ORR'S GINS.

I HAVE accepted the agency of these excellent gins, believing them to be superior to many gins now offered to the public. On a test trial they have set aside gins sold at a higher price. I will take old gins, having saws not damaged by rust, as part payment. All gins warranted and those not giving satisfaction will be replaced by others that will. J. F. Orr & Co., of Orville, Dallas county, Ala., pledge themselves to give entire satisfaction. Those interested will address me at this place. INAC GRANT, Grove Hill, Ala., July 29, '73

Are our winters becoming colder? The past winter elicited no article in support of the affirmative of the above question.

What has become of the North Carolina volcano? Has it Choctaw park, and broken up the prayer meeting?

It is now published that Miss Nellie Grant has reconsidered the matter of marrying next fall and will positively retire from the presidential mansion and name during the present month—April.

The fire in Mobile on the night of the 25th ult., entirely destroyed the store and stock, one of the largest in the city, of Marx, Frenkel & Co., 73 Dauphin street, and damaged the stock of Phelan & Delamere and that of the drug store of Coster & Co.

HARRY T. TOULMIN, ESQ.—We learn that this distinguished citizen of Mobile is a candidate for the position of Circuit Judge of this Circuit. Mr. Toulmin is an able lawyer and made quite a favorable reputation while a member of the legislature during Gov. Lindsay's administration.

We are glad to announce that the Mobile Register has become the property of the Hon. John Forsyth and Mr. John L. Rupter, and that the paper is to remain under the editorial control of Col. Forsyth, one of the soundest and ablest politicians of the country. The Register has long been a power in the land and we hope for the future to see its influence greater than it has been in the past.

A SWINDLE.—We have received from a valued friend and subscriber at Rock Mills, Randolph county, a letter stating that a swindle concern in Chicago, Maynard & Co., had notified him that his ticket in their lottery had drawn two hundred dollars, and that upon sending them ten dollars (their commissions) his money would be forwarded. Our friend writes that he never had a ticket in any such concern never wrote them a line in his life, and that, of course, the whole thing is a cheat and a swindle. If he had drawn the two hundred dollars, it would be very easy to send it along and deduct the commission before sending. We trust that all of our subscribers will act like Mr. Trent, who wrote to us on the subject, and aid in exposing this swindle. Whoever sends Maynard & Co. anything only contributes that much to a combination of thieves.—[Montgomery Advertiser.]

We learn that some of our citizens have been written to to the same effect by the above or a similar den of thieves, but surely none of our people are so low minded enough to be caught in a trap like this.

There is no doubt about the fact that more grain has been planted in this county, this season, than for any three years since the war closed. It looks like you were in some magnificent grain sections of the West, to ride out in the country and see the beautiful crops of wheat, oats and rye. There cannot be too much grain sowed; after that will come independence, and horses, mules, cattle and hogs will be raised right here at home. The day of deliverance seems to be at hand.—[Montgomery Advertiser.]

The Selma, Rome and Dalton Railroad, 236 miles long, with 400,000 acres of land, is to be sold to satisfy a suit entered by the first mortgage bondholders.

Mississippi Valley and Brazil.

We spoke yesterday of the importance of a direct trade with Brazil, which will open up a new route for the produce and manufactures of the Mississippi Valley, in exchange for the coffee, sugar, india-rubber, wool, hides and cabinet woods of Brazil, securing to us an immense commerce with the South American continent. It is a marvellous fact that not a barrel of flour or bushel of corn to-day finds its way out of the mouth of the Mississippi to these Brazilian ports, which consume over 700,000 barrels of flour annually, and which import corn from Portugal at over three dollars a bushel, while American flour is frequently shipped via Liverpool.

A company has been organized with the view of establishing a line of steamships in this trade, and Col. Samuel C. Reid and Capt. Thos. B. Rogers are now in St. Louis to urge subscriptions to its capital stock. We learn from them that Messrs Chas. P. Chouteau, James B. Eads, Gerard B. Allen, Henry T. Blow, Joseph Brown and other leading citizens have endorsed the enterprise and will give it their cordial support.

Capt. Rogers, an experienced seaman, has draughted the model for these iron steamships, which are to be first-class, of 2,500 tons, expressly adapted for this trade, and not drawing over 16½ feet loaded. It is proposed to build these steamers at Carondelet, on the banks of our own river, and out of our own iron. In the meantime two chartered steamships will be immediately put in the trade as soon as $500,000 is subscribed by the Valley States, a large portion of the stock being guaranteed in Brazil, and $25,000 having been already subscribed since the arrival of these gentlemen in our city.

