

Alabamian and Times, PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY J. S. SHACKLEFORD, FRANKLIN COUNTY, ALA. At $2 00 Per Annum, in Advance. At $2 50 Per Annum, in Advance. At $2 50 Per Annum, in Advance.

Postal Regulations in Force on and after July 1st, 1873. 1. Payment of postage must be made by the subscriber in advance.

Postage. Three cents for each half ounce. Four cents for each ounce. Five cents for each ounce and a half.

Laws Relating to Newspapers and Arrangements. A response to a request, we give the law in full. It is the duty of every citizen to know the law.

Advertising Rates. The North Alabamian and Times. One square of 10 lines for the first insertion, 50 cents. For each subsequent insertion, 25 cents.

Minimum Advertising Rates. Adopted by Alabama Press Association. For one square of 10 lines, 50 cents. For two squares of 10 lines, 75 cents.

Minimum Advertising Rates. Adopted by Alabama Press Association. For one square of 10 lines, 50 cents. For two squares of 10 lines, 75 cents.

Minimum Advertising Rates. Adopted by Alabama Press Association. For one square of 10 lines, 50 cents. For two squares of 10 lines, 75 cents.

considered due and payable after the first of the month. All communications should be addressed to the publisher.

TUSCUMBIA DIRECTORY. Baptist Church. Regular services on the first and third Sundays of each month.

City Officers. Mayor, J. S. Shackleford. City Clerk, J. S. Shackleford. City Treasurer, J. S. Shackleford.

DENTISTRY. DR. J. G. CONNER, DENTIST, FLORENCE, ALABAMA. Office - East of the Court-house.

DENTISTRY. H. S. DILL, DENTIST, TUSCUMBIA, ALABAMA. Office - East of the Court-house.

Lewellyn. CHAPTER IX. "I am losing my wits," said the young physician as he hurried away from Viola.

of the strong arms pulling at the reins, ran away with the buggy. The village children stammered out of the way and the women looked on in consternation.

of the strong arms pulling at the reins, ran away with the buggy. The village children stammered out of the way and the women looked on in consternation.

of the strong arms pulling at the reins, ran away with the buggy. The village children stammered out of the way and the women looked on in consternation.

of the strong arms pulling at the reins, ran away with the buggy. The village children stammered out of the way and the women looked on in consternation.

of the strong arms pulling at the reins, ran away with the buggy. The village children stammered out of the way and the women looked on in consternation.

of the strong arms pulling at the reins, ran away with the buggy. The village children stammered out of the way and the women looked on in consternation.

of the strong arms pulling at the reins, ran away with the buggy. The village children stammered out of the way and the women looked on in consternation.

of the strong arms pulling at the reins, ran away with the buggy. The village children stammered out of the way and the women looked on in consternation.

of the strong arms pulling at the reins, ran away with the buggy. The village children stammered out of the way and the women looked on in consternation.

of the strong arms pulling at the reins, ran away with the buggy. The village children stammered out of the way and the women looked on in consternation.

of the strong arms pulling at the reins, ran away with the buggy. The village children stammered out of the way and the women looked on in consternation.

UNWRITTEN HISTORY. OF THE HAMPDEN ROAD COMMISSION BY B. H. HILL. The Confederate situation in the winter of 1864 was such as to excite the most anxious solicitude in the mind of every one who sincerely desired our success in the struggle.

er. Several States, it was said, were to unite in calling a convention of all the Confederate States, ostensibly to amend the Constitution.

er. Several States, it was said, were to unite in calling a convention of all the Confederate States, ostensibly to amend the Constitution.

er. Several States, it was said, were to unite in calling a convention of all the Confederate States, ostensibly to amend the Constitution.

er. Several States, it was said, were to unite in calling a convention of all the Confederate States, ostensibly to amend the Constitution.

er. Several States, it was said, were to unite in calling a convention of all the Confederate States, ostensibly to amend the Constitution.

er. Several States, it was said, were to unite in calling a convention of all the Confederate States, ostensibly to amend the Constitution.

er. Several States, it was said, were to unite in calling a convention of all the Confederate States, ostensibly to amend the Constitution.

er. Several States, it was said, were to unite in calling a convention of all the Confederate States, ostensibly to amend the Constitution.

er. Several States, it was said, were to unite in calling a convention of all the Confederate States, ostensibly to amend the Constitution.

er. Several States, it was said, were to unite in calling a convention of all the Confederate States, ostensibly to amend the Constitution.

er. Several States, it was said, were to unite in calling a convention of all the Confederate States, ostensibly to amend the Constitution.
