The physicians of Camden have reduced their rates of charges one-third.

The Demopolis News states that Mr. Fred McNeil, living near Linden, recently sold 1600 cattle in one lot.

The golden wedding of the Hon. F. S. Lyon and his wife was celebrated at their residence in Demopolis week before last.

If Radical rule has cursed every Southern State, without any exception, why should any tax-payer or good citizen desire to perpetuate it in Alabama or elsewhere? Echo answers "why?"

Rev. S. J. McMorris, of Wetumpka, who died on the 2d inst., was well and widely known. He was a Universalist minister and for more than forty years had preached that faith. Thirty years ago he edited a Universalist newspaper in Wetumpka, called the "Messenger of Glad Tidings."

Ex-President Millard Fillmore died at his residence in Buffalo, New York, on the night of the 8th inst. In 1843, and for several years thereafter, his name was on almost every tongue. Such is earth. He sought and obtained "the bubble reputation" but the Reaper has now cut him down and his name will soon fade from the memory of the living.

Mr. Lewis Simmons, Sr., who lives near Jefferson, Marengo county, has eleven fine mule colts of his own raising. He informs the Demopolis News that they have never been fed, graze in the open fields in summer and are turned on the cane in the swamp in the winter. He has not broken the colts because there is no demand just now for them.

Mr. Stanley, of the Greenville Advocate, has been on a visit to Florida, and at the conclusion of his interesting account, he says:

Wherever you find a strip of good hammock, there you will find chills and fever. Everywhere else the lands are too poor even to produce them. All the streams contain fish in abundance. Game is very scarce, except the common rabbit, which is so abundant that the dogs, thinking they are a part of the possessions of the place, like the pigs, will not run them. This we have from an old settler.

In conclusion, we would give our advice, drawn from experience, to those of our friends who contemplate leaving Alabama, to stay at home, and especially to the citizens of this county. For taking into consideration the health, climate, water and productiveness of the soil, there is no superior country in our knowledge. The dream of a fine orange orchard in the land of flowers, from which $15,000 to $20,000 a year could be realized, is passed, and we came home a poorer and a wiser man.

Good Bye.—Capt. John F. Graham, of St. Louis, has purchased the steamboats Cherokee, Reindeer and Mist, and now has a number of hands taking the machinery out of them preparatory to shipping it to St. Louis. He has also bought the machinery of the Nyanza and Mist, and will ship that too. It will go through by rail as the most expeditious and cheapest route.

It is sad to see these old land—or, rather, water—marks leaving our city. They are relics of the good old times, the days before the war, and their destruction and departure snaps another of the links which binds us to "auld lang syne." Anti-bellum Mobilians recollect these fine steamboats in their prime, when a trip up or down the river, especially upon either of the two first named, was a happy event, long remembered. But like all things else, they have had their day, served their purpose, and are gone.—[Mob. Reg.]

Anti-bellum Mobilians don't recollect much about the Mist and Nyanza, for they were not brought to Mobile until after the war.

The Approaching Contest.

[Selma Times.]

We agree with our contemporaries that the election to be held this fall is important. We will go so far as to say that we do not believe that we have ever had more at stake than is in the balance at this time. We propose to do our utmost to help win the fight. The plan of action has not been agreed upon yet, and during the "council of war" we propose and intend to be heard in the expression of our views. We claim no more patriotism, nor interest in the matter than belongs to every white man in Alabama who feels himself a gentleman, and who cannot be bought for gold and the emolument of office. We have no interest to serve that is not in common with our whole people. We have no friend to advance, and we care not a "continental cent" who is nominated if they be good men, tried and true, who have not been trying to "worship God and Mammon" at the same time, always with an eye single to their own promotion. We recognize but two issues in the next canvass. The first and most important is that Alabama must, and shall be ruled by white men. The second, and only less important is that we will not under any circumstances pay a single dollar of the infamous debt piled upon us by fraud, bribery and corruption—known as the bond swindle debt. These are the two issues of the next canvass. Unfold our flag with good leaders to carry it, with these two issues inscribed upon its folds, and the "sun of Austerlitz" will open the day—and Alabama will stand "redeemed, regenerated, disenthralled." Leave them off and expect to carry the State by six and eight column addresses from Executive Committees—as we had two years ago—and with leaders who are willing to fight under any issue that will give them office—and we are whipped before the fight commences.

