Mere Mention.

The newly-elected Lord Mayor of London is a practical printer.

Rhode Island has passed the law giving discharged convicts one-tenth of their actual earnings.

Iowa judges hold that in case a marriage engagement is broken the parties must return all presents or their worth in money.

The Washington correspondents tell us, with some degree of positiveness this time, that Secretary Richardson is on the point of resigning.

Rosebud dinners are a new freak. The guests are exclusively demiselles just bursting into womanhood, to whom everything is colour de rose.

The spring bonnet will be very large, and will turn upon one side and down on the other, something in the cavalry style, they say. Of course the girls will look killing in them.

The lower houses of the legislatures of Iowa and Michigan have declared in favor of amending the constitutions of these States so as to extend the suffrage to women.

CHARITY suffereth long and is kind. A young lady in Georgia allowed three hundred men to kiss her, at twenty-five cents a head, and gave the proceeds to an orphan asylum.

The manufacture of imitation butter from suet has become a considerable mercantile interest. In Albany a company has just begun operations with a capital of fifty thousand dollars.

FIFTY-TWO Representatives and nine Senators attended the Pacific mail steamship company's free lunch and excursion party to witness the launching of the "City of Pekin," at Chester, Pennsylvania.

The Pennsylvania House of Representatives, last Saturday, passed to a second reading, by the decided vote of 75 to 11, the joint resolution requesting the President to appoint a court-martial to re-examine the charges against FITZ JOHN PORTER.

The ballot system, just employed for the first time in England at a general election, has given much satisfaction; not, perhaps, to politicians as a class, certainly not to defeated candidates, but to large numbers of persons who are glad to find elections taking place quietly and without the least interruption to business.

PHILADELPHIA people are beginning to be anxious about their finances. The debt of the city now amounts to $800,000, more than double that of the entire State. The Inquirer said last Saturday, at which there were present certain members of the City and State Governments and of the Park Commission. It was then proposed to increase the enormous municipal debt to $800,000, including an appropriation of $3,000,000 for Fairmount Park.

A CORRESPONDENT of the New York Tribune describes the great snow blockade on the Central Pacific Railroad which has closed up the fastnesses of the Sierras and caused so much detention to traffic. Snow has fallen almost continually from the first of December, and on the 9th of the present month was twenty feet deep, and still the blinding, driving snow was fighting man in his efforts to clear a passageway through it to civilization. At Summit, the highest point of railway travel in the world, the passageway from the cars to the hotel is on single planks, laid down on snow twenty feet deep, and a misstep would bring about rather serious consequences to him who made it. The snow-ploughs have been doing Titan labor, though. The snow-plough of the Sierras is a massive structure; the smallest one weighs forty-five thousand pounds, and the largest fifty-five thousand pounds, is about the size of a two-story house, and is composed entirely of iron and steel. The overland train from San Francisco encountered the storm near Blue Canon, and soon the combined efforts of ploughs, shovellers, engines and engineers were taxed to their uttermost for moving the train. The snow flying in blinding sheets before the great iron plough, now rolling with a mighty crash down the sides of some precipitous canon, and again piling itself along the sides of the track, the engines puffing their slow way along, all combined to create a scene which can be witnessed nowhere and at no time but in the Sierras and at this season of the year. Hundreds of men were employed in the work of making a pathway, and it was only by the most earnest endeavors that the task was finally accomplished.

Tax Him Out of House and Home.

The State Journal denies that there is any evidence to support the charge that the Radicals of Alabama favor confiscation of the lands of the white people by partial and oppressive taxation. We have heretofore quoted the very pointed remarks of GREENE SHADRACH WASHINGTON LEWIS, of Perry, and expect to prove them too—despite the denial of the S. J.

But this is not all. When the Negro Labor Convention assembled in Montgomery in November last, the sweet youth SPENCER, who carries the party in this State in his breeches pocket, and heads "rebellsions" against the constitution and laws, sent the following telegram to his compatriots and equals:

HUNTSVILLE, Nov. 10, 1873.

I regret my inability to attend and participate in your Convention. My feelings and sympathies are with you and your cause. I am opposed to all MONOPOLIES, and particularly to the LAND MONOPOLY that to-day curses the South.

(Signed) GEO. E. SPENCER.

There never was but one sort of "land monopoly" in the South. Everybody knows what that monopoly was. It exists to-day as fully as it ever did—not only in the South but in the Northwest. But Mr. SPENCER is "opposed" to that monopoly. He is "opposed" to one man holding more lands than another. His dispatch cannot mean anything else, because no other sort of monopoly exists, or has ever existed, here. The character of the body to which he sent this dispatch justifies the assertion that he meant something more than an advisory letter to the land owners—We shall therefore look a little further into the proceedings to see how the colored Solons there assembled construed the sutler-statesman's agrarian intimation. On the 12th of November we find the following:

The committee on Homesteads reported resolutions recommending the Labor Union to petition the General Assembly to pass a law exempting all homesteads within the State from taxation, provided the principal crops grown thereon consist of corn, peas and potatoes.

