MOBILE DAILY GRAPHIC.—This is the name of a neat and sprightly paper recently issued in Mobile and of which we have received a few numbers. It takes no hand in politics and is mainly devoted to the cause of immigration and to the development of the material resources of the State. Published by Harris & Young at $8 a year for the Daily Graphic and $2 for the Sunday Graphic. Please X.

MR. W. FRANK WOODARD leads off for the November election. Who next?

Only five dollars for a chance. But, dear friends, CASH, CASH! this time!

Several were announced for office two years ago who have not paid us yet; although they were going to "fix it up" very soon after the announcements were published. Money is said to be the root of all evil; but such roots in this part of town are so few and small that no one has any cause for alarm.

There are no tap-roots among them.
"Money makes the mare go," Burns or some one else has said; and many feel the truth of the phrase in these trying times. Besides, we don't wish to have any one's conscience forever troubled about a little indebtedness of this kind.

We have already caused trouble enough in this way.

So, if you want to announce your name, and don't want to spare the cash from your own purse, call on some of your most zealous supporters for the amount. This would be neighborly and business-like; and, at the same time, a first-rate test of fidelity. If he furnishes the amount, you may count on his steadfastness and support to the end.

Tennessee State Grange.

The Tennessee State Grange which was in session at Gullatin, closed its proceedings after a harmonious session and the accomplishment of a considerable amount of work. The fact that the delegation was so very numerous —between five and six hundred—may have retarded business a trifle, but, with all that, there was no serious hitch in the proceedings, and matters went very smoothly throughout. Let us take a brief retrospect of what was accomplished.

Thursday was occupied in the election of officers, who were publicly installed on Friday. The Grange decided that it was lawful to establish cooperative supply stores at such points as would be conducive to the interest of the Granges. They were opposed to electing purchasing agents, but left it to the choice of the subordinate Granges to select their own agencies.

A resolution was adopted recommending the subordinate Granges to lessen the cotton crop one-half, and increase the corn crop one-half, and urging rigid economy on the part of the men and women of the Order in the matter of dress and domestic affairs.

The amendments to the National Constitution, which were adopted and submitted to the State Granges for ratification, were adopted with the exception of two, one of which was in reference to representation in the National Grange, and the other in regard to the election of officers of subordinate divisions. —[Montgomery Advertiser.]

IN MEMORIAM.

REST! WEARY PILGRIM! REST!

The mercy of God is most beautifully exemplified in the death of a Christian. Mrs. EMILY JANE WILSON, daughter of Mr. Samuel H. and Mrs.
Susan S. DeWolf, was born January 10th, 1834. She was united in the bonds of matrimony with the Hon. J.
R. Wilson on the 27th of February, 1861, with whom she lived a devoted companion until the 22d of December, 1873, when death with his iron grasp claimed her for his own; and she peacefully passed away from earth, leaving affectionate children to mourn their loss. In the tender morning of life, she was left an orphan by the death of both of her parents. Thus cast on the bleak shores of life, she soon began the task of providing for herself, and at the early age of fourteen her intrepidity suggested the tender of her services to Madam George, for the purpose of procuring an education. Such ambitious energy met with anxious solicitude, and in early womanhood she was thus accomplished with a fine literary education, which, added to an intellect of a naturally superior order, enabled her in after years to build up an usefulness which was properly employed through life. At an early day, in her girlhood, she attached herself to the Episcopal Church, in which she was duly confirmed, and by patient submission to God's will, and by constant communion with Him through prayer, she kept the Christian armor bright. At her marriage she assumed the charge of Judge Wilson's small children by his previous companion. A great purpose of her being was thus developed in the culture and rearing of these tender creatures; and that native sympathy which her own previous life so forcibly suggested, was thus richly exercised, and those children can truthfully say they had two affectionate mothers. In the fine offices of her matured and cultivated womanhood, she built up, in the circle of her acquaintances, a character for kindness, sincerity, promptness and alacrity, seldom found in the ordinary walks of life. A philosophic regime enabled her to soothe the sorrows of many, and to so soften the pathways of childhood to those under her care, that quite a rivalry of fond gratitude was the natural offshoot between her husband's two sets of children—and each will cheerfully water with tears of loving remembrance the many flowers that grow over her last resting place.
Ever anxious to adorn with superior qualifications all of them, she evinced an indefatigable desire to train their young hearts and infant intellects, that the world might be better that they had lived in it, and thus the highest obligation of the genial Christian lady, was proudly enjoyed by her; and when the ruthless hand of disease seized her as its own, and arrested her health, with patient meekness she submitted to her doom of an invalid's life for more than three years; and yet, when contemplating death in the then near future, her cares and anxieties were much greater for her husband and the children than for herself. Her sufferings, from disease can better be imagined than described, and yet, firmly believing that her earthly trials would enhance her future enjoyments, she calmly awaited the trying hour, and when passing through the gate-way of eternity, she gladly hailed back, "Another glorified spirit," and then was witnessed the triumphant exit of the ransomed to that abode, where "the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest." The friendly pen might heap praises over the memory of the deceased; but the fearful eyes and the aching heart speak more truly and eloquently the great void created in the family circle by the death of such a person. To the surviving relatives, the glad duty is bequeathed to cherish her virtues and her memory, and to profit by her example and her admonitions. A page has been left blank in life by her death, for fidelity, industry, honor and charity to fill, which will most sublimely emulate the ambition of the future. She taught, and in teaching she made foot-prints in elevated character, which will hang out on the road-way of time to encourage the honorable and the virtuous in the great sweep of current events through which society and Christianity are now passing. May the clouds rest lightly on her grave, and the gentle east wind be kindly tempered to her quiet spirit. A FRIEND.

