and a terrible loss of human life. The villages of the South, on less fully. Latest figures of the loss of life make the total one hundred and forty-four, as follows, between three places: At Williamsburg, 60; Leeds, 40; Haydensville, 35. These figures only represent persons whose loss is positively known, though the bodies of all are not yet recovered. Bodies are constantly being found, and in some cases those of persons who were not supposed to be lost, so that it seems, perfectly safe to say the total loss of life will exceed 150, if indeed it does not more nearly approach 200. It is impossible yet to give a detailed estimate of losses. Aside from buildings destroyed and bridges carried away, roads are ruined and hundreds of acres of meadow land rendered almost worthless. Total loss must far exceed one million dollars, and will probably come near two. It appears serious doubts as to the safety of the reservoir have been entertained ever since it was built nine years ago, though less in last few years than in its early history. The gate keeper has several times expressed fears to his employers, calling special attention to the point where the break occurred, but examiners always reported everything safe.

LONDON, May 17. A collision is reported at Tydril, Wales, between a coal and passenger train and 40 passengers seriously injured. Special dispatches from Madrid say the new Government intends to revive titles of nobility.

PARIS, May 17. McMahon has accepted the resignation of the DeBrogie Cabinet and entrusted to Gaulard the formation of a new ministry which is expected to be completed to-morrow. Gaulard accepting the premiership declared his policy would be to carry constitutional bills through the assembly and complete the organization of McMahon's power. It is reported that Gaulard is framing a new Government from the Right Center and Conservative portion of the late ministry will probably be retained in office.

Republ. Journals strongly urge an immediate dissolution of the assembly, which they declare is powerless to constitute anything. It is rumored that the extreme right will move a restoration of monarchy, and if the motion fails, will then move for a dissolution. The opinion is generally expressed that the Legitimists party in the assembly, by its vote of Friday, committed political suicide. It is asserted that their vote was inspired by a desire to force the division between moderate and extreme right, renders probable an alliance between the former section and Conservative wing of the left centre. A new majority will be constituted, and the majority will determine the incoming Government and enable it to go on with its executive programme and bring about a speedy adoption of the Constitutional bills. It is not thought that there is any immediate prospect of dissolution of the Assembly. Tranquillity prevails throughout France. President McMahon's power is unquestioned.

SHREVEPORT, May 18. The people having Jones and Hill, gamblers, in the Court House yard, for the murder of a Tennessee named Elliott, whom they enticed to their den. During the excitement 14 prisoners escaped from the jail.

WASHINGTON, May 18. House.—First hour of a session was given to introduction, reading and reference of bills. Nothing of importance.

The Senate has up legislative, judicial, and executive appropriation bill.

LOUISVILLE, May 18. George Robertson Chief Judge of the Supreme Court is dead.

WASHINGTON, May 18. Details of the flood are heart-rending. It is feared many Canadians recently arrived to work in the factories are lost. A watchman discovered the horse, rode down the valley, making three miles in 15 minutes, shouting the alarm. A milk man, with a fleet horse dashed ahead of the flood some two minutes. He beat it in crossing a bridge scarcely 20 seconds, and speeding on, screamed, "The reservoir is coming." This heroic milkman saved hundreds of persons who fled their homes and breakfasts for the slopes. The flood rushed by, carrying human beings, houses, trees, cows, horses, poultry, &c.

LONDON, May 18. Captain Tyler, who investigates the Erie, sailed Saturday. The Czar's nephew who was arrested for stealing diamonds, is the eldest son of the Grand Duke Constantine.

The Czar went to Windsor yesterday and bid farewell to the Queen. To-day he visits Guildhall. All the flags of the city are flying.

The Times and other morning papers have been so full of reports of the early dissolution of the French Assembly is unavoidable, hourly gains strength.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS. May 18. All accounts attribute the disaster to the weakness and insecurity of the reservoir works. Walls were not thick enough to resist the pressure of 120 feet of water averaging thirty feet in depth.

STRAYED.—From my lot, last Friday night, a red dog, named CALK, about four months old, no mark, except a small bruise on the back of the neck. For any information, leading to her recovery, a liberal reward will be paid. THOS. B. JONES.

About three o'clock Sunday afternoon the fire alarm bell sounded. It was discovered that some cotton on the platform at the Eufaula Depot had caught fire from sparks of a locomotive. About five bales were totally destroyed and four others damaged. The fire companies did their duty well as they always do.

We understand the Old Folks Concert will be repeated during the latter part of this month, probably the 27th or 28th, and that they will have the assistance of Mr. R. Dorman and his company from Nashville, whose Old Folks concert has been so successful in nearly all the principal cities and towns of Tennessee.

JUDGE JOHNSON OF GA., has established a rule to excuse farmers from jury duty in the spring, and take city men and merchants. In the fall he excuses merchants and takes farmers. This is a good rule and relieves each class from public duty when their private business demands most their attention.

The engines on the Western R. R. are draped in mourning for the death of Engineer Bird, who died in Opelika Friday morning. The Columbus Enquirer says: "He was here last Friday night on his engine, and was taken sick Saturday. He was a young man possessed of some property, and a good and popular official. He had no wife or children."

