Col. Hamilton, of Atlanta, Georgia, agent of the Great Kennesaw route, is in the city.

Our northern guests left Monday morning by special train over the South and North, and Selma, Rome and Dalton railroads for Atlanta. They left the foot of Commerce street at 7 a.m. sharp, and, if nothing unexpected happened, arrived at Atlanta at 12 last evening. Ten or twelve members of the Alabama Press Association accompanied them and will make a short visit to Washington on a special invitation extended by Mr. B. W. Wren agent of the great Kennesaw Route. Our best wishes go with them.

The eight of all others over which our northern visitors made most ad, and which was to them the greatest novelty of all, was the Ice factory. Dr. P. C. Lee, who was on hand, showed them through it, and with his usual courtesy, explained the process of freezing water by steam—a meeting of extremes which very few of them seemed to be able to precisely comprehend. They saw the blocks of ice being turned out, and were so pleased with the process that they lingered long as loth to leave the novel scene. They expressed a decided conviction that a similar factory would pay handsomely in New York, and it would.

The Selma Times learns that the Tally is high and dry at Piedler's Landing about six miles above Clifton. She is fully ten feet from the water and will have to be regularly launched or wait for a rise in the river. It appears that she went into a private landing, got aground and was left fast by the rapidly falling water. The Leo had been sent from Mobile to the assistance of the Tally. She has been properly supported to prevent her falling over, and Capt. Finnegun who is with his boat, is doing everything in his power to prevent any serious damage. In common with the many friends here of the noble hearted old Owen we deeply sympathize with him. We hope to hear that his splendid steamer is again afloat before a great while.

Yesterday, by invitation of Mr. S.D. Hubbard chairman of the committee appointed by Col. Charles P. Ball Superintendent of the Western railroad, we visited, "White Hall," a place situated on the Selma road about 22 miles from this city. Cards of invitation had been sent to the clergymen of the various religious denominations of our city, the principals of the Sunday schools, Masonic and Odd Fellow Fraternities, Knights of Pythias, Firemen, and other organizations, to visit this delightful rural spot. At 9 a.m. with "all on board" the passenger train started from the foot of Commerce street, and at 10:30 o'clock the guests were safely landed at the station, which is about two minutes walk from the grounds. We were met by Col. Ball who had preceded us upon the freight train, and by him escorted to this place of retirement, where "The fall of water, and the song of birds, and hills that end to the distant hills, are luxuries exceeding all the glare of the world can boast."

These delightful grounds are the property of Mr. W.B. Hall of Lowndes county, and the Western Railroad Company, have made such arrangements with Mr. Hall that all excursion parties who wish to visit the grounds can do so without charge. The Railroad Company have erected a spacious building, 60 by 80 feet for dancing or other purposes which these who visit the grounds choose to occupy it for. They have also placed seats around the various springs, and erected a private building for the especial use of children and ladies. The principal of the building is situated about 50 yards from the main building in the valley between two hills, and was named by the guests in honor of the chairman of the committee, "Hubbard's Spring." In proximity to this spring the waters, it is said, have a peculiar effect upon those advanced in years, and who have not tasted the joys of married life are two twin trees, which are just far enough apart to admit the seating of one person. Col. Ball has connected the two with a seat, and the excursionists christened the spot "Bachelor's Retreat" in honor of those of the sterner sex who have concluded to "go it alone" in this "wide, wide world."

Among those who enjoyed the ride we noticed the Revs. Dr. Wadsworth, Dr. Petrie, J. B. Jones, Jefferson Falkner, and Father Manuey, and R. B. Figh of West Point, Ga. Our Fire Department was represented by Chief Engineer Kennedy and by others of the various companies. After spending two hours at the Hall and partaking of refreshments provided by the committee, the iron horse gave warning that all must be ready, and soon we were "homeward bound" arriving at the foot of Commerce street, under the skillful hand of the engineer, in just 45 minutes from the time of leaving White Hall.

Our summer recreations must be directed on the principle of economy and prudence, and too much praise cannot be awarded to Col. Ball, for providing a plan where our Sunday schools and other institutions can avail themselves without much expense, (while sweet and joyous summer is smiling over us, of the shade and shelter of the country.