We unhesitatingly assert that as far as our information extends, that nine men in every ten of the white people of Alabama are in favor of repudiating the infamous bond swindle debt, if refusing to pay what we don't owe can be called repudiation. We have yet to hear any man say he favors paying the swindle bonds, and we mean such bonds as the two million Stanton bonds and bonds of a like character, that were issued to the Mobile and Montgomery railroad, Montgomery and Gulf, North and South, Selma and Gulf, and others too numerous to mention. We have never heard any man who favored repudiating a single dollar of our honest debt.

Money has power, and we know that capitalists are contaminated places, and hence the people never look for, or expect a healthy reflection of public opinion from that quarter. It has not been long since one of the most prominent men in Washington City, as he certainly was one of the wealthiest, Mr. Corcoran, had to reach the people of Washington through the press of Baltimore, in order to expose the schemes of robbery and plunder inaugurated and carried out by Sheppard and his ring. The papers there saw "through a glass darkly" if they saw at all, and one thing is certain that, judging from their action, they did not intend that the tax-payers and Congress should see the venality and corruption of the ring. Other capitals, not rational, have been troubled with the same blindness of vision, but we deem it unnecessary to mention other examples—the one that we have cited illustrating the point and justifying our observation.

Alabama to-day, stands in the hands of the Radical party because of the acts of folly committed by the Lindsay administration, aided by ignoring the only question in which the people felt an interest in the last canvass. We may sneer as we please, but giving the devil his own, Lewis compares as Executive favorably with Lindsay, and the people can no longer be stuffed with chaff by office hunters and their friends. We are for live men, positive in their action and character, who have sense enough to know what is right, and honesty enough to do it. Give the people two planks in but platform, first, That white men shall rule Alabama; second, That come what or woe, we will never pay a single dollar of the fraudulent bonds imposed upon us by ignorant negroes and jail birds, while we as a people were lying prostrate, pinned down by Federal bayonets, and Alabama will stand redeemed at the next election by twenty thousand majority.

They are Coming.

[Mobile Graphic.]

It is better to be an enthusiast than to be dependant and continually growing. We believe that Alabama has a glorious destiny in the almost immediate future. Scarcely a day elapses that we do not hear reports of new purchases in this state. The Birmingham Independent learns that Mr. Thomas E. Greene purchased early this week mineral lands in that vicinity to the amount of $50,000, and has since gone to the northwest. Mr. Greene is connected with a wealthy company in that section of the country, and great hopes are entertained that they will soon commence mining operations on the lands they have recently purchased. We learn from a Chicago gentleman, who visited the editorial rooms of the Graphic yesterday, and who is interested in the Kennedy and Ellison estate, between the forks of Fish river, in Baldwin county, that one of the largest lumber dealers in Chicago is expected here in a few days for the purpose of prospecting the lumber field in this state in which he proposes to engage. Scott's mills on the Perdido river, in Baldwin county, erected at a cost of $100,000, are owned by Scott and Queal, who came here from Chicago with their capital and are doing a large and profitable business.

They are coming! the capitalists, mechanics, laborers, farmers and millers of the north, who will shortly flock hither, attracted by the advantages to be enjoyed in this climate. They have been deterred from coming, to some extent, by the misapprehension that there are dangers to be encountered in this section of the country, from epidemics, and the impression which has been created that the people of the south are hostile to new-comers who desire to make this their adopted home. They are coming, men of mind and men of muscle, and they will be warmly, earnestly, and enthusiastically welcomed to the Banner State of the Union and the Queen City of the South.

Death of Charles Sumner.

[Mobile Register.]

The telegraph had scarcely flashed the news of Fillmore's death, before it was again called into requisition. This time to announce the eclipse of the central light of republicanism—Charles Sumner, the scholarly Massachusetts Senator, the finisher, if not the author, of free-soilism, is dead.

He was born in Boston, January 6, 1811, and was, therefore, a little more than 63 years old when he died. Graduating at Harvard College, and afterwards at the Cambridge Law School, he, unlike Mr. Fillmore, began life with all the advantages which a thorough classical and legal education can give. For a time he travelled in Europe, picking up there a vast deal of information which served him well in after years. He was at one time, editor of the "American Jurist," and was the author of several legal works, including three volumes of reports of decisions in the United States Circuit Court of Massachusetts.