One of the few things which Montgomery can show our New York Press Excursionists, which they could not see at home is our ice manufacturing. Up North, no such machine is necessary—all that is needed is a pond or smooth running river. The process of manufacturing ice is not only a novelty, but is also a great triumph of science. We feel assured that the enterprising manager of the Ice Company will do all in their power to initiate our visitors in the mysteries of the art and hope that the Excursionists will visit the factory.

Capt. J. F. Whitfield, General Agent of the South & North Road, arrived here yesterday, says the Nashville Banner of the 16th, having been summoned to appear before the Law Court to defend suits involving $140,000, damages alleged to have been sustained by the injury of sundry persons in an accident on this road two years ago. The cases have been postponed for two weeks on account of the illness of Judge Guild. There are seven or eight of these cases, growing out of an accident which occurred two years ago. We learn that the company will prove a combination, in the matter of these suits, to finance the Railroad of a big sum and divide the profits.

MANUFACTURING PROSPERITY.—The St. Johnsburg Caledonian, of April 18th, says: "Last Friday, the Fairbanks Scale Company had an order from the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company for twenty-four-hundred-dred-bushel hopper-scales to be put in their new immense elevator, building at Locust Point. As these are fifteen-ton scales, and are all set in a row, some idea of the size of the elevator may be gained." The production last week was one thousand and seventy-eight scales, including six iron frame railroad-track scales, of thirty to fifty tons capacity, and fifty-five hay scales; and these orders come, not only from all parts of the United States, but from every portion of the globe.

The Alabama Press Association meets in Birmingham to-day. Delegates duly accredited will be passed over the South and North Alabama Railroad, free of charge both ways. And, in addition, this excellent and well managed road, with its usual liberality and enterprise, has tendered to the Alabama Editors and their distinguished visitors, the free use of the road, and furnished them with a "palace train" to visit the points of interest along its line, including the coal mines, iron works, zinc mines, etc. Col. Moses, the President, and Mr. Stanton, the Superintendent, are as usual alive to the interests of Alabama and their great railroad line. We are sure that all will appreciate their intelligent and considerate forethought, and that their action will redound to the benefit of all.

Mr. T. B. Jones offers reward for return of a red heifer, described in advertisement.

Trains now run through to Mobile and the transfer at Mobile river is now avoided. Schedule time will be made hereafter through to New Orleans.

A visit to Pensacola is quite a refreshing thing in these hot times. To a man from the cotton region where he hears only one thing discussed the change to other topics is particularly interesting. Here we have complaints of the flood, had stands of corn and cotton, short crops and very short money crops. There the people seem to be cheerful, and have more ready money. They are engaged in one particular business it is true, but that gives impetus to all branches. At one time in March 173 vessels were in the port of Pensacola, from all quarters of the globe loading with timber and lumber and nearly all carried out from Alabama timber lands. This business employs hundreds, if not thousands, of contractors and their hands, who fell the timber, fix it in rafts, and float it down to Pensacola's magnificent bay. Commission merchants have orders for purchase of timber, make contracts and advances and pay out immense sums of money mounting high up into the millions. Messrs. Keyser, Judah & Co., D. F. Sullivan & Co., Epping, Belas & Co., Hoyer Bros. and other prominent firms have contracts and correspondents in all quarters of the globe and during the year receive and forward between 600 and 700 vessels.

Vessels of 17 and 18 feet draught can run right against the wharves, and many go up to Simpson's splendid mills at Bagdad and Milton.

It is unfortunate that these vessels all come in empty, except ballast. Occasionally there is an exception. One vessel arrived a few days ago from Toulon, France, loaded with superior quality of brock.

Quite a correspondence is going on with parties in Rio, in reference to importations of coffee, and there is no reason why Pensacola and Mobile should not furnish the United States with their supply of coffee at rates lower than other cities.

At Molino and Bluff Springs on the railroad from the Junction to Pensacola are splendid mills. The former are owned by a large company of capitalists, in which the celebrated Dr. Ayer is largely interested. The latter belong to Messrs. Evans, Rabb & Co., well known citizens of Alabama. Mr. W. B. Hoyt, a former citizen of Montgomery, is secretary and treasurer of the company.

Visitors to Pensacola are sure of pleasant treatment at the Santa Rosa Hotel, kept by Mrs. Ackerman and her son-in-law, Mr. Rice. Mr. Dunn, on Palafox street, is also prepared to entertain guests in fine style. There are many fine restaurants in the city at which day or night good meals can be obtained.

Pensacola has many fine physicians and able lawyers, and indeed all classes there seem to be thorough-going, wide awake and enterprising.

Among the most active and liberal men of the Union Mr. C. L. LeBaron, of the banking house of LeBaron & Son can be safely rated. He was the main mover in the building of the telegraph to Pensacola, and when it was thought last winter that war with Spain was imminent, he went to work and in less than two days ran a line from the city to the Navy Yard and placed it at the disposal of the Government. He is prompt in all public matters, and hospitable to the highest degree. Circumstances forbid a longer visit to Pensacola last week, but we hope this pleasure will not be long delayed.