Mr. Ham Metcalf, President of the Montgomery Shooting Club, who was present, selected the "Hall," for the shooting match of his club, which will take place the middle of next month. The German Rifle Clubs of the city, and Selma, will also hold a union feast, this fall upon these grounds, and as it is the most delightful spot within 30 miles of our city, for shade and cool, ing waters, we have no doubt that it will become the place of resort.

We return thanks to Messrs. Hubbard, Todd, and Fraser of the Western Railroad for many courtesies.

Those gentlemen of the Alabama Press who were appointed by the Association to escort our New York visitors through the State, held an informal meeting at the Exchange Hotel Saturday evening and passed resolutions of thanks to Mr. M. Stanton, Superintendent, and other officers of the South and North Alabama Railroad, to Mr. J. B. Peck, Superintendent, and other officers of the Selma, Rome and Dalton Road, to Col. Pollard and Superintendent C. J. Ball of the Western Railroad, to Maj. McCalla and other officers of the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad, to the Industrial Aid Association, Standard and Arlington and the citizens of Montgomery generally, Mayor and Council and citizens of Selma and in short, to all who had shown courtesies to their distinguished guests and themselves since the adjournment of the Association. Courtesies extended before the adjournment were acknowledged by resolutions of the Association as a whole.

The following letter from Mr. C. P. Atmore, General Passenger and Ticket Agent of the L. & N. and G. S. R. R., conveys to the citizens of Montgomery a very gratifying piece of intelligence: OFFICE GEN. PAS. & TICKET AGT., LOUISVILLE, KY., May 23, 1874. Dr. W. O. Baldwin, Pres. First Nat. Bank, Montgomery, Ala.

DEAR SIR:—Yours of 10th inst., covering petition of the citizens of Montgomery for mileage tickets at two cents per mile, same to be good for immediate members of families, was laid before Mr. Albert Fink, Vice President and General Superintendent, and being endorsed and recommended by Mr. M. Stanton, Superintendent S. & N. A. R. R., Mr. Fink decided to grant the request. I have therefore instructed the agent at Montgomery to sell tickets as above set forth, limiting them to passage of residence of applicant, provided it be not north of Verbenus. We will always be found willing to accede to any reasonable request whereby we can accommodate others, without injury or injustice to the company.

Very truly yours, C. P. ATMORE.

This is another evidence of the great liberality and public spirit of this magnificent line of railway. The Louisville & Great Southern is offered by men who appreciate the responsibilities of their positions, and who acknowledge and respond to the claims of the public, whenever it is possible to do so without absolute loss to the road. They are men of sagacity and wise forethought, who know that the interests of their road and those of the people are not inconsistent with each other, and that whatsoever promotes the one will in like manner promote the other also. This is also true of the large-hearted Stanton, of the South & North road—a thorough gentleman, who unites every quality calculated to achieve success or command respect. We hope that the South & North road will long be able to retain his splendid services.

The arrangement made by the road will enable the citizens of Montgomery to summer at Verbenus or other intermediate stations without prejudice to their business interests in the city. This will supply a desideratum here and go far towards making our city the favorite locality of all who desire to consult health and comfort in the matter of their business operations.

The Industrial Aid Association met at the rooms of the Association, last evening, Hon. D. Clifton presiding. After the reading of the minutes the committee on Real Estate and Immigration reported, recommending the general features of the plan of immigration proposed by Mr. C. F. Seivirs of Dallas county, which said plan has heretofore been published in full in the ADVERTISER. Mr. Seivirs who was present, then addressed the Association in explanation of his plan, after which the report of the committee was received.

J. S. Winter, Esq., then offered a resolution endorsing the general features of Mr. Seivirs' plan, and commending the same to the earnest consideration and attention of those interested, and pledging the co-operation of the Association in aid of its general objects, which was adopted.

Mr. Winter, from the delegation to the late Agricultural Congress at Atlanta, submitted a verbal report of the proceedings had in and by the said Congress, and offered the following preamble and resolutions in substance, which were adopted:

[The preamble recites the fact that the submitted resolution, in substance, was adopted by the Agricultural Congress, and requests all newspapers friendly to the movements lately made to promote improved systems of agriculture in the Cotton States, to publish the said resolution, together with the fact that it was also adopted by this Association.—Eds. ADV.]