THE TAXES BE INCREASED on all lands within the State held by MONOPOLISTS, &c., which said report and resolutions were adopted.

This is the construction which the followers of SPENCER placed on SPENCER's agrarian intimation. They knew that such a dispatch, addressed to them, could not possibly bear any other.

But the S. J. denies that such doctrines have any standing in its party. Of course it does; who expected it to do otherwise? In connection with these facts and almost on the heel of them, came the remarks of GREENE SHADRACH WASHINGTON LEWIS, of Perry, delivered in the House of Representatives on the 4th of December, which we once more quote for the information of those who may have overlooked them before. Here they are:

Greene Shadrach Washington Lewis is of Perry, opposed the amendment, and argued learnedly against it. HE wanted TAXES RAISED TO SUCH a pitch that the LARGE LANDOWNERS would be COMPELLED TO SELL their lands, so that EE and others like him could BUY.

Several members (from their seats), "That let the cat out of the bag!"

Having commenced with the cause, and followed it out to its expected, desired and legitimate effect, we leave the public to judge what importance should attach to the denials of the S. J. of charges affecting its party. If it finds anything "floating around" colored to do hurt to the "idol of cubology" it strikes out with blind rage and trusts to the proverbial efficacy of "sticking to it." If the extracts quoted above do not establish the charge denied by the S. J., we are at a loss to know what plain English means.

Admiral Semmes.

Admiral SEMMES declines to lecture before Skillen Post, No. 47, G. A. R., at Rome, New York, for want of leisure. In his reply to the invitation he says:

I am complimented by your invitation to lecture in Rome, N. Y., in aid of the fund to procure tombstones for deceased United States soldiers who lost their lives in the late war between the States. And you are kind enough to assure me that the people of Central New York would treat me with hospitality. I thank you and them, and I see no reason why, as citizens of the same country, who have had a good and tough fight, we should not make peace and be friends when the fight is over; especially if the fight has had the effect to increase the respect the one had for the other. As soldiers at least we can meet on common ground. The living soldier always mourns the dead one after the heat of the fray is over, even though the dead one may have died by his hand. Soldiers are not statesmen, to decide the right and wrong of a quarrel; their duty is to their general and their flag. Human nature was exalted and adorned in our late war by many noble soldiers on both sides, and a true soldier can not but drop a tear over all such who lost their lives in the quarrel, and I trust that the time is not far distant when our children, at the firesides, will read the thrilling and romantic story of the deeds of their ancestors without pausing to ask themselves, when they come to the story of a true knight, whether he wore the "blue or the gray." It should be enough for them to know that he was an American citizen and true soldier.

Nothing would give me greater pleasure, I assure you, than to make the acquaintance of my fellow citizens of Central New York, but I shall have to deny myself the pleasure for the present for want of the requisite leisure. Renewing my thanks to you for your kind invitation, I am, very respectfully, yours &c., RAPHAEL SEMMES.

QUEEN VICTORIA is now in the 37th year of her reign and the 55th year of her age. She has 9 children and 21 grand-children.

The State Press.

The clear-headed Southern Age, of St. Clair, comes to the front this week on the subject of "Reputation." Like that of "Truthful James" its "language is plain," as witness the following:

The doctrine of "reputation" can not be a party principle, it may be the cry of a mob, the subverters of existing government, but can never be a principle advocated by any party entitled to any other name than that of a mob, or revolutionists. The question of "reputation" is not properly political—it is judicial—and it is for this reason that it cannot be the principle of a party, and a mob is necessary for its enforcement. If a claim against a State is just, it may be enforced by a mob, but its justice is not affected thereby, and it is always legal and of binding force against the State; and if such a claim is unjust, it will stand as just against the State notwithstanding the mobocratic act of reputation.

Speaking of the manifesto issued from Head Quarters by the Negroes' Equal Rights Association and the advice therein contained against following after the "soothsayings of political tricksters," the Birmingham News says:

There is not a Democrat in this State who would not be rejoiced if every negro would follow this advice to the letter. Ever since they were made free, they have been charmed by the "soothsayings of political tricksters and demagogues," but these pretended friends have been, without a single exception, Northern adventurers and Southern men who have sold their birthright for a miserable mess of pottage. These "political tricksters" have used the negro for the vilest purposes, for they have not only made them believe that the Southern white man is their enemy, but they have made them little better than pawns in every office of trust and honor on the negro's back.

The Jasper Mountain Eagle says that there are but few freedmen in Walker county and that the almost entire absence of that element is one of the greatest blessings the county enjoys.