He was elected to the United States Senate from his native State, as a free-soiler, to succeed Daniel Webster, which, and took his seat December 1, 1851; was re-elected in 1857; again in 1863; again in 1869. His last term which has been cut short by the hand of death, would have expired March 3d, 1875.

His career since the war is familiar to all. For many years he was the very head and front of Radicalism, but of late, had modified his views to such an extent as to put him in disfavor with the extremists of the Republican party. With all his shortcomings, Charles Sumner was an able man, and has written his name indelibly upon the pages of American history. Upon points of international law he was considered an oracle; as a classical and finished scholar, without a peer in the Senate. He was no friend of our section, but now that he is gone, we can be charitable enough to cover his faults with the broad mantle, "De mortuis nil nisi bonum."

Mrs. Hampton, wife of General Wade Hampton, died at Charlottesville, Va., February 29th. Her remains were brought to Columbia, S. C., for interment. Mrs. Hampton was the daughter and only child of the great McDuffie. Her health had been indifferent for a number of years.

GROVE HILL.
MARCH 17.
COUNTY NEWS.

Mr. James U. Savage, Clerk of the Circuit Court, is authorized to receive money due this Office and to receipt for the same.

Capt. Frank Stone, of the elegant steamer "D. L. Tally," will accept our thanks for a late Mobile Register.

Circuit Court next week with the Hon. John Elliott on the bench.

CONSIDERABLE frost in this county on morning of the 13th. We hear of no damage.

DIED, of pneumonia, at his residence near this place, on the morning of the 10th inst., Mr. ISHAM MOORE, an aged and good citizen. Rest to his dust!

A direct telegraph line is being put up from Mobile to Selma, and passing through Jackson, Grove Hill and Choctaw Corner. We understand an office will be established at Jackson.

The heaviest rain since the great flood of July, 1872, fell in this county on Sunday night last. Lands were greatly washed, fences on low lands and across branches were washed off, and the ground so completely saturated with water that ploughing will be suspended necessarily for several days. Corn has been washed up, and fears are entertained that very bad stands will result from the extreme wetness of the ground.

But the concluding shower of the "spell" on Monday afternoon was the heaviest of all, and put the branches and creeks considerably above their highest rise of Sunday night. We anticipate very high rivers if the rains above have prevailed with equal intensity.

We are informed that S. J. Cummings and R. C. Jones, Esqrs., of Wilcox, John R. Henry, of Butler, R. C. Torrey and J. W. Posey, of Monroe, are candidates for the judgeship of this circuit. We do not know whether Judge Harper will be a candidate or not, but presume he will be. Among the number the people ought to be able to select a good judge.—[Monroeville Journal.]

We hear of no candidates in this circuit, but presume there will be some after awhile.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION.—The Radical power is virtually broken in New Hampshire. The snake is scolded if not fairly killed. The Senate is tied, the House nearly so, and the Democratic candidate for Governor runs ahead of his Radical opponent, and would be elected but for the third temperance man in the field. We can afford to wait on such a telegraphic forecast as this for the slower returns by the mails. It is a bad sign for Radicalism when its lines begin to break in a New England State. It shows that Grant and Morton's faith in the immortality of their corrupt party and their belief that the American people will stand any outrage it may choose to commit are not so well founded as they suppose. "There's a good time coming, boys."—[Mobile Register.]

The Mississippi River Booming

The Mobile Register copies the following from the Vicksburg "Herald" from which it will be seen that the river is very high and still rising.

The river is still rising slowly, and is gradually spreading over the low lands above here. The levees have given away in some places, and already considerable territory is being overflowed. Our telegrams continue to report the rivers swelling at nearly all points above, and there is a superfluity of water in all directions. Arkansas river, which has become a source of much interest to people all along this valley since the recent swell, is now stationary, with 16 feet in the channel from Little Rock out. The immediate tributaries are bank full, and in some places overflowing. As the rise continues both here and above, apprehensions are becoming serious, and already considerable damage has been done near us for comfort.

Job work neatly and expeditiously executed at this office.