A letter from Hon. J. H. Hinds, U. S. consul at Rio, alluding to the necessity of a steamship line between the Mississippi valley and Brazil, says: "I am thoroughly convinced that this line could be made one of the best paying steamship investments in the world." This enterprise is indorsed and cordially recommended by the Chamber of Commerce of New Orleans, besides 300 of its leading merchants and the Common Council of that city, all urging the commercial men of the Valley States to give it all the material aid in their power.

The legislature of Louisiana has passed joint resolutions instructing their Representatives and Senators in Congress to procure the passage of a bill authorizing the Postmaster General to contract with this company for increased mail facilities for the people of the Mississippi valley with these South American ports.—[St. Louis Republican.]

Howling against Inflation.

[Montgomery Advertiser.] It is clear that there is a terrible alarm in the Northeast on the subject of "inflation." The money lenders do not relish the prospect—but the money borrowers do. That distinction accounts for the following "milk" which we find in the New York Herald's column:

The possibility of a new issue of inconvertible paper I regard with amazement and anxiety, and, in my judgment, such an issue would be a detriment and a shame.—Chas. Sumner.

This extract appears no less than 70 times in the Herald of the 28th. In the Herald of the 27th it appears 65 times. Both issues make pathetic appeals to Gen. Grant to veto the bill, and both abound in paragraphs such as these:

One veto from the President just now would be equal in its usefulness to the country to any battle he ever won at the head of our armies.

At Chattanooga Gen. Grant saved the country, and he has now an opportunity to save it again by giving to the instructed opinion of the country its due weight against the inflation bill.

Vicksburg was taken gloriously after a persistent and patient struggle, but the President may now, by the stroke of the pen, secure for his name a more enduring honor.

Meanwhile the reporter for the Herald tells the people that on Wall street many wise heads say that the worst of the inflation bill is simply a question between the millionaires and the poor men; that the millionaires, having plenty, are against inflation, and the poor men, having little, want more, which is about the same idea that the Advertiser expressed yesterday. Another good feature of the bill according to the same wise heads is that it definitely fixes the volume of the currency, and prevents the Secretary of the Treasury from pulling and hauling at the currency and tampering with millions at his own discretion.—These various facts explain much of the opposition to inflation which comes from the East. The hard times and tight money markets of the last six months have been god-sends to the Boston and New York capitalists, on the general average, and this sufficiently accounts for the present frantic outcries from that quarter, against a bill which promises to block, to some extent, their Shylock game. We rather like the music; let the ceremony proceed.

A correspondent of the New York World describes the great snow-blockade on the Central Pacific Railroad which has closed up the business of the Sierra and caused so much detention to traffic. "Snow has fallen almost continually from the first of December, and on the 9th of March was twenty feet deep, and still the blinding, driving snow was fighting men in his efforts to clear a passageway through to civilization. At Summit, the highest point of railway travel in the world, the passageway from the cars to the hotel is on a single plank, laid down on snow twenty feet deep, and a misstep would bring about rather serious consequences to him who made it. The snow-ploughs have been doing Titan labor, though. The snow-plough of the Sierras is a massive structure, the smallest ones weighing 45,000 pounds, about the size of a two-story house, and is composed entirely of iron and steel. The overland train from San Francisco encountered the storm near Blue Canon, and soon the combined efforts of ploughs, shovellers, engines and engineers were taxed to their utmost for moving the train. The snow flying in blinding sheets before the great iron plough, now rolling with a mighty crash down the sides of some precipitous canon, and again piling itself along the sides of the track, the engines puffing their slow way along, all combined to create a scene which can be witnessed nowhere and at no time but in the Sierras and at this season of the year. Hundreds of men were employed in the work of making a pathway, and it was only by the most earnest efforts that the task was finally accomplished.

MOBILE WEEKLY REGISTER.

This paper, one of the very ablest of the country and one of the oldest and largest in the Southern States, should be taken and read by every farmer and conservative voter in the country. It contains twelve six-column pages of matter—political, agricultural, literary and news. Its editorials are able and interesting and its selections are made with much care and taste.

Hon. John Forsyth, Editor-in-Chief of the Register, possesses a national reputation as a political writer and as a gentleman of sound and well-informed political opinions.

Prof. J. P. Stiles, the agricultural editor, gives much ability and interest to his department of the paper.

The Weekly Register is issued expressly for country circulation. The price of this large, able and useful paper is only $3 a year.
