are reported as responding liberally in money to the appeals for relief.

WHAT NEGRO RULE WILL DO FOR ALABAMA.—The appropriations of the South Carolina Legislature, which has just adjourned, amounted to $1,708,270.55. No wonder the tax payers are praying for relief. Of this amount $400,071.13 was for public printing; $365,000 for legislative expenses; claims against the Legislature for furniture, &c., $279,060.42, contingent fund, $45,000; salaries, $53,180; salaries, $102,200; public asylums, $103,850. It will be seen that with the exception of the last three items, the entire amount was expended by the Legislature. In the session of 1868-9 the legislative expenses were $181,830, and the cost of printing $12,000. This was the first year the State was in the hands of its present rulers.

During the six years since then, the amount appropriated for these two purposes alone has steadily increased from $193,839 to the enormous sum of $1,032,240.

Stove luster, when mixed with turpentine and applied in the usual manner, is blacker, more glossy, and more durable than when mixed with any other liquid. The turpentine prevents rust, and when put on an old rusty stove will make it look as well as new.

A good suggestion is like a crying baby at church—it should be carried out.

A Chapter on Bad Manners.

It is a sign of bad manners to look over the shoulder of a person who is writing, to see what is written.

It is the height of bad manners to look over the shoulder of a person who is writing, to see what is written.

It is bad manners for a man to walk the streets with a female, and at the same time smoke a cigar or pipe.

It is bad manners to occupy a seat while other people stand around without a seat.

It is bad manners to use profane language in the presence of decent company.

It is bad manners to use your own knife at meals in cutting off a piece of meat, or use it on the butter—get a clean knife.

It is bad manners to go into any person's house without taking off your hat.

It is bad manners to talk in company when others are talking, or to talk or whisper in church.

It is bad manners to talk in company to one or two persons about some subject which the others present do not understand.

It is bad manners to stare at strangers in company or in the street.

It is bad manners to say "yes" or "no" to strangers, or to your parents or to aged people; let it be "yes, sir," and "no, sir."

It is bad manners to pick your teeth at the table, and bad manners to pick them with a pin in any company.

It is bad manners to comb your hair or brush your coat in the eating room.

It is a sign of bad manners to rudely jostle those sitting or standing near you, particularly if they are strangers.

It is a sign of low breeding to make a display of your finery or equipage.

It is bad manners to boast of your wealth or prosperity or good fortune in the presence of the poor or those less fortunate than you.

It is bad manners to talk much about yourself, and it is very low and vulgar to lie.

It is bad manners to stand with your side or to turn away your face from the person you are talking to—look him in the face.

It is bad manners to walk into a private house with a lighted cigar in your mouth.

It is bad manners to stand in the middle of the pavement when people are passing, or to make remarks about those who pass.

It is bad manners to spit on the floor or carpet, or to spit at meals, and yet many people who think they are genteel do it. If you must spit at meals, get up and go out. Children ought to be taught at school that spitting is mere habit.

COMB MANUFACTURE.—One of the greatest comb manufacturing in the world is in Aberdeen, Scotland. In this establishment there are an immense number of furnaces for preparing horns and tortoise-shells for the combs, and between one and two hundred iron presses are constantly employed in stamping them.

Steam-power is employed to cut the combs, the operation being performed by this means with great efficiency. The coarse combs are stamped or cut out, two being cut in a place at one time by ingenious machinery. The fine-dressing combs and all small tooth combs are cut by fine circular saws, some so fine as to cut forty teeth in the space of an inch, and they revolve thousands of times in a minute. There are about two thousand varieties of combs made, and the aggregate number produced, of all the different sorts of combs, is about nine millions annually. The annual consumption of ox horns, hogs, tortoise-shell and buffalo horn, is of course, prodigious; even the waste, consisting of horn shavings and parings of hogs, amounts to hundreds of tons in a year, and this becomes a valuable material in the manufacture of prussiate of potash, etc.

DRUNKENNESS A DISEASE.—Dr. Congdon, Superintendent of the New York State Inebriate Asylum, treats drunkenness as a disease. He says that in the incapacity of intemperance men are free moral agents, morally accountable, but a stage is reached in which the conscience and will power are rendered inactive—the tissues of the brain become so thoroughly diseased that it ceases to perform its functions. After the physician has brought the patient out of the first paroxysm of the disease, physical reconstruction goes on, and as the bodily strength increases, the faculties approach their normal condition, and conscience and will begin to assume control. The majority of the patients are professional men, including lawyers, physicians and clergymen.

Passchal has finely said: "I do not admire in a man the extreme of one virtue, as of valor, if I do not see at the same time the extreme of the opposite virtue, as in Epaminondas, who had; the extreme of gentleness. For otherwise this character would not rise, but fall, by the excess of the one side. A man shows true greatness not by touching one extreme, but by touching both at once, and filling up the interval."