Resolved, That while the many expedients for the relief and advancement of the farming interests of the South that have secured the attention and approbation of the National Agricultural Congress and other similar organizations, must be generally approved by the people, yet until producers shall adopt methods of agriculture looking more to the necessary diversification of crops and the cultivation of fewer and better tilled acres, the evils which have followed a different system will continue and be without any adequate remedy; that no restoration of our languishing farming interests can be expected until the means employed are better adapted to the ends to be attained, or until the farmer shall have paid due heed to the danger of relying on the cotton crop alone for the necessities of life, and that until this is done and the farmers of the South actively co-operate with this and other associations, in striving to promote the farming interests of the country, in confessedly cardinal principles of economy, all efforts in this line will be unavailing and in vain.

On motion the Chair appointed the following delegates to the Augusta Convention of Cotton Exchanges, to be held June 10th, viz: Messrs. W. T. Hatchett, J. W. Durr, D. Well, J. S. Winter, O. McIlhenny, and B. Blum. Adjourned.

The Hartford Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., was defeated in a recent suit by Mrs. Everett W. Moore, of Detroit, on a life insurance policy issued by the company upon the life of her husband for her benefit for $5,000. The defence was forfeiture of policy by the suicide of the insured, but the jury said an insane man could neither make nor break a contract, more especially if the rights of third parties innocent of any wrong were involved. Through an accumulation of troubles, the insured was deprived of his usual mental faculties, by which to judge of the act at the time he committed suicide, said the jury, who therefore sustained the claim of the widow and children of the insured.

A correspondent of the Enfaula News suggests our young friend B. H. Hart for Sheriff of Barbour county. It would be a glorious thing for old Barbour if she could get such a man for Sheriff; but as the negroes "rule the roost" in that county, such a recommendation can hardly be expected. Frank Hart is too decent a man to get any support outside the Democratic party, which is in a lamentable minority in Barbour.—Henry County Register.

[Communicated.] The Grand Parlor Concert, under the direction of Mrs. E. Jordan, which took place at the Theatre on Saturday evening last, was a complete success, not only pecuniarily, but artistically. Never before had a more elegant, intelligent and attentive audience greeted a more perfectly successful display of talent and taste. The Theatre with its ample boxes, was well filled with the beauty of our city and reminded us of the brightest days of the old French Opera of New Orleans, where, without doubt, he is admitted that no other place in America, offered an array equal in splendor to that of the congregated dark-eyed daughters of Louisiana. The overture of the first act, and the first scene of the second act, were executed in a most perfect manner by Messrs. Karsh, Hille, Huber and Meyer, as to give a foretaste of the feast in store for the true lovers of good music. As soon as the last sounds of this splendid overture died away, the beautiful duet from "Lucia di Lammermoor" arose in sweet accents. This was sung by Mrs. Butt and Dr. Muel, and received a perfect rondo of applause. The pleasant passages were rendered with a softness and beauty of expression seldom equaled by professionals, and the audience were agreeably surprised, that the amateur performers were able to do so well. The piano and violin duo, by the little boys Bennie and Leo Strassburg, was very appropriate, and as soon as the two solos performed by the young gentlemen Holbrook and Dreher, was excellent and the acting of Miss Jordan, was pleasing and delightful. There was a freedom and ease about the acting, and the performance of the two solos, that the young gentlemen Holbrook and Dreher, was excellent and the acting of Miss Jordan, was pleasing and delightful.

What shall we say to do full justice to the three parts of the evening? Mrs. Butt, Mrs. Coleman, and Miss E. Lewis? It being the first time that we ever listened to either of these ladies, we can truly say that we were more than delighted. Mrs. Butt, Mrs. Coleman, and Miss E. Lewis, were excellent and the acting of Miss Jordan, was pleasing and delightful.

AN OLD WOUND.—More than ten years ago, at the battle of Sharpsburg, Mr. F. M. Weems, of this county, was wounded by a minnie ball, striking him near the hip and razing around lodging somewhere in the small of the back. Numerous attempts have been made to find the ball, all of which have proven unsuccessful. For all these years Mr. Weems has been more or less a sufferer from this wound, sometimes comparatively, and then again confined to his bed. Of late he has suffered a great deal, and now he is said to be at the point of death—not expected to live longer than a day or two at the most.

Mr. Weems is a married man and the father of three children. P. S.—Since writing the above we have been Rev. Mr. Collins, who just from the bedside of Mr. W. and he tells us that when he left (Thursday morning) Mr. Weems was dying. In all probability the unfortunate man has breathed his last here this.—Henry County Register.

