As Northern Companies throw restrictions on their Southern Agents, our own people are beginning to transfer their business to Southern Life Insurance Companies. They thus keep a large amount of money at home and in use here which would go to other sections of the country. Prominent among the first-class Companies of the United States is the Mobile Life Insurance Company. It is officered by gentleman of great business knowledge and experience. The stock of the Company rates very high, and policy holders derive the benefit of low rates and of aiding in building up home institutions. The Agents in this city are the well-known and popular Moses Bros, whose names guarantee the excellence of any institution with which they are connected. They have already forwarded many applications from this city and we predict that they will continue to add rapidly to its business.

The Alabama & Chattanooga Railroad will be sold in Mobile to-morrow under a decree of the United States Court rendered on the 23d of last January. The Commissioners of sale are forbidden to accept any bid of less sum than $5,220,000. But any sum bid over and above $300,000 may be paid in receiver's certificates and bonds.

On these terms the road ought to bring in about $12,000,000 of our outstanding debt, if no "ring has been formed to exclude competition. We learn that

Jno. C. Stanton will be on the ground to bid for it. If all the insolvent railroads, for which the State has endorsed, could be sold for bonds—straight or endorsed—the State and the capitalists could both make a good thing out of it. The capitalists could buy up bonds at forty cents and get the roads for two-thirds the cost of their construction, and for our part we sincerely wish that some such arrangements could be made.

The accident to the stand at the Cemetery, on Decoration Day, suggested to our minds the propriety of changing its location to some point near the soldiers' monument, and so arranging it that the orator will face up hill. This will bring his hearers before him, and dispose them so that there will be no wrenching necks out of place to look over the heads of those in front. The speaker can see each auditor, and each auditor can return the compliment, without inconvenience to himself or his neighbors.

The near completion of the Water Works suggests the further thought that a handsome little fountain, where stands, would add beauty, grace, and comfort to our city. "City of the Dead." We doubt not that the Water Works Company will contribute what aid they can to the enterprise, and though we have no interest in the Cemetery (and are not disposed to covet any), except that which every other good citizen must feel, we are heartily willing to bear our due share of the expense, whatever that may be,

and will moreover thank the Council for affording us the opportunity to do so. We have a very handsome little Cemetery—one in which every citizen must feel some pride—and we ardently desire to see it made still handsomer.

It is a dreary sleep at best—but deep sleep of death—but if the waters can play in beauty, the birds sing in melody, and the flowers breathe fragrance over the little mounds, the terrors of the grave will be toned down, and the dreamless slumber disrobed of many of the ghastly habiliments with which the quick fancy otherwise clothes it.

It also tends to the elevation and refinement of human nature to find evidence of the mounds and headstones tangible evidences of that great love which follows, far down into the dark chill waters, the well remembered forms of those who have "crossed over the river to rest beneath the shade of the trees."

THE CASE OF THE STATE VS. PAT ROBINson, which has been in progress all the week, was given to the Jury yesterday afternoon. Judge Rice made an excellent speech for the defendant, while Col. Judge closed for the prosecution with one of the most noble efforts of his life. The Judge delivered his charge to the Jury and they then retired.

About 11 o'clock after being out six hours, the Jury came into court with a verdict of "guilty" as charged in the indictment. It was polled, and each Juryman assented to the verdict. Col.

Judge made a motion for a new trial.

The Judge stated that motion could not be entertained until after judgment, whereupon Col. Sanford rose and moved that the court pronounce the sentence according to law.

Solicitor Knox took the floor and assented to Col. Troy's motion, and said he believed the defendant was innocent, and that the jury had been influ-