SPRINGFIELD, May 18. The man who took up the cry at Haydensville and carried the news to Leeds was Myron Day.

A little before 8 o'clock, while all the people of the place were just going to work or finishing their breakfast, their attention was attracted by the appearance of Myron Day, from Haydensville, on a horse, shouting wildly. "The reservoir is broken! Save yourselves, for the flood is at hand!" He rushed for the bridge and over the dam, and had got about half way over when the roar of about half a dozen waters was heard by the inhabitants, who, by this time, stood at their door-steps. He dashed toward Florence, and the people looked north, toward the North Dam, and saw there what seemed to them the crest of an enormous moving pile, fifty feet high. They knew what it was and rushed wildly up the slopes to safe quarters. Their houses were left just as they stood, with tables spread for breakfast and children getting ready for school. In less than three minutes the stone dam broke, and the great column of water, laden with frame houses, sawing machines, pianos, boilers, iron wheels, huge grist-mill machinery, cows, sheep, poultry and human beings from Haydensville, plunged into the valley of Leeds.

Measures for immediate relief have been instituted. At Haydensville Mr. Hayden sent out notice to rebuild his works, and offers to employ all who were working for him, and as many more as are needed, in clearing away the debris and making preparations for work.

Hundreds of acres are covered with the sad remnants of villages which once adorned the country. A tract running eight miles through Hampshire county is now a barren waste, covered with stones, ruins and corpses.

St. Louis, May 18. Judge McClure, Chief Justice of Arkansas, Col. Oliver, Sheriff of Pulaski county, have arrived here en route for Washington. Judge McClure says all statements upon which Attorney General Williams predicted his opinion in the Brooks-Baxter case, was false from beginning to end, and that the courts of the State, including the Supreme Court, have never had under adjudication the case erroneously made up by Mr. Williams, with regard to the present status at Little Rock. He said the situation remained unchanged; that Brooks would never surrender to the Federal authorities. Brooks would continue to be recognized as the lawful Governor by the State Auditor, the Treasurer, and the Attorney General, and in fact by all the executive officers, except Mr. Johnson, the Secretary of State, and that if Mr. Williams' candidate, is Governor, against all the executive officers, and against the decisions of the court, then there is no longer a republican form of Government in Arkansas. The whole question will be brought before Congress.

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 18. Governor Moses and Ex-Treasurer Humbert of Orangeburg, have been indicted by a Republican Grand Jury on charges of breach of trust, with fraudulent intention and for grand larceny. Solicitor Butts moved that Judge Graham issue a bench warrant for the arrest of the parties. The Judge reserved his decision until to-morrow.

BERLIN, May 18. The Emperor has ordered the temporary retirement German diplomatic service of Count Von Arnim.

LONDON, May 18. A Paris correspondent of the Times writes to that journal that the vote against the ministry in the Assembly on Saturday last of giving priority of discussion to the electoral law over the municipal bill, means a speedy dissolution of the Assembly and removal of the seat of Government from Versailles to Paris. Court DeChambard has suggested the propriety of defeating any measures calculated to settle the Government.

MONTREAL, May 18. Arrangements are completed for the holding here, next October, a Conference of Dominion branch of Evangelical Alliance, to which leading clergymen and laymen, of various provinces of Great Britain and the United States, have been invited.

New York, May 18. First day of Great German shooting festival, of the German Rifle Association, was initiated this morning by a grand procession of the various rifle companies through the streets of Hoboken, on their march to Union Hill Schutzen Park. Delegates from the Schutzen corps of Albany, Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Troy, Washington, Baltimore and several New England cities, formed part of the procession.

CHARLOTTE, May 18. In Orangeburg, this afternoon, the County Solicitor pressed his motion for a bench warrant to arrest Gov. Moses. The Court granted the same, and the sheriff goes to Columbia to-night. The order fixes the bond at $8,000, for trial at the present term. The Attorney General promises to be at Orangeburg on Wednesday, to prosecute the case.

SPRINGFIELD May 18. Thousands of people have gone from this city and the surrounding country to Northampton, the scene of the Mill river devastation. Search for dead bodies has been going on all day, and will be continued under the best possible management for several days, and perhaps even weeks. The meadows are so deeply covered with debris, resulting from the destruction, that it is feared many dead bodies have been undiscovered. Numbers have been recovered to-day, and it is now thought yesterday's estimate of two hundred lives lost may fall even below the actual truth. The extent of the disaster increases rather than diminishes, and it is yet impossible to give a full and reliable estimate of the loss of life and property. At Haydensville, to-day, sixty families have applied for relief. The temporary funds furnished from Northampton, yesterday, are now exhausted, and a mass meeting has been called at Northampton, this evening, to devise means for a continuous and systematic relief of the sufferers. The whole community is moving in the work of relief and alleviating loss and suffering. Hayden, Gere & Co., at Haydensville, proprietors of the destroyed brass works commenced the work of rebuilding this morning, but have been obliged to desist on account of rain. They will resume their work as the weather allows, and hope to have their building ready for occupancy in three months.