Reported by the Associated Press for the Montgomery Daily Advertiser.

WASHINGTON, May 25.

Senate.—Mr. Scott called up the bill supplementary to the act to incorporate the Texas Pacific Railroad. He stated that the bill was designed to enable the company to execute a mortgage upon the portions of its road already completed.

Mr. Edmunds moved an amendment, that nothing in this act shall be construed to have the effect to entitle said corporation to any other or further rights to public lands, or in any other respects as entitled to aid from the United States, than such as it is now entitled to by law; which was agreed to and the bill passed.

The conference report on the appropriation bill was adopted. The deficiency appropriation bill was taken up. Among the amendments was one for a Surveyor General of Louisiana, and one for clerks' fees. On account of the obsequies of Representative Mellish, the Senate adjourned.

Stewart introduced a joint resolution proposing the following as an amendment to the Constitution, Article sixteen: If any State shall fail to maintain a common school system under which all persons, between the ages of 5 and 8 years, not incapacitated for the same, shall receive free of charge such elementary education as Congress may prescribe, the Congress shall have the power to establish therein such a system, and cause the same to be maintained at the expense of such State. Referred to Judiciary Committee.

House.—The following bills were introduced: Confirming preemption and homestead rights in Alabama.

By Mr. Sheldon.—To refund the cotton tax.

By Mr. Crossland, of Kentucky.—To revise the act of 1864, providing for the payment to loyal owners for negroes drafted or mustered into the army of the United States. It proposes the appointment of a commission to investigate all such claims, and to allow in each case the sum of $800, as provided in said act; which was submitted.

By Mr. Harris, of Virginia.—To restore to the pension rolls the names of pensioners of the Mexican war, stricken therefrom for disloyalty.

Motions to suspend the rules and take up the supplementary Civil Rights bill, and the currency bill, were defeated, two-thirds not voting in the affirmative. The vote on the Civil Rights bill was 153 to 84—not two-thirds. The following Republicans voted with the Democrats: Bromberg, of Alabama, Butler, of Tennessee, Lowndes and Snor, of Virginia, Straits, of Minnesota, J. Ambler Smith, of Virginia, W. A. Smith, of North Carolina, Thomas, of Virginia, and Thornberg, of Tennessee.

The defeat of the supplementary Civil Rights bill in the House to-day is not a finality. The Senate bill is not to be got at except under a suspension of the rules by a two-thirds vote, and that, as shown by the action of the House to-day, cannot be secured; but the Judiciary Committee, under its leave to report at any time, can report a bill which is a perfect copy of the Senate bill, and this can be passed by a simple majority and sent over to the Senate, and there acted on. In that way the supplementary Civil Rights bill may be gotten at, and within a very brief space find itself in the President's hands.

The amendatory tariff and internal revenue bill was reported in the House to-day. It contains the following clause: "Any farmer or planter may sell, at his own growth or retail, tobacco of his own growth at retail directly to the consumer, to an amount not exceeding $100 annually."

Croxton, Minister to Bolivia, died at Lapase.

Butler championed the Civil Rights bill in the House to-day.

The bill reported to the House to-day to refund the cotton tax, was agreed upon at a recent caucus of representatives from the cotton States. It provides for a commission of three persons to be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to adjudicate the cases which may be presented. The tax money's are to be refunded to the parties who actually sustained the burden of the tax, or their legal representatives, and the judgment or award is to be based on the established principles of equity, as held in the highest courts of chancery in this country in title cases. Bonds of $500 and $1,000 are to be issued, payable at the end of forty years, in gold, from date of judgments bearing interest at 4 per cent. per annum, and to be called cotton bonds. It is not expected that the bill will be acted on during the present session.

Probabilities.—For the South Atlantic and Gulf States, partly cloudy and warm weather, with light to fresh variable winds, and no decided change in the barometer.

New York, May 25.

Three hundred stages have stopped. The stormy weather makes the strike disagreeable.

The investigation conducted in secret, by a committee of the Board of Education of Brooklyn, on the subject of mixed classes in schools, has revealed some startling facts, which fully justify the policy of conducting the investigation in private. What has been developed will make necessary an examination of every school teacher in the city.

A grand reception will be tendered Hon. Rochefort on his arrival Friday evening, by the French societies.