The population of the county consists almost exclusively of agricultural people, who are prospering notwithstanding the recent money panic. True many of them are unable to pay the full amount of their indebtedness, still those who are most behind can as a general thing, make another crop and pay their debts, and have means to get teams and provisions. The few merchants we have among us seem to be thriving and going on smilingly with their business. The little manufacturing interest we have is doing a good business. Our manufacturing city, South Lowell, will yet be a place of consequence, a source of riches to the stockholders, an ornament and a blessing to the country.

The Southern Star has just entered the 8th year of its able, useful and prosperous career. Speaking of the difficulties which all newspapers have recently encountered the Star says:

We have passed through a distressing financial panic, the effects of which none have more seriously felt than newspaper publishers, and are still alive; and trust that the lesson taught us, by recent experience, added to our firmly fixed determination to use greater care and diligence in the future, will enable us to increase our usefulness as we grow in years. The times immediately before us, are fraught with peril, that are to fix, for awhile at least, the destiny of our State and people. We shall strive to do no less than our duty, and trust to the public to sustain us in our efforts.

It is singular how powerful "weak woman" is. She has evidently "flanked" the Tuskegee News as witness the following on the temperance crusade:

Let the work continue, no harm can be done and great good may be accomplished. And good could be done here in Alabama, as there is plenty of material for the ladies to keep busy praying for a good length of time. We look with interest for further developments.

The News is quite correct in saying that as "the Southern people had no special devotion to Mr. SUMNER while living they will not now feel much disposition to worship him as a saint." Still, Mr. SUMNER was as good as the large majority of his co-laborers in the Radical vineyard. The others may be smoother, but they are none the better at heart, for all that. They never hesitate to violate not only the Constitution but all decency besides, whenever the interests of any man—Radical in politics—require it. Witness, for instance, the SPENCER-SYKES case.

There is probably more truth than poetry in the following from the Troy Messenger:

Oh, the rain, the beautiful rain—Ain't you mighty glad it's raining again? On the mountain and plain the rain will start up wheat, oats, rye, barley, grass and the hour will afford the miners an almighty sight of first rate hydraulic power, which will be used in tearing down the mountains, and fountains will become mighty rivers, which will smash all the bridges while they have been built at such great expense into shivers, tearing a water-way clear to the sea, in the land of the brave and the home of the free.

The Talladega Watertower and Reporter, commenting on the address of the Executive Committee, says:

It will require the earnest determination of every good citizen to save the State. Tax payers, property holders, and all able-bodied citizens must prepare for an earnest struggle to redeem the country. Read the address and make up your mind to go to work and continue earnestly and unflinchingly at work until the day of the election. With united effort we can carry the election in Alabama, and save the State from desolation and destruction.

A correspondent of the Tuskegee News names WM. F. CHILTON, Esq., of this city in connection with the nomination for Congressman at large. The correspondent says:

His numerous friends in Macon county and the State, would be gratified at such a compliment, deservedly paid him. His name is familiar to the people of Macon. Here his honored and lamented father lived, whom every body loved, and here the son won the confidence and esteem of the people, and reached a high rank at the bar.

fore his removal to Montgomery where he has been equally successful. In a well considered article on the subject of young men and their duties and responsibilities, the Gadsden Times says:

Should not our young men, initiated into the spirit and wants of our country, enter her service, with heart and hand both in rank and file, that she may lead us more fully to her destined sphere of usefulness? The young, unbiassed by prejudice and untrammelled by a spirit of party serving, with hearts imbued with love of right and country, may, it seems to us, most appropriately serve at her altars. For these noble ends our young men should be themselves. Study to acquire those habits of self-government and consecration to right, alone fitting their possessors for these sacred trusts.

The Autauga Citizen has the following: The "Civil Rights" bill does not, we feel assured, meet with approval from the great mass of the colored people. They recognize the forcible fact that such a thing as social equality in all its aspects can never be engrafted in full on the minds of the American people, and if tried no good can come of it. We hope to see the bill die a quiet and insignificant death, and be entombed amid the filthy rubbish of all such obnoxious propositions.

Increased Expenditures.

We invite attention to the following table of expenditures from the years 1868 and 1873. Not one of these items ought to be increased a single cent, and yet they are increased about $23,000,000.

	1868.	1873.
Indians.....	$3,858,553	$7,841,704
Constant survey.....	457,700	1,125,000
Survey of public lands.....	370,250	1,125,000
Surveyor General's office.....	414,387	1,125,000
Sub-Treasurer.....	723,338	3,500,181
Miscellaneous.....	331,113	1,125,000
Total.....	$5,000,000	$7,000,001

The increase might have been ten times as much, and not have been noticeable, if these Members of Congress, who evidently do not understand their business, could only be taught that the greatest misfortune to the country at this time is an "extravagant reduction of the taxes."

This is the new plank of the Republican platform. The people are called upon by the Radical leaders to set their faces like flint against any further "extravagant reduction of the taxes."