The Democrat.

GROVE HILL:

TUESDAY : : : : : MARCH 3

COUNTY NEWS.

Mr. James C. Savago, Clerk of the Circuit Court, is authorized to receive money due this Office and to receipt for the same.

Capt. H. R. Johnston, of the steamer "Atlanta," will accept our thanks for a late "Mobile Register."

Mr. WILBURN J. FLEMING, who has been clerking in this place for over two years, died at his father's residence, near this place, on yesterday. We tender our sympathy to the afflicted family.

THE SABBATH-SCHOOL CONCERT Sunday night last was well attended and gave great satisfaction.

NEW MAIL ROUTE.—We are reliably informed that a mail route has been established from Jackson to this place, by the way of Suggsville, and that the service will be semi-weekly. Connecting with the mail by the Grand Trunk Railroad, at Jackson, our facilities will be considerably improved.

A DESERTER.—It turns out that the man who surrendered himself to our Sheriff, some three weeks ago, as a mail robber, is a deserter from the U. S. Army. Sheriff Carter sent him to Mount Vernon, last week, to the United States Army officer stationed at that point.

Circuit Court is just three weeks off from yesterday. Our friends in remote parts of the county will then have a good opportunity of settling with us. Those who do not come to Court can send their amounts by some of their friends. Many who are not taking the paper, should subscribe for it during Court. The largest and most important election in which the white people of Alabama ever participated, will be held next November, and it is the duty and should be the pleasure of every good citizen to thoroughly inform himself as regards the stupendous questions involved in the contest. This he cannot do without a newspaper. We call upon our political friends to assist us in extending the circulation of our paper.

Clarke, the Banner County. Hon. J. J. Roach, Deputy of the Patrons of Husbandry for this District has just returned after thirty days good work in old Clarke. He informs us that he has organized fourteen granges in Clarke during his recent visit to that county, and that there are now nineteen working granges in that county, with a membership of nearly seven hundred. Is there any county in Alabama of the same size and population that can beat this? Judge Roach will soon visit Dallas. May every subscriber attend him in his noble work.—[Wilcox Vindicator.]

South Carolina. A South Carolina correspondent of the Augusta Chronicle writes the following stirring words:

The fiat has gone forth that South Carolina shall not be Africanized. The joyful echo reverberates from the shores of Continental Europe across the green fields of merry Old England, and is wafted with increased volume from the shores of the Emerald Isle across the bleak Atlantic, until it strikes upon the ears of the oppressed and poverty-stricken sons of dear old Carolina. There is many a Carolinian heart that would throb with renewed vigor if it only knew it would live to see the day the solid black thirty thousand majority which grinds us in the dust is annihilated before the steady tramp of European immigration. God speed the day! God help our people!

CANDIDATES.

County Treasurer.

We are authorized to announce W. FRANK WOODARD, a candidate for the office of County Treasurer in the next November election, March 2.

HALL OF GROVE HILL GRANGE, February 28, 1874.

Grove Hill Grange suggests that a Convention of the Patrons of Husbandry be held at Grove Hill on Wednesday of the first week of Court, at 2 o'clock P. M., and that each Grange be represented by three delegates. JAS. W. DICKINSON, Secretary.