A skeptic, who was trying to confuse a Christian colored man by his apparently contradictory passages in the Bible, asked how it could be that we were in the spirit, and the spirit in us, and received the reply, "Oh, dar's, no puzzle about dat; it's like dat poker; I put it in de fire, the it gets red-hot—now de poker's in de fire, and de fire's in de poker." A profound theologian could not have made a better reply.

A wicked little boy in a Denter Sunday school was asked by his teacher if he had learned anything during the past week. "Oh, yes," said he. "What is it that you have learned?" "Never to lead a fence when you've got an ace back of it," was the reply.

HAIR OIL.—One pint of alcohol; 2 oz. castor oil; a few drops of perfume. Shake well to cut the oil. This is a splendid and nicely perfumed hair oil; it softens the hair, promotes its growth, and prevents its falling out.

Two oz. alcohol; 1 drachm tincture of aloes. Unequalled for pains in the feet and limbs from walking; for all fresh or recent sprains, bruises or contused wounds, and for rheumatism of the joints and gouty pains.

One oz. alcohol; 2 drachms Cayenne; one oz. kerosene oil; let it stand twenty-four hours after mixing. It cures the worst toothache.

One quarter lb. of lard; 1 oz. resin; 1 oz. beeswax; 1 drachm verdigris; melt and stir well. This is one of the best salves known for old sores, ulcers, cancer, scrofulous sores, cuts and wounds.

One qt. lime water; 1 drachm calomel. To be used for foul and indolent ulcers; excellent to wash saddle sores on horses' backs.

Everybody should plan to have pleasant conversation at table, just as they plan for good food. A little story-telling, a little reading, it may be of humorous items, will often render the meal more beneficial. Avoid, if possible, going to the table "all tired out." Put aside troubles, and do not reproach servants or children, but think and say something pleasant. Let meal-time be a cheerful time, and the result will be seen in improved health.

Ladies who find pleasure in window gardening may be reconciled to the smoking habit of their "other half," if they know that they can utilize the cigar stumps in a very desirable way. Put the stumps into the watering pot, pour on cold water, set it on the stove until it is blood warm, then thoroughly wet the earth around the plants with this tobacco tea, and the bugs which infest the plants, and are such a source of vexation, will leave at once.

A good lady of Columbus, Ga., was "struck all of a heap" by an old colored woman she met the other day. She beamed all over her face as she said, in the most approved Georgia style: "Howdy, Aunt Maria!" The aged negroess raised herself erect, placed her arms akimbo and remarked, loftily, looking sideways, "I ain't yer ant, and I ain't yer uncle; I's yer eka!"

An Iowa man who was called a fraud had recovered thirteen cents damages. When a jury pronounces that a man lacks but thirteen cents of being a fraud, the court ought to instruct the sheriff to keep an eye on him.

An unsophisticated farmer when asked by the paying teller of a bank what denomination he would have his bill in, replied, "You may give me a sprincklin' of Presbyterian, but the best of 'em I'll take in good old Hard shell Baptist."

There is a farmer near Flushing who owns a Kentucky-bred mule that has, within the last thirty days, kicked in seventeen barn doors, unroofed a dozen chicken coops, and trampled the life out of four of his favorite pigs. He calls it Ben Butler.

It is estimated that the Patrons of Husbandry, by co-operative purchases, last year saved nearly six millions of dollars—the beginning of a revolution in the ordinary system of exchange of productions whose end no man can foretell.

An Ohio man who at first opposed the woman's movement, now acknowledges that the closing of the saloons was a good thing. Instead of selling his vote for whiskey, he got $2.50 for it, and has been able to buy a dog.

Waiting for things to turn up is unphilosophical as well as unprofitable. Things will turn up just as fast and as often while you are working as while you are waiting.

An English boy, on being asked the other day who was Prime Minister of England, answered without hesitation, "Mr. Spurgeon."

In Russia they have only one physician to every twenty thousand inhabitants.

Bill Shanks says that couriship is bliss, but matrimony is blister.

THE FAVORITE HOME REMEDY. This marvellous Medicine is warranted not to contain a single particle of Mercury, or any injurious mineral substance, but is FREELY VEGETABLE, containing those Southern Roots and Herbs which all wise Providence has placed in countries where Liver Disease most prevails. It cures all Diseases caused by derangement of the Liver and Bile.

Simmons' Liver Regulator, or Medicine, is eminently a Family Medicine, and by being kept ready for immediate resort, will save many a home of suffering. It costs but a dollar in time and doctors' bills.

After forty years' trial it is still receiving the most pronounced testimonials to its virtues from persons of the highest character and respectability. Eminent Physicians commend it as the most
